

tory; in 1883, Asst. Prof. of History; in 1886, Prof. of History; and, in 1887, McLean Prof. of Ancient and Mod. History, the chair he still fills. Dr. M. is also a Fellow of the Am. Acad. He is a mem. of the Bapt. Ch., and m. in early life a dau. of the late Nathan De Mille, of St. John, N.B., and sister of the late Prof. De Mille, Dalhousie Univ.—Cambridge, Mass., U.S.

MACVICAR, Rev. Donald Harvey (Presb.), educationist, is the s. of John MacVicar, and was b. at Dungle, near Campbelltown, Argyleshire, Scot., Nov. 29, 1831. Accompanying his parents to Can. when 4 yrs. of age, he was ed. first by private tutor and afterwards at Toronto Acad. He was also a partial student at the Univ. of Toronto. He studied Theol. at Knox Coll., graduating 1859. Ordained, 1857, he performed his first mission work at Collingwood, and after declining calls to B. C., to Brantford, to Collingwood and to West Toronto, accepted a unanimous call to Knox Ch., Guelph. Here his talents as a preacher won him a call, in 1860, to Côté St. Ch., Montreal, to be the successor of the Rev. Donald Fraser, D.D., afterwards of London, Eng. After 8 yrs. of successful labour, during which the congregation doubled its membership, Mr. MacV. was apptd. by the Genl. Assembly, Principal of, and Prof. of Divinity in, the Presb. Coll., Montreal. This institution was then in its feeblest beginnings, with no endowment, no books, no building, and only 5 or 6 students. Now it possesses a handsome building, a valuable library, an endowment fund, and an efficient staff of professors and lecturers, the attendance keeping pace therewith. Always taking a deep interest in the work of French-Can. evangel, he organized a dept. in the coll. for the training of French-Can. ministers. He served for many yrs. as a Prot. Sch. Comnr., becoming Presdt. of the Bd., 1879. In 1881 he was chosen Moderator of the Genl. Assembly of the Presb. Ch. in Can.

Dr. MacV. has lectured on Logic and Ethics before the Ladies' Educational Assn., Montreal, and he was also, for a season, a lecturer on Logic in McGill Univ. He attended the Pan-Presb. Councils at Edinburgh, Philadelphia and Glasgow, respectively, taking part in the discussions therein. He has been Presdt. of the Provl. Teachers' Assn., P.Q., has received the hon. degree of LL.D. from McGill Univ. (1870), and that of D.D. from Knox Coll. (1883). He is also a Fellow of McGill Univ., V.-P. of the Lord's Day Alliance, and an hon. mem. of the Athénée Oriental of Paris. In addition to a primary and an advanced arithmetic, both of which have become text-books in the public schs., he is the author of "The Office and Work of Elders," a work which has reached a 2nd ed.; of papers on "Romanism in Canada"; of a paper on "The Catholicity of Presbyterianism," and of lectures on "Inspiration," "Miracles," "The Constitution of the Church," "The Sabbath Law," "Modern Scepticism," "Moral Culture," "The Teacher in his Study and Classroom," and "Hindrances and Helps to Presbyterianism." Not long since he declined a call to South Ch., Brooklyn, N.Y., at a salary of $7000 per annum. In 1893, on the completion of 25 years' service in the Presb. Coll., he was presented by citizens and students alike, with a congratulatory address accompanied with a purse of $4000. He m. May, 1860, Eleanor, dau. of Robt. Goudry.—Presbyterian Coll., Montreal.

Well read in Theol., in Psychol., in Math., and in Nat. Science: equally at home in the professor's chair, in the pulpit, on the platform, and in the Ch. cts.; equally ready and effective with voice and pen, Principal MacV. may be described as an all-round man. He has his specialties in work and study, but he is one of the favoured few who can do many kinds of work and do them all well.—Week.

MACWATT, Daniel Fraser, barrister, is the s. of Chas. Macwatt, M.A., prop. of the Nairnshire Mirror, by Mary Ann Fraser, his wife. B. in Nairn, Scot., he was ed. at the Acad.