Manchester, Conn., June 23.—A few Hembers.

Manchester, Conn., June 23.—A few years ago the man who would ride a bicycle on Sunday was looked upon here as a sinner almost beyond redemption. Last week the committee of the Center Church voted to set apart one of the horse sheds in the rear of the church for a bicycle shed. A great many persons, ladies as well as gentlemen, who live in the surrounding country, now come to the Sunday and week-day services on wheels. When they are liatening to the words of the sermen mischievous youngsters experiment with the bicyles, and not a little damage has been done by their careless use. Now they will have a bicycle stall in which to store their wheels while attending services. The shed will be fitted up with stands, a whisk broom, clother brush, mirror, washstand, and toiletarticles will besupplied, and all will be under the guardianship of a man especially selected for his inability to master the untamed steed. So far as known this is the first church in the country to take this step.

Detroit, June 22.—The long-haired disciples of the Flying Roll are having a hard time of it since the conviction of their idol, "Prime Michael." The younger element of the north side lose no opportunity to show their dislike for the religious fanatics, and harses them at every turn. "Lucifer" Durand was the first to suffer, but for some reason or other the amateur barber did not do a good job in trimming his lengthy locks. Monday afternoon one of the members of the colony named Stoneman ventured for a stroll on Woodward afenue, and was immediately surrounded by a number of young men, who insisted upon his accompanying them into a saloon near the corner of Woodward and Milwaukee avenues. Once inside several pairs of shears were brought into play, which were worked by willing hands. In a tew moments the flowing auburn locks of the surprised and terrified Flying Roller were strewn about the floor. Stoneman was then allowed to depart, and his altered appearance caused his brethren to rigidly catechise him before they would admit him into the house. into the house.
