THE MARKETS OF TODAY

LOCAL MARKETS.

Wednesday, Feb. 15, 1905. Business was again light at the mar ket owing to the bad roads and th cold weather. There were only five loads of hav of fered; sales brisk at higher prices, viz $9 to $10 per ton.
One load of oats was offered; price went higher at $1 13 per cwt. Ther is a good demand.

WEEKLY REVIEW. The cold weather and the drifted con dition of the roads played havoc with business at the markets during the pas six days. While the attendance farmers so far as numbers were con cerned was below the average, it was surprising that there were so man turned out under the circumstance mentioned. Sales were brisk in all o the lines represented and prices were as a whole firm; in some lines there was a substantial increase.

STOCK MARKETS. H C. Becher, stock broker, Bank Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazic & Carrington today: New York, Feb. 15.—Noon.—Th

regard to the Steel earnings for th current quarter attracted a great de of attention, and resulted in increase activity in both stocks, but more e pecially in the common. O. and was also heavily dealt in on the culation of a fresh rumor that the minority stock would be guaranteed 21/2 per cent by the New Haven Railway. It is believed that with this guarantee they should sell in the neighborhood of 60. For the first half nour there was a good deal of liquidation in Union Pacific, but there seemed to be no limit to the amounts wanted around 124. When this liquidation in Union Pacific diminished the stock rose easily, reaching a new high level. It was said with truth that the market was somewhat spotty, and that business was badly distributed, that is to say, that the public was still showing but little interest. Houses, however, with bank ing connection were buying stocks, and the pressure to sell was insignificant. No doubt the honeful feeling that prevails is largely due to the growing conviction that there will be no railroad rate legislation until fall, and that even if a bill is more conservative nature than characterized the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives. Sales to noon, 518.700. MONTREAL.

Powers of Humane Officers—A Nice Question To Be Dealt With.

The very cold weather of the past few days has resulted in very few live stock shipments being made on all the railways, but few and all as they are one of them has come under the ban of the humane officers between here and Windsor.

Today Inspector Sanders received 5 the following message from Mr. James McGregor, humane officer of Chatham: "Stop four cars horses; C. P. R.; starving; nearly frozen."
"The inspector was at a loss to know what to do for a while but at length he communicated with Chatham, where he found that a C. P. R. freight from the west, which included four carloads of horses, had just left Chatham, eastward bound, and, it was expected, would arrive in London somewhere between 3 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. As the cold weather has such an adverse effect on the railways, the officials stated that the train might be even later. Mr. Sanders then communicated with the police, and he stated that he will await the coming of the trans to London, when he will make a personal investigation. The inspector was not quite clear as to his powers in the matter, as he realized that it is a rather serious mat-ter to hold up a trunk line freight. Mr. James Houston, the local C. P. R. freight agent, stated to The Advertiser that the humane officer might hold up the train if he so desired, but conference, Many kind things were he added it may prove a very serious thing for somebody.
