The Evening Chit-Chat

By MARY CAMERON

As a contribution to the usual "chit-chat" column, a reader has sent in the following suggestive little story of her experience.

She had been ill for two or three days with bronchitis, but not enough to afford a trained nurse, but decidedly sick enough to need to go to bed and stay there.

Her husband had been trying to do the housework, take care of her and attend to his business with the usual nerve-racking results for both patient and nurse.

Some one told him of a Miss Blank, saying: "Telephone Miss Blank to go to your house—she is a mighty nice girl. She isn't a servant, and, of course, you can't expect her to do the heavy work, but she fills in at times like these and is just the one to help you. She is such a good, sensible, sympathetic, wholesome girl."

"Miss Blank was promptly telephoned for and promptly came. She first asked me to please go right to bed and helped me there. Quietly and quickly she returned to me with the hot-water bag, then she sponged my face with warm water and alcohol. Then she brushed my hair ever so gently and after making me comfortable with a handkerchief, a drink and adjusting the shade, she tackled the rest of the house.

"In a little while she advised me that we needed eggs and coffee and other food. (Why is everything run out when you are ill?) so she went out and purchased supplies for me. On her return she got me the dearest lunch, tea that was tea, and delicious poached eggs.

"At three o'clock she came to me dressed and ready to leave. Even though I longed to have her come the following day, I must think of the financial end of it, as my husband receives only a small salary. So I told her how grateful I was, told her I did so much want her to come again, but she stated frankly that we had to be careful of the pennies.

"She smiled and said: 'Well, my prices vary—depend not only on the length of time and the amount of work necessary to be done, but on the circumstances of those I serve. You know, I do all sorts of filling in. For instance, this evening at seven o'clock I visit a Mrs. Earle's apartment while she is at the theatre to watch over her two children. They will be asleep, and in all probability will remain so until her return, but should there be a fire or should one of them be taken ill, Mrs. Earle knows I would not lose my head, whereas a servant—well, Mrs. Earle says she believes the servants leave soon after she does. Some of them, if it is true, only go out on the stoop, but they could not possibly hear the crying of a sick child.

"Now, for to-day, would you consider a dollar and carriage too much? Need I add that I begged her to return the following day?"

"When my husband came home he said at once: 'You look fifty per cent better.' On going into the kitchen to prepare something to eat, he returned, practically on the run. 'Well, say, she's a brick.' Then he explained that the contrast between his return that night and the night before was so vivid that he had to tell me about it before he had a thing. The night before—newspapers littered and you; table and sink full of dirty dishes and nothing to eat.

"Compared with prepared broth for the invalid in a double boiler with a little note beside it telling just what to do. She had also cooked and placed mashed potatoes in another double boiler, ready to reheat; the tomatoes were peeled and placed on the lettuce, and the chops on the ice.

"She came to me for four consecutive days, and believe me, that four dollars and forty cents brought me more comfort, contentment and happiness than I ever got out of a similar sum in all my life.

"As an ending I might say that I think this is a splendid idea for any girl to carry out. We need those who like this.

May I add that the position of "Bill-in" should surely be attractive, not only to the girl who wants a profession that is not overworked, but to the girl who would like to feel that she is combining social service with bread winning?

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better. For Bill-in is a thing of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

spreading on grass or clean floor and scrubbing with brush and warm soda. Brass—Wash in warm soapuds, using woolen cloth to polish lacquered brass—clean with cloth wet in alcohol. Woodwork—Wipe with soft cloth dipped in gasoline, which will remove all grease, finger marks, smoke or dust.

That cretonne or some other summer fabric should replace the hand-made materials on couch or divan pillows during the hot months.

Cane of Willow Furniture—To clean or tighten, also to prevent from brittleness, wet thoroughly with warm water, dry in wind or sun.

Floors—Polish hardwood floors with woolen cloth dipped in two-thirds boiled linseed oil to one-third turpentine; rub with the grain of wood.

Varnished or Polish Woods—Are improved by a wash in warm soda.

Turkish Rugs—Can be washed by

Out Door Sports and Zam-Buk.

Every athlete, every ball-player, every swimmer, every canoeist, every man or woman who loves outdoor life and exercise, should keep a box of Zam-Buk handy.

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal preparation, which, as soon as applied to cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, blisters, etc., sets up highly beneficial operations. First, its antiseptic properties render the wound free from all danger from blood poisoning. Next, its soothing properties relieve and ease the pain. Then its rich, herbal balms penetrate the tissue, and set up the wonderful process of healing. Barbed wire scratches, insect stings, skin diseases, such as eczema, heat rashes, ring-worms, babies' heat sores, chafed places, sore feet—are all quickly cured by Zam-Buk. It also cures and cures piles. All druggists and stores. Use Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. per tablet.

Dry with soft cloth; preferably one wet in some polish or kerosene.

Oil Frames—Wipe off, with soft cloth dipped in white of egg, beaten and mixed with one ounce of soda; afterward polish with silk cloth.

Oilcloth—Wipe off with gasoline. This will clean and polish leaving a nice, bright surface without injury to material, as when soap or powders are used.

Bronze—Wash in white soapuds and ammonia, dry and polish with tripoli or rottenstone mixed with oil or paraffin. Rub off with soft cloth or charcol.

Steel—to remove rust, apply thick paste of emery powder mixed with equal parts sweet oil and turpentine; finish by rubbing with woolen cloth and a dry powder.

Furniture Brasses—Polish with oxalic acid and salt followed by polish made of tripoli and linseed oil. Kerosene will remove all ordinary spots and brighten brass.

For darning badly torn stockings, use a shoe tree instead of a darning egg. Then if it is necessary to patch instead of darn, the patch can be much more easily and properly set in.

The skin of a boiled egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boil. Peel it carefully, wet and apply to the part affected. It will draw off the matter and relieve the soreness in a few days.

Pillows—Lay on grass in rain and dry in sun, or empty into cheese cloth cases and lay over steaming wash-bolter until thoroughly wet. Then dry in sun. Have ticking cases washed ready for the clean feathers when dry.

The Prince's Investiture on 13th.

Insignia Bearers at The Ceremony of the Investiture of the Prince of Wales in Carnarvon Castle on July 13 the following will carry the insignia:—

Sir Alfred Scott-Gatty, Garter King of Arms.

Lord Mostyn, the mantle.

Viccount Tredegar, the train of the mantle.

Earl of Powis the sword.

Marquis of Anglesey, the chaplet.

Marquis of Bute, the ring.

Duke of Beaufort, the golden rod.

The sword, chapter, ring, and golden rod will be borne on cushions. The insignia will be carried in the procession immediately before the Prince, on either side of whom will walk Peers of the Realm, probably the Earl of Plymouth and Lord Kenyon.

On arrival before their Majesties the Prince will do obeisance, bowing three times to the King. The Home Secretary will read the letters patent which will have been handed to the King, and at appropriate points in the reading His Majesty will invest his son with the insignia. The Prince will then do homage for the Principality of Wales and the Earldom of Chester in the following words:—

I, Edward, Prince of Wales, do become your liege man of life and limb, and of earthly worship. I will bear you to live and die against all manner of folks.

Afterwards the letters patent will be handed to the Prince, who will proceed to a chair on the right of the throne.

The Irish and the Coronation.

London, July 3.—The Irish Independent prints a circumstantial account of a meeting of the Irish Nationalists Party which had been held to discuss the question of non-attendance at the Coronation. It is said that John Redmond, the leader of the Party, made an impressive speech in which he urged that the Irish members of Parliament should take official part as a party in the Coronation festivities, as he claimed it would be of untold benefit to the cause of Home Rule among English constitutentes, and in the House of Commons. John Dillon, W. H. Redmond, and others opposed this, and a show of hands gave 29 votes in favor of attending and 32 against.

LONDON, July 6. A bitter fight has broken out in the British Cabinet over the policy to be pursued by the Government over the Moroccan situation. So strong has feeling become that there is a strong probability of the Cabinet resigning. The Prime Minister says that he can say little at this stage, but wishes it clearly understood that the Government considers that while the new situation which has arisen in Morocco may possibly in its future developments affect British interests more directly than has hitherto been the case, it is confident that diplomatic conduct will settle the difficulty. The part that the Government will take must be with due regard for the protection of French interests, as Britain's Treaty with France demands.

LONDON, July 6. Rumors that Britain had ordered a naval movement on account of the Moroccan difficulties are unfounded. It is understood, however, that the British Government, although it has not yet made any formal reply to Germany, has intimated to the German Ambassador here that Britain could not contemplate, without the gravest concern, the possibility of the establishment of a German naval station anywhere on the Moroccan shore.

WASHINGTON, July 6. The loss of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, according to the opinion of Chief Engineer Bixby, who has just returned from a personal inspection of the wreck, was caused by the explosion of her three masts.

No such effects as those produced upon the vessel could have been caused by an explosion from without. What the primary cause of the explosion was, said Bixby, will never be learned.

NEW YORK, July 6. A loss of more than 500 lives is credited to the great heat wave from July 1st to July 5th. Hundreds of news despatches from cities from the north Atlantic seaboard, westward to the prairie States, exchanged during the past four days, account, according to the careful review this morning, for the deaths of 431 persons from heat and 80 from drowning—a total of 511.

LONDON, July 6. The Peers who voted in the Government lobby on the Lansdowne amendment to the Veto Bill were mainly created since the Asquith regime commenced. Former radicals like Lords Weardale and Courtney refrained from voting. When the Lords' amendments come to the Commons, Premier Asquith will move their rejection.

AMSTERDAM, July 6. Hot fighting in the Harbour district took place to-day between the rioters, the police and the troops. The rioters stoned the police and the troops replied with rifles. The striking men then produced revolvers; and in the fusillade a number were wounded. The troops then routed the strikers.

HOLLIDAY, Pa., July 6. The intense heat is believed to have produced an explosion at the Standard Powder Works at the Hotel Station on the Pennsylvania railroad, resulting in the death of four employees and the destruction of the works.

CHICAGO, July 6. The newspapers report the number of casualties due to the celebration of July 4th to show 38 lives sacrificed and 1,217 injured, compared with 44 killed and 3,346 injured in 1909.

The Bride will be well pleased if you make your selection of her gift from TRAPNELL'S big assortment of Fine English Silverware and Jewellery.

Returns to Montreal. The many friends of Mr. H. Tapper, in St. John's, will hear with regret that he must shortly proceed to Montreal again to have another operation performed on his arm, portion of which was amputated there some weeks ago. All will hope that Mr. Tapper will come speedily and successfully through the ordeal.

Meeting of Officers of Catholic Societies to Attend His Reception.

A meeting of the officers of the various Catholic Societies of the city was convened last night in St. Patrick's Hall to discuss the question of according to Monsignor Stanislav a reception when he arrives here on the 22nd inst.

Mr. J. L. Slattery, Vice-President of the Benevolent Irish Society, was moved to the chair to conduct the business of the meeting.

After a general discussion it was decided that the members of the different societies turn out on the occasion and meet His Excellency on arrival at the pier and accompany him to the Archbishop's Palace. The officers will also attend the ceremony of the consecration of Bishop Power, and will illuminate the halls of the different societies on the nights of the 22nd and 23rd.

The meeting recommended that the Catholic citizens also illuminate their houses. His Excellency will be asked to read the address to His Excellency from the citizens.

A committee of two from each society will arrange the other details connected with the reception.

Speeches in favour of the carrying out of the above named programme were made by Mayor Ella (T. A. & B. Society), J. P. Scott (Mechanics), E. M. Jackman (Star of the Sea), Councilor Ryan (St. Vincent de Paul), P. Summers (Holy Name), J. Barron (Holy Name, St. Charles's), C. O'Connell (St. John's), Hon. D. J. Greene (C. C. C.), also by several others who attended the meeting including V. P. Burke, A. Tremblay, R. J. Power, C. J. Cahill, M. A. McCarthy, T. J. Noah, J. J. Lahey, J. Malone, Inspector W. O'Brien, Councilor J. T. Martin and W. J. Higgins.

Teachers' Convention.

Mr. R. R. Wood delivered a lecture on "English" and Prof. Nichols on "Drawing" at the afternoon session of the Teachers' Convention. In the evening the whole time was devoted to the discussion of Health and Hygiene. There were nearly 500 teachers present and the President, Mr. Richards, occupied the chair.

Hon. Jno. Harvey, President of the A. P. C., on being introduced to the meeting, dilated on the necessity of cultivating those habits that are conducive to good health and to restoring health that has been impaired. Physical culture is the best means for achieving this and should be taught in every school in Newfoundland in the Hygiene curriculum. Mr. Harvey's address was well received. Mr. W. W. Blackall then followed with a lecture on Health, and treated the subject from the view point of the teacher. He suggested what should be done by every teacher, whose duty it was to give strict attention to the fundamental principles of hygiene and create an interest on the subject in the minds of their pupils. Dr. J. S. Tait gave an address on Consumption. He spoke for over an hour and gave some very valuable and practical suggestions for the preservation of health. After this Young Olson with his juvenile class gave an exhibition of physical drill that could be easily introduced in all the schools. Dr. Wakefield of the Grenfell Mission, also spoke, on being introduced by Hon. Jno. Harvey. He spoke of consumption and what he believed teachers could do in order to lessen its ravages. At the close a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Colley and seconded by Mr. Bagge was carried unanimously. The meeting closed at 9.30.
