HIS ENGLISH FRIEND.

A Visit That Wrecked the Nerves of an American Host. "T've been having the time of my life, I tell you," said the suburbanite gloom-ily to his city friend at lunch. "What's the matter? Pipes burst? Furnace won't work? Dog killing the neighbors' chickens?" asked the friend, sympathetically running through the list of the suburbanite's usual griev-

He went to bed the first night before the rest of us, and when I came along the corridor an hour or so later there were his shoes standing outside his door and frightfully muddy too.

"I looked at them in astonishment. Then I remembered the English custom of having the boy come up for the boots. We keep only two servants, you know, both women, and of course in the country you have to rub them the right way or they'll leave. I knew those free and independent Irish women to clean the Englishman's shoes we'd be left servantless, and that would have been the death of my

At every sound I ould nearly jump out of my own oots and drop his. I fancied every nent that the girls would see my candle and give the alarm of burglars or that my friend would be taken ill and get up and find me brushing his shoes. Oh, I had a pretty time of it! He stayed a week, that Englishman, and what with loss of sleep and over-tion of 342,782, there are 21,324 telenes, or sixty-two per thousand. In ope, Copenhagen is probably the best telephoned city, with 15,311 teleones to its 312,859 of population, qual to forty-nine per thousand. In openhagen, too, the best conditions for the public exist, although the rates are relatively as high as those in Amercan cities. London compares very unfavorably with these figures. At the 111 telephones to a population of more han 5,500,000, or a proportion of sevto every thousand, people. New York, with a population of 2,350,000, had 54,647 instruments, or twenty-six to a thousand.

No Other Remedy Has Ever B en So Highly Recommended

When the nervous system is out of repair, disease in some form lays its deadly hand upon you. Nerve trou-bles give full and forcible warning of their presence. Your insomnia, dyspepsia, indigestion, excruciating neuralgia, rheumatism, liver complaint, and kidney disease are all strong reminders that the brain and nerve centres need nourishment and strength. Paine's Celery Compound does for you a work that no other medicine can accomplish. It quickly nourishes all nerve tissues and purifies the blood, removing from it all impurities and poisonous acids. All who give Paine's Celery Compound a trial soon experience strength and freedom from disease, The Sisters of the Convent of the "Holy names of Jesus and Mary," Montreal, write as follows:

"We feel it our duty to add our testimony in favor of your 'wonder working' Paine's Celery Compound. would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousandsof such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with his "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure. "Favorite Prescription" contains no um, cocaine or other narcotic.

A TRANSIT OF VENUS.

How It Was Observed by a Party of

On their way between Telriz and Teheran the members of an expedition sent to Persia by the German government to observe the transit of Venus met a solitary European lady riding in the opposite direction, a member of the English colony, who was as clever as she was beautiful. Having been long a resident in Persia, she was fearless ly riding alone a long way ahead of her caravan. The Germans marveled at such an apparition in such a dreary waste-wondered she wasn't afraid. Wouldn't she let some of them stand by until her servants and baggage came up? No, she was quite at ease, and usually in her travels was far shead of her attendants, whose mules, more heavily laden, could not keep her

"And now, gentlemen," she said. "who are you, and where are you bound for?" They introduced each other. One was the astronomer, another the photographer, another the archæologist, the naturalist, and so on, and they were going to Ispahan to observe the transit of Venus. The lady smiled, started her pony and waved her adieu, saying:

"To observe the transit of Venus? Ah, well, you can go home, now, gen tlemen! Your duty is done. Goodby." The fair vision disappeared at a can ter toward the horizon, and it was said that the Germans did not see the joke till a long time after Venus had disappeared from their ken.-Life of Major General Sir Robert Murdoch Smith, K.

THE NEW MANAGER.

Why He Did Not Discharge a Certain Railroad Conductor

Among the first railroads built in the United States was a little line about twenty miles in length. In the course of time a big tunnel line was constructed through the same country. The original line became merely a branch. For many years it was run in a cheap way, with one locomotive, one engineer and two or three freight cars.

Finally a new general manager was appointed. He had been in the office but a week when he sent for the one lone conductor who had held the position ever since the road was built. "I would like to have your resigna tion," said the general manager when the conductor appeared. "My resignation?" inquired the con ductor in astonishment.

"Yes, sir, yours." "What for, pray?" "Well. I want to make some changes and get new blood in the line," was the general manager's reply. "I won't resign," answered the con-"Then I will be compelled to discharge you, a step which for your sake I had hoped I would be saved from taking." "Young man, you will not discharge me. I own a controlling interest in the stock of this railroad and elect the president and board shall have you fired." The old conductor did really own the majority of the stock and, as he said, put in his own board of directors and president. Lion and Eagle. An English paper notes it as a curious fact that although the eagle is the national bird of the United States and therefore deserving of peculiar honor, yet, in point of fact, the bird is nearly always ruthlessly killed when the opportunity offers.

This statement seems to be impress ive until it is remembered that whenever they have a chance Englishmen ruthlessly kill the lion, which symbolizes the greatness and power of the British empire.

The Period of Danger. During the recent trial of a suit to collect a medical fee a witness was put on the stand to prove the correctness of the physician's bill. The man was asked by counsel for the defense whether the doctor did not make several visits after the patient was out of danger. "No," was the reply. "I considered the patient in danger so long as the doctor continued his visits," Whiting. All whitings are made from chalk.

These coarse particles may be removed in this manner: Mix the whiting with water to a paste and then add water until it is very thin. Strain through cheesecloth and let the strained mixture settle. Pour off the water and dry the whiting.

LITTLE LEAKS.

What They May Lend to and How They May Be Stopped.

A classic case is that of the royal granary which was depleted of its stores by a succession of "one rat came and took one grain away, and another rat came and took another grain away." There is a man in New York who has in bank a goodly sum of money which he calls his "'tis but fund." When tempted to needless expenditure by the specious plea, "'Tis but a nickel or a quarter or a dollar," he denies himself and drops the amount he would have spent into a portable bank, which is filled with amazing rapidity. That is one way to stop a leak.

More serious than any prudential matter are the little leaks in life by which vital energy is squandered and moral force is diminished, imperceptibly it may be, through what we sometimes regard as inconsequential acts. Lack of order in our methods of labor, indifference to the "minor morals" of hygiene and the "major morals" of onesty and truth, the practical repudiation of personal responsibility, the neglect of duties which arise from our ethical and religious nature—these are the leaks which we must stop or be bankrupt in the world's eyes and in
