

otion while Aldermen donald were against uly today wired the sey and it is believed a doubt accept it for 15 years chief of re department and is ess every qualification successful head of the new rules and regula-in his report by Al-ay some radical way the department will take place. The have far greater au-under the old regime and penalties for in-the rules and will be to hire and discharge chief will also be resh his own estimates maintenance. Salaries ced a trifle, the chief near formerly received but after the new fect they will be paid second and third es-tains will receive $20 the stokers $175, the ting a saving of some-0 a year.

es and regulations have printed on heavy card-be posted in both fir-

ARRIVALS.

tel.—Daniel J. Johnson,
C. Leak, city J. H. H. n; C. Gilbert, Seattle.
S. Cameron, Hunter
an, Hunker, Malhotra Gold; J. P. Smith.

ges Preferred
Daily Nugget.
arch 25.—Barrister C. has preferred charges
ment officials at Atlin the sale of property in nt. The legislature is

DU!

trons for their to assure them
the past, we will s that will defy and give all our derived there-ar patrons give the truthfulness are not in the
with us when it

K. Grocery
ask to King.
EXT TO POST OFFICE

Gents' Shoes
an Doctor Bills. Do with Shoes and Rubbers

Company

IG!

About the RY

Latest New glige Shirts shoes. Every pany

ANY SUITS ARE FILED

Special to the Daily Nugget.
New York, March 26.—Suits aggregating eight hundred dollars are now filed against the New York Central Railway Co. for damages in consequence of a tunnel horror. The largest claim is that of Walter C. New Rochelle, who asks for ten thousand for injuries to his son.

Damages to Life and Limb in Tunnel Horror—Claims Aggregate $1,800,000.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
New York, March 26.—Suits aggregating eight hundred dollars are now filed against the New York Central Railway Co. for damages in consequence of a tunnel horror. The largest claim is that of Walter C. New Rochelle, who asks for ten thousand for injuries to his son.

Capital Superintendent

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Ont., March 26.—Miss E. M. Stone of Philadelphia has been appointed superintendent of the hospital at this city.

Divorce Granted

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—Harvey S. [Name] has been granted a divorce from [Name] Dale, who confessed to adultery.

Signature Prorogued

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

To Float Bristol

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 25.—A syndicate has been formed here to float the [Name] [Name].

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

Assay Office

Special to the Daily Nugget.
March 26.—The Nova Scotia legislature was prorogued today.

collier Bristol, which ran on the rocks in Chatham sound, Dixon Entrance. The vessel lies in four fathoms of water.

Condor's Fate Settled
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Victoria, March 26.—A white board with the name "Altavela," and a piece of a ship's boat marked "Nanies," a large new gang-plank and life buoy marked "H. M. S. Condor," were washed ashore six miles from Skidegate, on Queen Charlotte Sound. The news came to Consul Smith from Russ Skidegate, with a bottle that had admitted water and thereby ruined the message apparently from the Cardigan-shire.

Shameful Conditions
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Quebec, March 26.—Quebec is threatened with a recurrence of the smallpox outbreak, there being now several hundred cases. Placarding has been discontinued. Patients unable to pay hospital dues are allowed to run loose, spreading the plague.

Bullock Hanged
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Fort Saskatchewan, March 26.—C. G. Bullock was hanged here this morning for the murder of Leon Stainton last April. Bullock maintained his innocence to the last.

After Dunsmuir
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Victoria, March 26.—Justice Walker has been appointed a commissioner to investigate Premier Dunsmuir's private relations with railroad promoters.

Homeward Bound
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Constantinople, March 26.—Miss Ellen M. Stone sailed for America today.

FOR SALE.
South End Cafe, doing a good business; best location in South Dawson; will give lease on building

REOPENED HOLBORN CAFE
R. L. HALL, PROPRIETOR
Business Lunch 11:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.
Dinner 4:30 to 9:00 p. m.
—OPEN ALL NIGHT—
FIRST AVENUE. Next J. P. McLennan's

Northern Re-Opened!
Quick lunch, 11 a. m. to 2 p. m., 75c.
Dinner, a la carte, 5 to 8 p. m.
WE NEVER CLOSE
Cafe

REOPENED "The Delmonico of the North"
Eagle Cafe
FIRST AVENUE
Thomas J. Bruce, Proprietor

At AVERY'S,
5th Ave. cor. Dugas St.

SHOFF'S BLOOD AND LIVER BITTERS
Increases Appetite. Makes Good. Red Blood and Will Make You Feel Young Again.
PIONEER DRUG STORE

PUMPS!
Outside Packed Duplex Northey Pumps from 1 1/2 to 3 Inch Discharge.
Upright Waterous Engines Center Crank
Steam Hose, Pipe, Fittings and Everything the Miner Needs.

McLennan, McFeely & Co., Ltd.

Cecil Rhodes at the Siege of Kimberley.

CECIL RHODES DIED TODAY

The Great Empire Builder of South Africa Passes Away Peacefully in Johannesburg—Career of One of England's Most Eminent Statesmen.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Johannesburg, March 26.—Cecil Rhodes died this afternoon at 5:57. His death came peacefully and without apparent pain.

He slept during the afternoon but gradually his breathing became more difficult and his strength gradually diminished until he finally passed away.

The beginning of the end came yesterday afternoon when Rhodes experienced a bad heart attack. At midnight he was very low and although he rallied early in the morning and took some nourishment it was evident that the end was but little removed.

His death finally came in a peaceful sleep.

Cecil Rhodes, the great empire builder of South Africa, was born in Hertfordshire, England, in 1853, and consequently had not passed his 50th birthday.

He went to South Africa in early life mainly on account of ill health. He amassed an immense fortune in the Kimberley diamond mines and immediately began exerting a great influence in South African affairs. He became a member of the Cape ministry in 1884, and in 1890 was elevated to the position of prime minister. He was a heavy stock holder in the British South African Company of which he was chairman. In 1896 he resigned the premiership and also his position of chairman of the company, both resignations being the result of Rhodes' supposed connection with the famous Jameson raid.

He was a prime mover in obtaining mining rights in Matabeleland and also in Mashaland and generally in extending British rights in South Africa.

When the Boer war broke out Rhodes went to Kimberley and remained there during the famous siege of that town.

He personally directed the firing of "Long Cecil," the chief piece of artillery upon which the town relied for defense, and the shells fired at never breaking from a walk, the cynosure of all eyes, yet severely unobservant of hundreds of London's political and social leaders who had the right to bowing acquaintanceship.

More especially did Rhodes shun the present government leaders. He bitterly expressed his contempt for British army methods in South Africa and probably never forgave Chamberlain and Milner for not consulting him or endeavoring to utilize the powerful financial political magazine which Rhodes undoubtedly manipulated over the whole of South Africa.

With increasing irascibility which he did not hesitate to vent on duke or plebeian who crossed his path, he grew more and more restless as the end of his life drew near. He was never contented to stay long in one place. His closing days devolved into an unceasing, purposeless quest of change of scene. During his recent trip to Egypt this was particularly noticeable. He rushed from place to place as if with the only object of upsetting his own plans. Then suddenly he returned to England. Financially, Rhodes' death is not likely to have far reaching results, as all his enterprises were systemized so thoroughly as not to need a master mind so necessary to their inception. Thanks to his great success Debeers Mines, the British Chartered South African Co., and other great South African ventures, the Rhodes fortune has been steadily accumulating. He lost money over the war, but what inroads that made must have been trifling compared with the many millions he possessed. He never lost by openhanded or reckless methods of handling money. Not long ago he walked into the office of one of his confidential subordinates and throwing down a bundle of notes, bonds, etc., said:—"Invest these for me," and went out without waiting to have them looked at. Inspection revealed that they amounted to over one million pounds sterling. How they were invested Rhodes never knew or cared, as that night he went off on one of his wandering tours and refused to allow himself to be bothered with details until he returned to England.

The news of Rhodes' death reached London too late to excite comment either on the Stock Exchange or in this afternoon's papers. A bulletin announcing his death was sent from Capetown at 6:35 p. m. and reached the newspaper offices just as the final editions were going to press. Throgmorton street was deserted when the news arrived, so there was not even a flutter in the streets. The "Tickers" soon disseminated the news in clubs and hotels, where it formed the main topic of conversation.

Many Cholera Cases
Special to the Daily Nugget.
New York, March 26.—A cable says the official bulletin on cholera conditions at Mecca and Medina admits 1196 cases.

To Conquer England
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Toronto, March 26.—The Toronto Lacrosse Club has started on an English tour.

Sad Accident
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Seattle, March 26.—Frank Huntley, a veteran of Santiago and a member of the crew of the battleship Oregon, was accidentally killed here yesterday while showing a party of lady visitors through the ship.

Father's Birthday
Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, March 26.—Queen Alexandra has gone to Copenhagen in honor of the birthday of her father, King Christian.

Water Plentiful
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Charter, Man., March 26.—This place is seriously threatened with inundation.

All kinds of game at Bonanza Market, next Post Office.

MORE BOERS CAPTURED

But Old Delary Was Again Too Foxy.

Night March of Combined Force Made Without Arms—Result Not Known.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, March 26.—Incomplete reports of the result of the combined movement of the British columns against Delarey have enabled Kitchener to announce the capture of one hundred prisoners, three fifteen-pounders, two pompons and a quantity of stock, wagons, etc. Delarey successfully evaded Kitchener's cordon at the outset. In a despatch from Pretoria yesterday Kitchener says: "At dusk of the evening of March 23rd, a combined movement against Delarey was undertaken by columns of mounted men without guns or impediments. The columns started from Commando Drift, Vaal river, and traveled rapidly all night and at dawn of March 24th occupied positions along the line from Commando Drift to Lichtenburg block-house line with the object of driving the enemy against the blockhouses or forcing action. The result is not yet fully reported. Kekewich's column, after commencement of action, captured three 15-pounders, two pompons, nine prisoners and one hundred mules with carts and wagons. Kitchener's column captured eighty-nine prisoners, forty-five carts and wagons and a thousand cattle. The troops covered 80 miles in 24 hours. The total number of prisoners is 135."

LOVER WAS SUSPICIOUS

He Thought His Sweet Heart a Thief

Killed Her and Himself Which Was More Kind Than to Have Married Her.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, March 26.—A pathetic tragedy was disclosed in the coroner's court today at Colwyn Bay, near London. Last Monday David Richards missed a small cash box belonging to the shop of which he was manager. He asked his sweetheart, Lillian Keay, who was alone with him in the place, to return it, thinking she had hidden it in a jest. She denied seeing it and Richards shot her and himself dead, believing the woman he loved was disloyal and a thief. At the coroner's inquest Richards' employer produced the box and contents, having found it where Richards had put it away.

A Live Count
Special to the Daily Nugget.
Seattle, March 26.—Count Matsukata, ex-premier of Japan and senior advisor of the emperor is in Seattle on a trip around the world, studying economic conditions. He goes east tomorrow.

Ex-Pres. Cleveland's Health is Better.
And so would be the health of all who eat the cheap groceries so extensively advertised if they used the best, such as are sold by F. S. Dunham, The Family Grocer, corner 2nd avenue and Albert street.