PLEASING THE PEOPLE.

This is our specialty. It is the one aim of our STORE, our SYSTEM and our SALESMEN. All our efforts are directed towards giving the public a "little better" service than they get elsewhere. And besides better service, in our desire to please our customers, we are continually introducing little novelties for their benefit. Our Gold Fish scheme was greatly appreciated by all our patrons, and it is our intention to introduce many other attractions during the coming summer that will help to make our friends see that we fully appreciate their patronage. The monthly home magazine, the "REXALL NEWS," is published free every month for our patrons, and as soon as YOU become one your name is put on the subscribers' list.

Now, don't you think it would benefit you to trade at the Rexall Store? Remember, a "little better" service is our mot-to. Beginning may the 15th our store will remain open all

Mr. Blackall's School Report.

Mr. Blackall expresses concern that very school cannot be visited at least very school cannot be visited at least every school cannot be visited at least once a year by himself or his staff. He considers the inspectorial staff and T. Parmiter 200 yards. Below we should be large enough to provide for give a list of names with scores for a visit twice a year. This is of course desirable, as the most important func-tion of the Superintendent's visits is tion of the Superintendent's visits is the opportunity it affords to give teachers advice as to) the school of which they are in charge. The difficulty, however, in carrying out such a suggestion is the one which minimizes out educational efforts, the inadequacy of educational efforts, the inadequacy of educational grants.

Mr. Blackall points out that the Council of Higher Education is "an examining body—pure and simple—that, and nothing more."

"As an examining body the Council fills a most useful place in the community. I will go further and say that appreciation of higher education, and the paucity of senior pupils in the schools. He advocates strongly provision for the establishment of some such institutions of higher education.

In reference to Superintendent Grimes, the Judge stated that he had been misreported in being represented as severely reprimanding him. He had ruled questions out, just as was such institutions of higher education as are to be found in the Maritime Provinces.

He testifies also to the excellency of the work being done by Mr. Barnes. Pd. M. in the Normal School, and of ticing School. Dreaming of Home.

It comes to me often in silence,
When the firelight sputters low—
When the black uncertain shadows
Seem wraiths of the long ago;
Always with a throb of heartache
That fills each pulsive vein
Comes, the old, unquiet longing
For the peace of home again.

m sick of the roar of cit And of faces cold, and strange; know where there's warmth of wel-And my yearning fancies range Back to the dear old homestead, With an aching sense of pain,

But there'll be joy in the coming When I go home again. That never may die away,
And it seems the hands of angels
On a mystic harp at play
Have touched with a yearning sadness
On a beautiful broken strain,
To which in my fond heart wording—
When I so home again

When I go home again. Outside of my darkening window Is the great world's crash and din, And slowly the autumn shadows Come drifting, drifting in.

Sobbing the night wind murmurs
To the splash of the autumn rain; But I dream of the glorious greeting When I go home again.
