Direct Steamship Line Necessary to Give Canada a Share of South African Trade.

London, Aug. 5 .- The remount scandals were re-aired in the House of Commons yesterday in the course of a discussion of the army estimates and the item of transportation of remounts. Charles Dilke suggested the publication of the evidence bearing upon the United States scandals, obtained from the United States and Argentina. Col. John H. Nolan condemned the loose system of contracts under which such dreadful scandals were possible, while several other members of the house deprecated the method of purchasing horses through middlemen.

Mr. Brodrick, the war secretary, replying, said the members overlooked the difficulties in the way of providing 150,000 horses in an emergency. said the government intended to probe graphed Acting Governor Wright that the charges, but that he believed some emount officers had been harshly udged. He did not believe that Lord Kitchener would join in the universal atical Filipino society. Many of Rios cry against the remount department. In answer to the war secretary, John vague speech only strengthened his suspicions, and he pointed out as an instance of this that the government had not denied that Major Studdert had profited largely through buying horses in Ireland under a false name. Mr. Brodrick denied that he had no disposition to push the Studdert and other investigations, and said the government would go to the fullest extremes to convict the perpetrators of conspiracy and fraud. The vote on the item of transportation and remount was agreed to.

Berlin, Aug. 5.-The King of Italy's propesal of a contraction of European armaments is a subject upon which the Czar and the German Emperor will undoubtedly converse at their meeting at Reval on the occasion of the Russian naval maneuvers. His opinion, well known to diplomatists, is that disarmament is a dream of the future, and a fantastic idea when considered in connection with the present continental situation. A RADICAL VIEW. The Radical press regard Mr. Chamberlain's admissions on Friday as proof that from his point of view the colonial conference has been a failure. Mr. Chamberlain's objects in convening it, they say, were the better adjustments of Imperial defense and Imperial trade. He hoped and expected to lay the foundations of a customs union and obtain the consent of the premiers to a scheme under which the greater colonies would make specific contriback seriously hurt and injured interbution to the cost of defending the empire.

FOSTER FATHER OF 22 CHILDREN

Builds a Schoolhouse for the Little Folks-He Is Not a Millionaire Either.

South Haven, Mich., Aug 5 .- An interesting example of what natural paternal love will do on occasions is found near this place, where Mr. and Mrs. John Shandrow have adopted a whole orphan asylum - twenty-two children in all. Shandrow's twentytwo children are not all infants; indeed, some of them are bright, rosy. cheeked youngsters, already old enough to go to school.

Shandrow has built a schoolhouse for the children, and has other troubles of his own on his big fruit farm. His story is another chapter of the doings of the wealthy Samaritan of today. H is not a millionaire, and not able give libraries, but, according to hi means, he has tried to help his fellows, and his first move was to adopt or at least to assume, the charge of all the inmates of a Minneapolis orphan asylum. The benefactor has made more than competence on his 100-acre fruit farm, and tried to assuage a life-long regret for the children never born to him by writing to the Smith Foundling has arrived here from Mindanao, and Hospital in Minneapolis asking them to send him several children for a summer outing, with the privilege o choosing from them in case he should want a boy. > Mr. and Mrs. Shandrow were overcome when the party arrived. This was in the spring of 1901. The couple quickly made the little ones comfortable. As the summer passed they tried to choose one to keep. But all of the little ones had twined themselves around their hearts, and when the 1st f September came Mr. Shandrow wrote the matron offering to keep the children through the winter and see that they were clothed, fed and schooled. Mr. and Mrs. Shandrow are devout Methodists. When they discovered that part of the children had never been baptized the minister was promptly summoned, and eight of the little ones were christened at once. Mr. Shandrow says that for menths past he has been trying to pluck up enough courage to send at least a part of the children back to the home whence they came, but he has never found a moment when he could tell them they must go. All of the youngsters look upon the Shandrows as their guardian angels and call them "papa" and "mamma."

ALL IS READY FOR KING'S RETURN

Great Street Demonstration Will Mark His Majesty's Arrival in London.

London, Aug. 5. - All preparations have been completed for the return of King Edward to London tomorrow. The Victoria station has been brilliantly decorated. It is expected that his majesty's return to the capital will be marked by a great street demonstration en route to Buckingham Palace. The trip to London will be made on a royal special train, but there will be no invalid chairs or other special ar rangements, for it is felt that his majes ty is fully equal to the fatigue of the journey.

Gen. Lucas Meyer, who was recently in command of the Orange Free State forces, and Mrs. Meyer, lunched with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain on Saturday. King Edward invited Gen. and Mrs. Meyer to witness the coronation ceremony at Westminster Abbey next Saturday, but as Gen. Meyer goes to Dresden upon medical advice to take the waters they were unable to accept. Former President Steyn, of the Orange Free State who, with his family, arrived at South ampton, and sailed the same day for Holland, has arrived at Scheeveningen Mr. Kruger has sent him a message, in which he prays for his early recove. y

His Majesty's Presence Adds Interest to Cowes' Regatta-Boer Leaders at the Hague.

London, Aug. 5. - Visitors to London will not be able to see the interior of Westminster before the coronation, but they may do so after that event, it having been officially announced that the edifice will be open from Aug. 12 to Aug. 16. The colonial and the nathe winter has passed, the youngsters tive Indian troops will be admitted on Aug. 12. On other days the entrance

> Invitations to the coronation ceremony have been telegraphed at the King's command to the mayors of all cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants. Rehearsals of the coronation ceremony are held daily with the exception of the musical programme, which has been made a special order for Friday. A structure is to be erected between the abbey and parliament buildings, through which members of the House of Lords and of the House of Commons will have private access to the abbey.
