Hupp testified that he shot and killed Joyce when, upon returning home unexpectedly on January 10, he found the latter in company with Mrs. Hupp in her bedroom and became crazed. Judge Kennedy preceded arguments by counsel with a brief statement of alternative verdicts open to the jury and will follow County Prosecutor Doerfler, who will deliver the chief address to the jury for the state, with his final summing up. RATHOM DENIES U.S. CALLED HIM OFF

Says His Articles Ceased by Arrangement with Editor of World's Work.

Providence, R.I., March 8.—John R. Rathom, editor of the Providence Journal, issued the following statement yesterday in connection with a statement made by the New York World Saturday morning:

"The discontinuance of my articles in the World's Work, made the basis for a statement by the New York World this morning, was the result of a conference between the editors of the World's Work and myself and was decided on from motives of patriotism and a desire to perform the largest possible service during the present war."

"The only direct assertion which is put forth in its effort to make it appear that these articles have been suppressed by the Government is that as a result of a inquiry made by a committee composed of Charles E. Hughes, chairman of the District Draft Board Assistant Attorney General Knox and A. Bruce Beasly, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, Government officials conferred with the publishers of the World's Work and it was decided to withhold the other statements of my articles. This statement is in every detail an absolute falsehood. There was no such committee, no such decision was arrived at, and the only persons concerned in the decision to withhold the statements of my articles were the editors of the World's Work and myself. There never was, and is not now, and inhibition, Governmental or otherwise upon the publication of these articles."

"With regard to the publication in the New York World this morning of other statements in regard to the work of the Providence Journal, I have nothing to say at this time except to point out the very apparent reason for the attempt on the part of the New York World to add to and that no one of the hundreds of stories of German propaganda printed by the Providence Journal during the entire period has ever been shown to be misleading or not founded on fact."

"The only persons who have published, or sought to create any other impression outside of the subsidized German sheets in this country are: Capt. Franz Von Papen, ex-Ambassador Bernstorff and the New York World."

MEDICINE A GOOD CAREER FOR WOMEN

Says Dr. Winifred Cullis, of London, in Address Before Women's Suffrage

Surprise that a Canadian University should not admit women to the medical degree was expressed by Dr. Winifred Cullis, Professor of Physiology of the London School of Medicine for women, in the course of an address on "Women in Medicine," before the Montreal Suffrage Association on Saturday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Dr. Cullis, who is at present filling the chair of physiology of the University of Toronto, told of the early struggles of pioneer physicians such as Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, Dr. Elizabeth Garrett Anderson, and Dr. Sophia Jex-Blake to win for women the right to qualify in medicine. In a new country like Canada where conventions had not the same hold as in England, Miss Cullis said she would not have expected to find opposition to women as students in medicine.

Prof. Carrie M. Sewick, who presided, said that there were four girls now in the first year in medicine at McGill.

After describing the growth of hospitals in England, staffed by women, Dr. Cullis gave her views on medicine as a profession for women. There was still an idea that a woman physician was a cross between a glorified nurse and a qualified doctor.

It had been difficult to make people believe that a woman qualified in exactly the same way as a man doctor. In England there were many able women surgeons; the Dean of the London School of Medicine was a splendid surgeon.

Dr. Cullis said she thought medicine was an excellent profession for women, and that women were needed in it. As a generalization, it might be stated that women were more interested in persons than in things; they won the confidence of the patient by their personal interest.

There were always women who would rather go to a man physician than to one of their own sex, but the question as to whether women doctors were needed was settled wherever hospitals were opened and staffed by women. In the Royal Free Hospital the outdoor department was quadrupled within two years after the training of girls for some use of the same might be said of the women of the upper classes; it was the well to do middle class, the idle of the community who distrusted the women doctors.

Among special ways in which women doctors are succeeding in England are those of medical school inspectors; inspectors for orphanages and colleges; examiners for women in the postal, telegraph and other government services; on national health boards. The lecturer urged the need of baby welfare centres, and of health clinics to deal with venereal diseases.

In conclusion Dr. Cullis advocated the training of girls for some useful profession or useful calling, whether they were compelled to earn their living or not. The medical profession brought out what was good in

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, does not eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home.

A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig-Syrup Company."

A woman and made use of it. There was nothing in such a career to militate against the great career of marriage.
