HURRIED DINNERS

IUNATED DINNERS. It is a mistake to eat quickly. Masti-cation performed in haste must be im-perfect, even with the best of teeth, and due admixture of salivary secretion with the food cannot take place. When a huge mass of inadequately crushed mus-cular fibre, or undivided solid material of any description, is thrown into the stomach, it acts as a mechanical irritant, and sets up a condition in the mucous membrane lining of that organ which greatly impedes, if it does as a talogether huge practice of eating quickly and filing the stomach with unprepared food is not cumbered with unnecessary knick-nacks, but a dust-bag, a trash-basket, ornamented in harmony with its sur-roundings, are included in the necessary furniture of the room. The room do ling, which may be bought at any store dealing in decorative materials. A pretty duchesse table may be improvised the practice of eating quickly and uning the stomach with upprepared food is habitual, the digestive organ is rendered in a proper func-ittings of the room can be managed by any upprepared for the store materials at a slight exincapable of performing its proper func-tions. Either a much larger quantity of food than would be necessary under natural conditions is required, or the system suffers from lack of nourishment.

I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults." - Mrs. E. G. Edgerly, Council Blufts, Iowa.

E. G. Edgerly, Council Bluffs, Iowa. "Twenty years ago I was troubled with a disease of the lungs. Doctors afforded me no relief and considered my case hopeless. I then began to uso Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, before I had finished one bottle, found relief. I continued to take this medicine until a eure was effected. I believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."— Samuel Griggs, Waukegan, Ill. "Six years ago I contracted a severe sh. n

Samuel Griggs, Wankegan, Ill. "Six years ago I contracted a severa cold, which settled on my lungs and soon developed all the alarming symp-toms of Consumption. I had a cough, night sweats, bleeding of the lungs, pains in chest and sides, and was so prostrated as to be confined to my bed most of the time. After trying various prescriptions, without benefit, my physician finally determined to give me Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took it, and the effect was magical. I seemed to rally from the first dose of this medicine, and, after using only three bottles, am as well and sound as ever." — Rodney Johnson, Springfield, Ill.

It Would not Answer.

A distinguished clergyman, says the New York Tribune, has recently con-demned all social and polite fictions. When, for instance, a stupid bore calls upon you, he thinks you ought to tell him that you are not glad to see him, hut that, on the contrary, you are sorry to see him and that you wish he would go. This sort of brutal frankness would not do in the pulpit, as a critic of the clergyman has pointed out. A clergyman might as well quit preaching who should begin his sermens as follows: "My selfish, most ignorant and despicable hearers, I would like to call your prayerful atten-tion to my text, but I know most of you are thinking about other matters and that you do not come here to learn piety, but rather to show your good clothes and maintain a social position."
