ST. JOHN'S

At the Wheel Again.

Capt. Hoeborg, one of our old and trusty seamen of St. John's is at present in the city from Burin, and is a guest of his son-in-law, Mr. Holland, of James Baird, Ltd.

The Captain is going in command of a trim little Danish schooner called "Emanuel".
Owing to the amount of business he does at Burin he hasn't been to sea much of late, except to help out a master or owner. This time it is one of his own countrymen. The Captain of the Emanuel unhappily died a short time ago, and the schooner needed a commander. Capt. Hoeborg took on the post, and he seems to be doing his duty as well as his. He is the father of three children, two daughters in the city, one son, who like many other Newfoundlanders went over to Uncle Sam's country when the young man. He won distinction and medals at the Santiago fight in the Spanish-American War, since then he has been in charge of a military training camp at Newport, rank: Sr.
Vice-Commander, and now on active service in command of the U. S. cruiser "Newark", not far from a Newfoundland. It might be added that Capt. Hoeborg, Sr., is holding the first class Master Mariner's Certificate issued at St. John's, Newfoundland.
We wish the old fellow a very good passage and a safe return. Father Neptune will see that smooth water and favourable winds follow Captain Hoeborg and the schooner Emanuel which he now commands; both going and coming—Com.

Influenza at Lark Harbor.

(Western Star.)

A wave of influenza has struck Lark Harbor and is said to have been conveyed there by a woman who recently arrived from Sydney. Dr. Fisher was called there on Saturday. He returned on Monday evening. There are at Lark Harbor and Broom's Bottom about ninety cases in all, only about five or six however are of a serious nature, the others being very mild cases. One woman died at Lark Harbor, but she was consumptive and otherwise of a delicate constitution. Quarantine restrictions have been adopted, and all possible precautionary measures taken to prevent the further spread of the epidemic.

Moose on the Lower Humber.

(Western Star.)

W. P. Brake, of Humbermouth, tells us that on Friday he saw a cow moose and a calf at Seal Island, off of Humber-mouth, and next day they were seen by Edward Brake. The calf moose was about the size of a two-year old domestic cow. The old moose was very large and had grey patches on the haunches. When seen the moose were feeding.

Dismal Jimmies Read This!

ITY.

I have no patience (said a well-known political economist) with those prophets of woe who declare that, after the war, Britain will be a bankrupt nation, steeped in misery and distress. It is the sheerest nonsense to talk in this way; for, instead of being poverty-stricken when peace comes again, Britain will be actually better off than ever.

Yes, I dare say it does sound a startling statement, but listen to me and then say if I am not right, and the "Dismal Jimmies" wrong.

To begin with, in spite of the ravages of war, our population will be larger after the war than it was four years ago. We shall have more people to earn money, and, of course, more to spend it. Our natural wealth coal, iron, and so on, will remain practically as it was, available for exploiting under new and vastly improved conditions.

There will be more useful capital in Britain; and even our income from foreign sources will be greater than it was in 1914, for we shall draw large and certain revenues from our loans to the Allies. Thus, you see, we shall have an excellent start from the point of view of material things.

But there is an aspect more important still. We have made good all sorts of industrial defects during the war. We are expanding the iron and steel trades which were becoming stagnant. We have built and bought hundreds of thousands of new machines, and have now an engineering equipment immeasurably better than in the past.

New factories by the thousand have sprung into existence, in all parts of the country, all of which are available for commercial purposes in the future. We shall extend all the old industries and embark on many new ones to supply the world's markets.

For the individual the prospects are no less good. In our vastly enlarged field of industry there will be work for all, male or female, who will work; and wages will never fall back to their pre-war level. I anticipate a time, not far distant when very few men will draw less than £4 a week.

Channel Notes.

Nothing has appeared in your columns of late from the bright and prosperous settlement of Channel.
Every one is busy now gathering their harvest, and everybody is in harness, from the sturdy fisherman who day by day mends his little craft, down to the tiny child who sits writing his or her copy for the teacher, all are doing their little bit for their own welfare and for the good of the country at large.

The fishing season promises to be a good one as when weather is suitable the fisherman adds each day largely to their catch.

About a month ago the C. E. W. A., which is an energetic body, held a Sale of Work and Tea, which was well patronized by all. The proceeds were very creditable.

A few weeks ago another of our citizens paid the Supreme Sacrifice, and one or two others have been wounded. These as well as many others, are the types of humanity that Channel possesses.

On Saturday night last His Excellency the Governor arrived here en route to England. The soldiers who are on special duty here formed a guard of honour and escorted His Excellency to the Court House where Magistrate Squaire introduced him to the people, following which Rev. H. J.
Read read the address of welcome to His Excellency. After the address was read the Governor replied, speaking chiefly upon the great topic of the day: "The War."

Nowadays people have the war for an excuse for many things. How often will people say: "Oh, yes, it's all the result of the war."

Quite a few weddings have taken place here recently. Wonder if that's the result of the war? I fear, Mr. Editor, you will say no, it's not the result of war, but of "Love".

Obituary.

Death has again visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Vickers, and taken from them their tenth child, in the person of their beloved daughter, Mary Rose. She was a bright young girl of fifteen, a victim of pneumonia.
She was attended by Dr. Chisholm but despite medical skill and fond care of father and mother, she passed away after a few hours illness, having received the rites of Holy Church from Rev. P. J. O'Brien. She leaves to mourn a disconsolate father and mother and two brothers to whom we tender our sincere sympathy.

We rear no marble o'er thy tomb.
No sculptured image there shall bloom.

Such dwelling to adorn.
Fragrance and flowers and dews must be.

The only emblems meet for thee.

Snakes and Fever Make it Hot for the British.

Jerusalem, Oct. 12.—Allied soldiers in the Valley of the Jordan know now how really unkind were persons who, in pre-war days, "wished them in Jericho." To these fighting men, Jericho and its dust-covered environs mean heat, flies, mosquitoes and snakes, mildly advertised by the Turks in this message set up opposite the British lines: "Don't fear an offensive from us; we will come over later when you are all dead."

This summer day after day, army thermometers along the Jordan registered from 105 to 125. Yet with scarcely a breeze, and these dust-laden, the Australian and New Zealander horsemen holding these lines, bringing from a temperate climate a reserve of health and vigor lacking in the natives, withstood the ordeal. It is the second or third summer that tells.

The flies and mosquitoes of the valley know no pity. In the early days of the fighting when it was impossible to take the necessary sanitary precautions, they bred in myriads, but now pools of stagnant water have been eliminated and large tracts of scrub burned. As a result, the number of malaria cases has been surprisingly low.

Of the minor evils the snakes are the worst, but due to the precautions taken by officers and men casualties from snake bites have been comparatively insignificant, despite the number of the reptiles and their venomous species.

One captured Turk had been attacked and bitten by a serpent four feet long, and as he lay on his cot in a British hospital, he told how he had strangled the reptile and then fainted.
His nerves were shattered by the incident and medical officers said it would be years before they were again normal.

At Last.

Morning by morning, hardly moved, we read

The close, long list, and idly set it by.

Knowing that each name signifies the dead

A man can do but once—fighting, to die.

Yet see no strangeness in the daily toll

Of sorrow proudly borne, of youth cut down.

No mystery in the sacrificial Roll Of Honor—Britain's honor—and renown

And then . . . one name refuses to be passed . . .

We pause, while memory's lamps light one by one . . .

So he is gone. Ah, now come crowding fast

The little things—his smile, his frown, his fun!

And as his very self comes back to view

We find we loved him—better than we knew.

BELLEVILLE

Mrs. A. Lott, 49 Grier Street, Belleville, Ont., writes: "About nine years ago I was a nervous wreck—so bad that my arms and shoulders had to be bandaged, and sometimes my friends had difficulty keeping me in bed. One time I went to the hospital to see my sister, and while there, became so nervous that my arms and feet had to be bandaged and I had to be brought home.
Through reading of it in the Receipt Book, I was induced to use Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking several boxes I began to recover and get stronger, and now feel perfectly well. I am very pleased to recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all my friends."

BRANTFORD

Mrs. A. North, Grand street north, Brantford, Ont., writes: "Both my husband and I can speak very highly of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It has used it with splendid results. My husband suffered from weakness and a rundown system, and because he finally had to give up work. He also had spells of depression. He commenced using Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food, and after a treatment of this medicine I can now such a change in myself. He is now able to attend to his work, and is enjoying splendid health."
"Before I started taking Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food I was troubled with nervousness, sleeplessness and pain around the heart. The Nerve Food built up my system, made me feel stronger in every way, and relieved me of the annoying symptoms from which I had suffered. We always keep Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in the house ready for use in case they are needed."

PETERBORO'

Mrs. C. French, 184 Lansdowne street, Peterboro', Ont., writes: "I was troubled with nervousness, sleeplessness, frequent headaches and indigestion. For many years I was troubled with a twitching or tingling feeling about my limbs after retiring, causing me much loss of sleep. If I wakened out of my first sleep, even had I been asleep for only five minutes, I would be awake for hours and could not get to sleep again. Any sudden noise or a door slamming would set my nerves going, and I would fear that something dreadful was going to happen. I had tried different remedies for this trouble, but without success. A friend asked me one day why I didn't try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I thought I could at least give it a try. I secured some and commenced using them, and found they benefited me so much that I have taken fully a dozen boxes. My nervousness or tingling feeling in the limbs is entirely cured. I can now eat and sleep well. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food strongly, and would advise anyone suffering from nervous trouble of any kind to use them according to directions."

How the Good Word is Passed Along

It is over the teacup that women exchange confidences. Not infrequently "Health" is the subject, and this often leads to the discussion of the merits of Dr. Chase's medicines, and more particularly his Nerve Food.

The doctor had a fine appreciation of the needs of the feminine system, and had this in mind when developing this great restorative treatment for the nerve.

More blood—and always more blood—is required in order to make up the periodic loss and to supply the nourishment required to sustain the delicate and complicated nervous system.

Because no treatment ever seemed to meet this need so nicely as Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food, this food cure has attained wide popularity and enormous sales.

There is sure to come times in every woman's life when such restorative, blood-building treatment is required. It is a blessing to know just where to turn for help. Ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and then give it a chance to build you up with new energy and vitality.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

LONDON

Mrs. S. Meathrel, 23 Hyla street, London, Ont., writes: "About a year ago I had a complete collapse from my nerves. I was taken to the hospital for a treatment, but it did not give me much relief. Then I went to the country for a change of air, but after my return home I did not feel much better. I used to have nervous spells, when my limbs would begin to shake, then grow cold, and I would be completely exhausted. I was also troubled with an accumulation of gas on my stomach, which caused palpitation of the heart. At last I decided to try Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food, and after I had used them for a while I could see that they were helping me, so I continued using them until I got well again. I became real strong and healthy, could sleep well at night, and was able to do my own housework. As I got stronger, the nerve-spells disappeared, and I have not had one since."

WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Lydia MacKay, 288 Hunter street, Woodstock, Ont., writes: "I suffered from a weak and rundown condition of the system. I also had severe headaches, and I was unable to sleep at night without any difficulty. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, took a good treatment of this medicine, and the results were most satisfactory. I feel much stronger now, have got rid of the headaches, and am able to do my own work without any difficulty. I have recommended the Nerve Food to many of my friends, and would recommend it to anyone suffering from nervousness of any kind."

GALT, ONT.

Miss Alice Howes, 21 Haddington street, Galt, Ont., writes: "I was very ill with anæmia, could not sleep at night, and my appetite seemed entirely gone. I suffered in this way for nearly three years, and had treatment from two doctors in Toronto, where I was living at the time, but did not get any relief. I became completely run down, and I did not see any immediate hopes of getting better. I went back to live with my mother in Galt. I thought perhaps the change of air might do me good. My mother saw that I was in a bad state, because my nerves were affected, and everywhere I went I used to take dizzy and fainting spells. My hands and limbs would become numb. I would see black specks before my eyes, and cold perspiration would come out on me. My mother had been taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with excellent results, and she advised me to do the same. But it is hard for me to take pills, so I went to a doctor in Galt instead. However, his treatment did me no good, so I at last decided to follow mother's advice. I began taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually found myself getting better. I soon was able to sleep at night without any difficulty, my appetite came back, and I began to gain back my natural color. After taking about twelve boxes of this medicine I was able to return to my work in Toronto. I have since then all noticed the improvement in my condition, and I am now stronger and healthier than I have been for a long long time."
