MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

She has been restored to perfect health.

She writes: "About seven months ago I was badly run down in health and became very weak. I was troubled with fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. When lying down at night I was almost afraid to go to sleep for fear I would never wake up. When I awoke in the morning I would feel a little better, but as soon as I started to work my heart would start fluttering, my head would become dizzy, faint weak spells would come over me and it seemed as if black objects were floating before my eyes. I was growing worse every day until I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. When the box was half gone I could feel that they had done me good and by the time it was finished I was in excellent health and would advise all sufferers from heart and nerve troubles to try them."

SELECTIONS

SUGGESTIVE EMBLEMS.

Caged Birds and Spiders Seeking Flies on Marriage Licenses.

The marriage license blanks printed and issued under the authority of the state of Maryland contain emblems which furnish cynics of both sexes with material for comment. These blanks are in three sections, each surrounded with an ornamental printed border. The first section is the authority for the clergyman to perform the marriage and is retained by him. The other two sections are the clergyman's certificates of the marriage, one being given to the contracting parties and the other being returned by the clergyman to the office which issued the license.

The emblems referred to are used to embellish the borders on the certificates of the marriage. Four birds or insects are depicted on each certificate to be given to the contracting parties. Various inferences may be drawn from the fact that two of the birds are free and happy, flying about a twig, while each of the other two is on a perch, moping in a cage. One of the cages is at the top of the border and the other at the bottom, with the free birds in the intervening space.

Even more suggestive is the ornamentation on the border of the certificate which the clergyman is to return to the clerk's office. This is a representation of a spider in its web, in which an unfortunate fly has been entangled. The hungry spider is portrayed as about to hasten to clutch the unhappy victim. No motto accompanies either ornamentation.

It is said that the emblems referred to have only been used since Governor Smith has been in office. Prior to that time a border was the only embellishment of marriage licenses.—Baltimore

What We Are Worth.

If Pierpont Morgan owned the world instead of only a part of it he would be worth about $400,000,000,000. If he owned the United States his wealth would amount to about $94,300,000,000.
The United States has the greatest total wealth and the smallest debt of any of the world's great powers, but on a per capita basis Great Britain is the richest. While the property and money of that mighty nation amount to only $59,000,000,000 as against our $94,300,000,000, its wealth amounts to $1,442 per person, while in the United States the wealth amounts to only $1,235 per capita. The second richest nation in Europe is France, which has wealth aggregating $48,000,000,000, or $1,237 per capita. Germany's wealth amounts up $40,000,000,000, or $709 per capita. In addition she has $300,000, 000 lent or invested abroad. Russia, with its immense territory and population, has wealth amounting to only $32,000,000,000.—Nashville American.

Candy For the Soldiers.

Subsistence supplied to American soldiers and sailors is superior in quality, quantity and variety to that issued by any other nation in the world. The ration includes fresh meat of different kinds, together with poultry on holidays, fresh vegetables, butter of the best grade obtainable and the better varieties of canned goods, besides nuts, fruit, tea, coffee and milk. It is related that a European officer who was in Manila when a consignment of many tons of candy arrived for the United States troops in the Philippines thought the American officers were joking when they explained the purpose for which the confectionery was intended. When he was finally convinced he remarked, with a sigh: "Wonderful! You Americans are rich and can afford it. We Europeans are poor and cannot."

Some Indian Names.

Is it any wonder the interior department has started in to rename those Indians whose names are "uncouth"?
Here are a few Chickasaw and Choctaw names taken from the rolls of the Ugly Bogle, Cora Tuggle, Indian Territory Spears, Chick and Chow (twins), Okla and Homa Hate Fobb, Mealy Tecumseh, Lilly Wolf, Lying Hampton, Sweet Magnolia Brown, Sweetann Cole,

Flooding a Mine.

Sea water was used recently to extinguish a burning colliery of the Dominion Coal company in Nova Scotia.
Through a sluice cut from a dam on the shore of the ocean sea water was poured in at the rate of 3,500,000 gallons an hour. To flood the mine 450, 000,000 gallons of water was needed and six days' time was required.

Why Britain Lags.

If we are lagging behind in the commercial race it does not follow that Mr. Burrell is right in attributing our slowness to "too much education." The nations which are beating us in the race are those whose sons are better educated than ours—the German and the American.—London Hospital.

Dyspepsia—Hamilton Lady Proves That Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will Cure it.

Aside from its discomforts you can't afford to have Dyspepsia. You can't work right unless you feel right, and you can't feel right if you have Dyspepsia.

With that dreary, despondent feeling that every Dyspeptic knows work loses all its pleasure. You long for the dinner bell, because it makes the end of the morning, but you dread the dinner bell because it means more eating and consequently more suffering.

But there is a way of escape. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the way. Thousands who have tried will tell you that. Juliana Sandburg, of 221 John street, North Hamilton, tells you.
Hear what she says:

"For over six years I was troubled with Dyspepsia and Headaches. Nothing I ate would agree with me. I tried several medicines, but could get nothing to help me until I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"Almost at once they gave me relief, and before I had finished one box, I was cured."

You can't find a Dyspeptic who has

BIG FIRE AT PEKIN.

Board of Revenue Building Destroyed.

Pekin, June 9.—To-day the Board of Revenue buildings, which contained four million taels, were totally destroyed by fire, and the soldiers demolished the Board of Rites building to prevent a further spread of the flames to the foreign section. No estimate of the loss is obtainable at present.

ATTACKED BY A CONVICT.

Keeper Kenny of Kingston Penitentiary Wounded in the Neck.

Kingston, June 9.—To-day a convict, whose name the warden will not give, attacked keeper William Kenny of the binder twine factory at the penitentiary and made a bad wound with a knife in the keeper's neck. The convict was overpowered, and put in the cells. Kenny's injury is not likely to prove serious.

SMITH BABY'S DEATH.

Result of the Inquest at Dutton—Arrests May Follow.

St. Thomas, June 10.—On May 10 last the three days' old child of Adella Smith, who lived with her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Foster of Dunwich, died under such circumstances that Dr. McGregor informed the authorities, and an inquest was commenced before Dr. Long, Coroner, at Dutton. After three sessions, the following verdict was returned last night: "That the babe came to its death by unnatural causes, unknown to the jury." Detective Murray attended yesterday's session of the inquest, and it is expected, arrests will be made.

Curious Facts About Shad.

In Canadian rivers the schools of shad come in from the sea about the middle of May, says Prof. Prince, the Canadian Commissioner of Customs, and continue during June; but in the United States rivers they are often very much earlier. Dr. Por-ley speaks of them as appearing in January at Charleston, N.C., on the east of New York they come inshore in March and early April, and at Boston in the latter part of April. An old Massachusetts fisherman, in 1881, when he was nearly 90 years of age, stated that about April 1, the shad in millions ascended the Atlantic coast rivers, and continued during April and May. He added the statement—a very remarkable one, which exact scientific observations have confirmed, that the first schools coming in in early spring, were males, no females ever accompanying them. The females follow eight or ten days later, and the later schools are larger female fish with enlarged roes containing eggs in a more advanced condition.
In such a river as the St. John, New Brunswick, they ascend 50 or 60 miles up the main channel and turn up the tributaries on both sides.
They frequently wander over the fields submerged during the spring freshets, and deposit immense quantities of spawn of which much is inevitably lost when the water resides. The choice of spawning grounds appears to be most erratic, as tributaries, which present every apparent favorable feature are passed by, and others uniformly chosen which possess no superior advantage, so far as can be judged. Some fishermen assert the same erratic choice in the selection of the spawning sites in the rivers frequented by the shad. Thus one fisherman quoted in The American Angler, July, 1897, declared that on the eastern side of the Delaware River, at Marcus Hook and Tinicum, he always caught fine, large shad, that were full of solid roe, while directly opposite on the western side, the shad were not in such fine condition, and seemed to be in a spawning state; that is, the spawn of the female and the milk of the male oozed constantly from the fish.

A Successful Trapper.

It would appear that the name of the king of local trappers is Thomas Henderson, who lives in Onondaga and operates on Pigeon Creek. We have it on good authority that in less than three weeks this spring he trapped 406 muskrats, 8 mink, and 3 raccoons. In addition to this fine catch he secured 86 mink between fall and spring. He sold the muskrats at $3 apiece, the raccoon at $1.25, and the rats at 25c. each, making a total of $277.49 for his catch. In this connection it would be interesting to know the total value of the small fur secured in this county every year—it must amount to a very considerable sum. That there is need of better protection every trapper is ready to admit. Take muskrats, for instance, it is an open secret that kittens are slaughtered in the fall, when only 5c. or 6c. can be obtained for the pelts. The fishery overseers should be empowered to act as game wardens.—Onondaga Post.

LATE SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

M.A.P. Voices London the Great's Regret at His Falling Out.

Many in London felt a twinge of keen regret the other day when the news came that Sir Oliver Mowat, after a long and sturdy struggle with the grim enemy, had fallen out at last. The peculiar and searching eloquence of the little Ontario lawyer had often graced important gatherings and functions in London, and there is a general and deep sorrow for his loss among those who were privileged to make his acquaintance on this side of the Atlantic. He had dropped in his harness at his eighty-third milestone, although this is no extraordinary feat for a Canadian.
Dwellers in the great Prairieland seem to have a knack of sticking to hard work till they are eighty or so, and then retiring for a well-earned rest from their labors. Some hold on longer, as for example the gay and lively Lord Strathcona, now going on for eighty-four, who still attends to the business of his various bank and railway directorates, and the Canadian High Commissioner-ship, and may be expected to knock off for a holiday in five years' time or thereabouts.

Sir Oliver Mowat's public career began long before the federation of the Canadian provinces, and he was thus familiar with the various courts of the succeeding Governors-General —Monck, Lisgar, Dufferin, Lorne, Lansdowne, Stanley of Preston, Aberdein, and Minto. An interesting period it has been since 1867 in the history of Canada, and the Vice-regal sojourners in the Dominion have enjoyed the life as well as the Canadians themselves. Things are more prim about Rideau Hall now perhaps than they were thirty years ago, when there was much freedom and fun at official headquarters. The Marchioness of Dufferin tells a story of 1873: "Two men dined with us; one, the Speaker of the Legislature in Manitoba, who has lately been tarred and feathered by the people, and who came to relate his experiences of that operation."

The gifted Marchioness shared to the full her husband's popularity in Canada, and her homeliness won the hearts of everybody. A baby girl came to Rideau Hall in 1873, and as the Queen volunteered for godmother, the new-born "Canadian immigrant" became Lady Victoria Blackwood, with Sir John Macdonald as her godfather. Lady Dufferin had the whole of her six children at the christening ceremony, and Lord Basil Blackwood—not then four—got himself into a scrape by climbing over a pew at an important juncture in the proceedings and knocking down a pile of prayer-books. Lord Basil has been busy in South Africa for the last three years, and Lady Victoria, the Ottawa baby, has for the last eight years been the wife of the brilliant young Lord Plunket.—
