FOR YOU—JUST YOU. The dawn dispels the solemn night, Unveils the canopy of blue, And floods the world with golden light.

THE BELLE OF TO-DAY. The woman with the sense of humor is belle of the present day. She is the fashion. Men say she is a novelty.

KISS HER. Say, young man! If you've a wife, Kiss her. Every morning of your life, Kiss her.

A NOVEL COMPETITION. The two nieces were seated on the couch, one sewing and the other reading. The uncle was reclining meditatively in an easy chair.

LITTLE JACK HORNER. The origin of the poetical jingles known as nursery ballads is in some few cases well known. Thus "the fine lady with rings on her fingers and bells on her toes" refers to the pilgrimage of the queen consort of one of the English kings passing through Banbury, where a cross was set up to mark her night's resting place, and ending at Charing Cross.

THE USE OF ONIONS. The onion, whether young or old, is a friend of mankind. It is good for a whole list of ailments. Now, that very fact ought to suggest that it contains something stronger than water.

HERBES O' VERTUE. Of high rank among the ancient and medieval "herbes o' vertue" was rue. This plant, "the herb of grace," probably gained its reputation for breaking the spells of witchcraft, because it was so often employed for sprinkling holy water.

gal in a magic mirror. Another favorite amulet was vervain, the holy herb, which was much used in ancient religious rites and subsequently for decorating the altars of churches. Roman heralds always crowned their heads with vervain when they either declared war or made a truce.

Powdered rosemary applied to the face was supposed to have magical effects for restoring faded beauty, and a bath of rosemary taken three times a day was said to restore youth and vigor.

Every good wife lets her man Kiss her. Be a man then, when you can, Kiss her. If you'd strike with telling force At the Evil of Divorce, Just adopt this simple course: Kiss her.

He put in his thumb, And pulled out a plum, the plum being the Horner estate. The matter was referred to some years back in one of the leading Pistol papers.—H. Smith in New York Times.

When doing what is right the heart is easy, and becomes better every day; but when practicing deceit, the mind labors, and every day gets worse.

Itching, Burning, Stinging Eczema

WITH ALL ITS UNBEARABLE TORTURE IS ENTIRELY OVERCOME BY THE USE OF DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Itching skin diseases such as eczema, salt rheum and tetter are the despair of the doctors. They prescribe some relief for the itching or an internal medicine to act through the blood, but usually tell their patient candidly that they cannot cure such ailments.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

A LITTLE STREET MUSICIAN.

(Frances Daor, in Montreal Herald.) Why his mother had named him Dante no one knew. She was an Italian peasant woman, not unlike every other Italian woman whom we see on our streets, and had emigrated to Canada with her stalwart dark-skinned husband.

Year in and year out, with his faithful burdy-gurdy and his faithful wife, the Italian Antonio plodded along from city to city's end. Usually they took the little Beatrice with them, carrying her in a box at the side of their musical stock-in-trade, but Dante remained at home, where he was practising diligently at the old violin his father had given him, and with which he was to go out, as his father did, to gather in coppers for the maintenance of the little family.

It was late in the springtime, three years after they had come over, that little Dante was seen for the first time on one of our street corners, playing over and over again the solitary tune, "The Good Old Summer Time." Passers-by stopped with a smile at the diminutive lad, with the solemn black eyes, and his pockets soon filled with coppers. Day after day he went from corner to corner playing his one tune, and solemnly nodding to each one who gave him a penny.

THE POPULAR BOY. What makes a boy popular? Surely it is manliness. During the war, how many schools and colleges followed popular boys whose hearts could be trusted. The boy who respects his mother has leadership in him. The boy who is careful of his sister is a knight.

HOW TO MAKE TIME FLY. Bertie was very cross and miserable because he had to do his lessons. He had thrown his books pettishly on the table and had ruffled his hair in a fit of temper, and had stamped upon the floor and had done other foolish things, and now he was standing at the window looking out moodily upon the lawn.

It retains Old and Makes New Friends.—Time was when Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil had but a small field of distribution, but now its territory is widespread. Those who first recognized its curative qualities still value it as a specific, and while it retains its old friends it is ever making new. It is certain that whoever once uses it will not be without it.

Listen, now. Go ahead. Across the stillness of the little tenement room stole, quaveringly, the notes of In the Good Old Summer Time. The man who was watching never heard them again without a twinge of pain.

Here martyred and hereafter glorified, And the great Rose upon its leaves displays Christ's triumph, and the angelic roundelays, With splendor upon splendor multiplied, And Beatrice again at Dante's side.

When the quiet voice ended, the Italians crossed themselves, even amid their tears. They could not understand it, but it must be some wonderful benediction that could make the man's face shine, and bring the smile on the boy's lips—the last smile.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS RHEUMATISM

What S. PRICE, Esq., the well-known Dairyman, says 212 King Street east. Toronto, Sept. 13, 1902.

John O'Connor, Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to testify to the merits of Benedictine Salve as a cure for rheumatism. I had been a sufferer from rheumatism for some time and after having used Benedictine Salve for a few days was completely cured.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—After trying several doctors and spending forty-five days in the General Hospital, without any benefit, I was induced to try your Benedictine Salve, and sincerely believe that this is the greatest remedy in the world for rheumatism.

Peter Austin, writing from Des Moines, Iowa, under date of July 2nd, 1905, says: "Enclosed please find M.O. for $1.00, for which send me 1 box of your Benedictine Salve. Rheumatism has never troubled me since your salve fixed me up in December, 1901."

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I am deeply grateful to the friend that suggested to me, when I was a cripple from Rheumatism, Benedictine Salve. I have at intervals during the last ten years been afflicted with muscular rheumatism. I have experimented with every available remedy and have consulted, I might say, every physician of repute, without perceivable benefit.

Mr. John O'Connor: DEAR SIR,—Please send me three more boxes of Benedictine Salve, as soon as possible. Enclose please find cheque and oblige.

Mr. John O'Connor, 197 King street, Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find one dollar ($1), also postage, for which I wish you would mail to my address another box of Benedictine Salve. Hoping to receive same by return of mail, I am, sir, Yours truly, PATRICK KEARNS.

PILES

DEAR SIR,—I write unsolicited to say that your Benedictine Salve has cured me of the worst form of Bleeding, Itching Piles. I have been a sufferer for thirty years, during which time I tried every advertised remedy I could get, but got no more than temporary relief. I suffered at times intense agony and lost all hope of a cure.

DEAR SIR,—It is with pleasure I write this unsolicited testimonial, and in doing so I can say to the world that your Benedictine Salve thoroughly cured me of Bleeding Piles. I suffered for nine months. I consulted a physician, one of the best and he gave me a box of salve and said that if that did not cure me I would have to go under an operation.

Rev. Father McDonald of Portsmouth, Ont., sent for a box of Benedictine Salve on the 11th of April, 1905, and so well pleased was he with the result of its use that he sent for more as follows: Portsmouth, 18th May, 1905.

MY DEAR SIR,—Herewith enclose you the sum of two dollars to pay for a couple of boxes of your Benedictine Salve. I purpose giving one to an old cripple and the other to a person badly troubled with piles, in order that they may be thereby benefitted by its use.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to say to you that I can testify to the merits of your Benedictine Salve for Blood-Poisoning. I suffered with blood poisoning for about six months, the trouble starting from a callous or hardening of the skin on the upper part of my foot and afterwards turning to blood-poisoning.

John O'Connor, Esq.: DEAR SIR,—Early this week I accidentally ran a rusty nail in my finger. The wound was very painful and the next morning there were symptoms of blood poisoning, and my arm was swollen nearly to the shoulder.
