

(b) as regards personal property, deduct from the amount or value thereof owned at the date of application the sum of one thousand dollars in the case of an unmarried recipient and the sum of two thousand dollars in the case of a married recipient living with his spouse (or such amount less than one thousand dollars or two thousand dollars, respectively, as may be provided by a province in its agreement under section 3 of the Act) and consider as income during the period that the recipient is or may be entitled to receive assistance an amount calculated as follows:

- (i) in the case of an unmarried recipient, divide the remaining balance on a monthly basis over the period between the date of the proposed commencement of assistance and the date on which the recipient attains the age of seventy years;
- (ii) in the case of a married recipient living with his spouse, divide the remaining balance on a monthly basis over the period between the proposed commencement of assistance and the date on which the younger of the two spouses attains the age of seventy years, or over a period of sixty months, whichever is the lesser period;
- (iii) where additional personal property is acquired after the date of application, there shall be deemed to be additional income therefrom from the date of such acquisition an amount to be arrived at by dividing the value thereof on a monthly basis over the period between the date of acquisition and, in the case of an unmarried recipient, the date on which he attains the age of seventy years, and in the case of a married recipient living with his spouse, the date on which the younger of the two spouses attains the age of seventy years, or over a period of sixty months, whichever is the lesser period;
- (iv) in the case of a married recipient living with his spouse where his spouse is or becomes a recipient at any time before he ceases to be eligible for assistance as provided in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section 3 of the Act, income determined under the foregoing subparagraphs shall not be redetermined by reason only of such ineligibility, but where his spouse becomes a recipient after he has so ceased to be eligible, income under this subsection shall be redetermined as provided in the foregoing subparagraphs.

12. Where board and lodging or board or lodging is provided free to a recipient or for a nominal amount, the provincial authority shall consider as income of the recipient, and in the case of a recipient who is married and living with his spouse, of the recipient and his spouse, an amount that, in its opinion, is a fair and reasonable charge therefor, but which shall, in no case, be less than the amounts respectively hereinafter set forth—

	Unmarried recipient	Married recipient
Lodging	$10.00 monthly	$15.00 monthly
Board	20.00 monthly	30.00 monthly
Board and Lodging	30.00 monthly	45.00 monthly

Transfer of Property

13. (1) Where a recipient or his spouse has, within the five years preceding the date of application or subsequent to such date, made an assignment or transfer of real or personal property, such recipient shall furnish to the provincial authority full particulars concerning such assignment or transfer.
