TURNING THE TABLES

"I presume, my good fellow, you are a laborer?" said a lawyer to a plainly dressed witness. "You are right; I am a workman sir," replied the witness, who was a civil engineer. "Familiar with the use of the pick, shovel and spade, I presume?" "To some extent. Those are not the principal implements of my trade, though." "Perhaps you will condescend to enlighten me as to your principal implements." "It is hardly worth while. You don't understand their nature or use." "Probably not," loftily, "but I insist on knowing what they are." "Brains."

NOVA SCOTIA POTATOES GOING TO HAVANA

Capt. Henry H. Card of Centerville Burlington was in town yesterday. Capt. Card of the schooner "Jost" has his vessel at Port Williams loading her with 12,000 bushels of potatoes for Havana. WOMEN AND THE WAR

A booklet issued by the imperial munitions board of Canada deals with the work done by women in the munition plants of Canada. Almost every occupation in connection with the production of munitions is successfully carried on by women, and the photographs with which the booklet is profusely illustrated drive home the lesson of the text, that female labor will ultimately, if the war demands it, almost supplant the male in this work.

Not is the making of munitions alone, however, are women likely to get an opportunity to enter the industrial and commercial life of our country before the bells ring for peace. The census shortly to be taken by the National Commission will reveal many instances in which the work now being done by men might effectually be carried on by women and steps will no doubt be made to effect the change if circumstances make it necessary. The freeing of every possible man is the aim of the country at the present time.

It is not likely that this employment of women will materially affect trade or labor conditions after the war. The country is working under a tremendous strain at the present time and incited by that nervous tension, everyone is endeavoring in some form or other to do their bit. When the return to old conditions takes place, we shall be likely to find that, despite the tremendous events through which we have passed, both we and the world are little changed. Women will be prettily much the same creature she has been through all time and the same will be true of man. Neither is likely to usurp the privileges of the other though both may learn to work together more harmoniously.—Ex.

TRURO RECEIVES RETURNED HERO

The Truro News in reciting a message given to Corp. E. R. Mills, says, in part. "He has borne his wounds with patience. Though disabled from active military service, he will doubtless be heard from later, in his chosen calling, from the pulpits of the great Baptist denomination of the Maritime Provinces.

"This returned hero, a hero right from the battle front, has lost the sight of one eye, and bears on his body 26 wounds. We hope for his further convalescence—for his further improvement in health. He is too good and brave a lad not to recover entirely his usual state of health."

DIGBY MURDERER ESCAPES GALLOWS

Digby, Dec. 4—Digby has fortunately escaped another hanging affair. Late this afternoon Sheriff Smith received a despatch from the Under-Secretary of State, Ottawa, in forming him that the death sentence of Charles Robart had been commuted to life imprisonment, in the penitentiary at Dorchester, N. B.

Robart was a fireman on the steamer Prince Arthur, running between Boston and Yarmouth, and on Saturday, August 12th, came to Digby, hired an auto, drove to Westville, a village two miles distant, found his wife at the home of Luke Francis, murdered her with a revolver and returned to Digby in the same auto, giving himself up to Chief of Police Peck, and confessing the whole affair. He was tried in the Supreme Court at Clare in September, and sentenced to be hanged in Digby, December 6.

Recruiting figures have fallen off in this province. And this at a time when our own boys at the front are crying out for help. Commenting on the need for more men, the British Review says:

"Unless Britain can maintain for another two years or thereabouts an uninterrupted flow of man power to the western and southern fronts our valiant neighbor across the silver streak will find it humanly impossible to maintain the struggle which has in the last two terrible years involved the depletion of the flower of her manhood. This was whispered many months past; now it is being openly discussed wherever thinking men get together, whether in dugout facing the unspeakable Hun or snatching a few hours' leave in the bosom of their families. 'Men; more men,' England must send more soldiers, are the common expressions of opinion in the fair land where already so many of our khaki-clad heroes sleep."

ONLY THREE COURSE MEALS

London, December 5—The Board of Trade, under the Defence of the Realm Act, has issued an order to the effect that after December 18 no meal exceeding three courses, between 6 p.m. and 9.30 p.m., or two courses at any other time, may be served in any hotel, restaurant or public place.

The announcement adds that it is proposed to issue another order at an early date, forbidding, both in public places and private houses, the consumption on certain days of meat, poultry and game.

BE BROKEN UP

(The Morning Chronicle)

Cables have been received in Halifax that Nova Scotians in England are greatly disappointed over the announcement which comes from the training camp at Witley that the Highland Brigade may be broken up, and not go to front as a unit. According to these cables the report has reached London that the Brigade has been called upon to furnish reinforcements of 25 per cent of the strength of the Brigade, or one battalion, to make up wastages in the Divisions at the front. The intention is that more drafts are to be made immediately. This would eventually mean the breaking up of the Brigade and the transfer of the Nova Scotia Highlanders to other Canadian battalions thus destroying the identity of the Nova Scotia units.

The officers hope that arrangements will yet be made to carry out the pledge given to Nova Scotia at the time of the brigades organization and they trust that Nova Scotia will back them up in their desire to go to the fighting line as a Nova Scotian unit. Nova Scotians trusted that the Highland Brigade would be given this opportunity, for, at present, out of the 30,000 Nova Scotians who are overseas, we are represented at the front by only one battalion of infantry, and two field batteries, and the Nova Scotian Battalion in the field is now composed largely of men from battalions organized in other Provinces. The men, sent from this Province, in other battalions have been largely drafted into units from other sections of Canada.

LONDON, DEC. 5 (Montreal Gazette Cable)

—There is keen disappointment expressed regarding the inroads made in the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade by a draft of 800 men sent to reinforce the Highland battalions at the front. Officers of the Brigade state that definite promises were given during the recruiting of the Brigade that it would serve at the front as a unit.

Lieut. Murray, son of the Premier of Nova Scotia, who was wounded and awarded the Military Cross, will shortly leave for home.

GERMAN ATTACK AGAINST FRENCH FAILED

Paris, December 5—The bulletin issued by the War Office tonight reads. "A minor German attack, directed this morning against our positions north of the village of Vaux, completely failed under the fire of four machine guns. We took some prisoners. In the course of the day there was moderate artillery activity at various points along the front." Belgian communication: "Artillery fighting took place at various points on the Belgian front, especially in the sectors of Ramsappelle-Dixmude and Steenstraete. North of Dixmude we took under our fire enemy groups."

QUEEN ALEXANDRA 72 YEARS OLD

London, Dec. 1—Queen Alexandra, whose popularity with the English people has never waned, reached her seventy-second birthday anniversary today, having been born at Copenhagen, Dec. 1, 1844. During the day Her Majesty received many presents and messages of greeting from members of the Royal family and a large circle of friends. Officially the anniversary was observed with the customary salutes.

Queen Alexander has been very constantly in town since the beginning of the war, and has never left Marlborough House for the past two years, with the exception of a short stay at Sandringham. Like the King and Queen, her Majesty seldom lets a day pass without gracing by her presence some entertainment or exhibition organized in aid of one of the war charities.
