

Speak plainly and distinctly, and very much louder than in ordinary conversation.

Do not practice or repeat parts before those not taking part.

If you want your entertainment to be a success, interest as many as possible, enthuse over it, sell tickets yourselves, not leaving it to the children, and you will be well repaid. Do not fail to advertise.