THE Morley College

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC AND SCHOOL OF ART
 In Union with the London College of Music, England.

Sneinton Manor, HUNTSVILLE, ONT.
 Visitor: The Ven. Archdeacon Llwyd, Algoma.

Principals: MISS MORLEY, L.L.C.M., Representative of the London College of Music; Silver Medalist for Oil Painting. MRS. HAYDON, D.P.L.C.M.

Examiner for the L.C.M.: STOCKS HAMMOND, Esq., Mus. Doc., Organizing Secretary of the L.C.M. in Canada; Organist of St. James' Episcopal Cathedral, Toronto, etc.

Huntsville is noted for its fine scenery and healthy climate and Sneinton Manor is one of the most beautiful places in Huntsville. The College is situated on rising ground overlooking Fairy Lake and the Muskoka River, and is surrounded by three and a half acres of pleasure grounds, giving every facility for outdoor exercise and recreation. It is within an easy walk from the railway station. Its sanitary arrangements are of the best, and it is well supplied with the purest spring water. The chief aim of the school is to prepare young ladies for the universities and the varied duties of life. The principals desire to give an intellectual training equal to that of the best English schools; they have only lately come from the South of England, where they had a similar institution. Having themselves received a first-class English education, followed by a thorough training in French and Hanoverian schools, they are fully qualified for the important work they are undertaking. Their assistants are also English ladies equally well qualified for their duties. The home life is made bright and happy, health being always the first consideration. Mrs. Haydon, the widow of a well-known physician, takes special charge of this department.
