SPORTING COLUMN.

A BOXING MARVEL

Mike Gibbons Shows Gotham Things That Recall Dempsey, Corbett, Fitz and Young Griffo.

That bright light on our sky is the reflection of the radiance shed by Mike Gibbons, S. P., of St. Paul, S. P. means some fighter, Algerian.

Gibbons did a Lochinvar from St. Paul and beat up Willie Lewis so thoroughly that while couldn't remember "The Boles de Bouillon or Broadway."

It is known that Mike Gibbons, who "came out of the west" is the greatest welterweight fighter New York ever saw. He is the marvel of the game for the time being, and experts say all he has to do is to hold out his hand for the title to tumble into it.

When the critics began to talk Gibbons, they drew deeply on their memories. Summed up, he is a combination of everything rare in boxing. One said he was a combination of Jim Driscoll, Abe Attell and Paeky McFarland.

MIKE GIBBONS

Another recalled Jack Dempsey, Jim Corbett and the marvelous Young Griffo, and another added to this that he looked like old Bob Fitz in action. Gibbons has been boxing three years, and is 23. He is tall and slender. Nothing indicates abnormal strength. His legs and waist are small.

Gibbons used to box in the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and developed such cleverness that he was appointed instructor. Soon afterward he took up the professional game.

OTTAWA AFTER EDDIE KING

While the coast clubs are taking players from the east, the eastern clubs are going to try their hands picking a few from the west. Eddie King, touted as another Fred Taylor, who hangs out at Calgary, has been recommended to the Ottawa club, and the locals will get after him at once. He played with the Stettler team which beat Edmonton for the P. H. Reform cup last winter. King, it is said, was the whole Stettler team in that series. He plays right wing, and is a big fellow weighing somewhere around 180. His Calgary friends wanted him to go to the Wanderers but Ottawa was tipped off first.

South African Football

The South African Football Association are anxious to have another team from England in their country before they seriously consider the project of sending an eleven to the Mother Country. The F. A. lost $100 on the last trip, but it is expected that the South African Federation would arrange matters so as to prevent any loss to the visitors. Gate receipts for the last tour netted $16,500, twenty-seven games being played.

PROTEST

Herbert Lang protests Mike Gibbons' assumption of the Canadian welterweight title, claiming that he had the better of their meeting in Winnipeg and offering to prove his superiority before any club for a side bet of $1,000.

Shabby Treatment

Harvard has broken off athletic relations with Carleton for the Indians' shabby treatment of Vanderbilt University of Nashville, Tenn. Harvard asked Vanderbilt for a game on November 11, but the southern university replied it had a game for that date. Then Harvard offered the game to Carleton, which accepted it. Vanderbilt protested to Harvard that Carleton had agreed to play here on that date. Harvard asked the Indians to play Vanderbilt, but they refused and said Harvard was the same. Carleton then requested Harvard to play for her share of the money.

It will be some time before Harvard will be able to play Carleton. The Indians are now in the hands of the Carleton authorities.

FIRE AT THE MISSION

St. Anne's Church and Monastery Destroyed.

On Saturday forenoon fire was discovered in the church of St. Anne's de Restigouche at Mission Point, and a call for help sent to Campbellton. Owing to the condition of the road across the river it was impossible to get the fire engines over, but a detachment of firemen under Chief Christie made for the conflagration to render what assistance they could. Unfortunately by the time they arrived the flames had secured a firm hold of the church and monastery and it was only a matter of time for the roof to fall in.

The church which was a comparatively new one was not quite finished inside.

The church proper cost about $30,000 of which Lord Strathcona donated a considerable amount, and the insurance on the church and monastery was $40,000.

The fire is understood to have been caused by the heating furnaces exploding and scattering the coals all over the basement.

It is understood that arrangements are being rapidly pushed forward to replace the buildings at an early date.

OPERATION FOR PILES FAILED

Zam-Buk Was Then Tried and Worked a Cure.

Writing from Poplar, B. C., Mrs. C. Hanson, wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, says: "I suffered four years with bleeding piles. The pain was so bad at times that I could hardly walk, and ordinary remedies seemed utterly unable to give me any ease. Finally I decided to undergo an operation, and went to the Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane. There they performed an operation and did all they could for me. For a time I was certainly better, but within twelve months the trouble started again and the piles became as painful as ever. I tried liniments, ointments, various pile cures, and indeed everything I could think would be likely to do any good, but still I continued to suffer, and the shooting, burning, stinging pains, the dull, aching and wretched, worn-out feeling that the disease causes continued as bad as ever."

"One day I read about Zam-Buk and thought I would try it. The first one or two boxes gave me more ease than anything else I had tried, so I went on with the treatment. In a short time I began to feel altogether different and better, and I saw that Zam-Buk was going to cure me. Well I went on using it, and by the time I had used six boxes I was delighted to find myself entirely cured. That was three years ago, and from then to the present time there has been no return of the trouble."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for piles, eczema, ulcers, abscesses, cold sores, chapped hands, various sores, burns, scalds, bruises, inflamed patches, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

POPULAR SONGS

Romantic Origin of Some Well Known Songs — How "Killerney" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" Were Composed.

Composers tell many a curious and romantic story of the birth of songs which have become world-famous, and few of them are more remarkable than those told by Signor Tito Mattel.

"Several of my best songs," he says, "have come to my mind whilst idly strumming with my fingers on a window-pane or table, and my well-known 'Hear the Wind Whistle Blow' was written when I was having an oyster supper."

"Dear Heart" had an equally curious origin. One night when the Signor went to see his publisher, Mr. Kargel, one latter pressed a sheet of paper, saying, "Here are some pretty words; what do you think of them?" The composer glanced at the manuscript and, making no reply, he instantly played the four last lines of the air which has since been sung all the world over. The same evening the song was complete, and the following morning Mr. Kargel and the Signor were drinking to its success in "repeated glasses of champagne."

The sweet and universally popular "In Old Madrid" came to Mr. H. T. Trosone one evening as he was returning home from the Theatre. He had no paper on which to jot it down, nor had the publisher into whose house he rushed, any to offer him. But, catching sight of some sheet music, he seized one, and in a few moments the famous melody was written down.

"Go to Sea" was composed whilst quies of an Italian was jotted down. "Ashore" was written by Mr. Clifton Bingham and not to music by Mr. Trotter after tumbling at Restaurant; and "The Snow of the HMI" followed an encounter with a woman and Mr. Trotter composed the melody, wrote a letter, and ran 400 yards to catch the post, all within eight minutes.

"Killerney," a strange story is told. One day Bonicault took the words of the song to Balle. Mrs. Balle took them upstairs to her husband, who, when passing through them, set down to the piano. Scarcely had his wife left the room when the composer excitedly called her back. "I have done the song," he exclaimed. "It is sweetest. Tell Bonicault to come and hear it."

It was while dreaming the time away in his youth, that Michael Maybrick's great song, "The Holy City," came to him in a short of musical division, we are told he took it about once, twice, three times, until the entire division seemed electrified by its pathetic eloquence. An idea seized Bonicault, and he hurriedly wrote down a chorus of twelve lines, which he then sang to himself. "Boys, I've got it!" and there rang out the "Star-Spangled Banner."

WHEN BIRDS BREED

Few Experts Can Really Tell When Birds Breed for Even When in Captivity They Baffle These In Charge.

Although a thousand and one ornithological volumes have been written, it is a curious fact that not a scrap of information is to be found in any of them regarding the ages at which various species of birds breed in the wild state. This discovery has been made by a writer who suggests that as, in most cases, birds breed as a matter of course in their second season, writers, who assume that there is nothing to be said on this subject.

Dr. Seth Smith, who is in charge of the birds at the Zoological Gardens, London, says that in all probability many of the parrots do not breed till they are three or four years old — "but as to say, till their fourth or fifth season, I am not sure." However, according to the same authority, as an exception to this generalization, as, in common with shellfishes and some of the pinnipeds, they breed in their second season. Possibly, as respects geese, this applies only to domesticated breeds.

Pigeons and the majority of game-birds attain their full plumage in the first summer, and the presumption accordingly is that they breed in their second season. That this is the case with partridges is rendered evident by the fact that in the second season, all the birds, with possibly a few accidental exceptions, are paired.

The World's Largest Flying Bird.

Among the most notable of recent additions to the "Zoo" is what is generally regarded as the largest flying bird in the world. It is known as the lammergeier (sheep eagle, or bearded vulture). This giant bird has recently arrived from India, and is the largest of its kind ever seen here. Its wings measure over 14 ft. from tip to tip, and it is not yet full grown.

The lammergeier was found in Mid-Tibet, and is a very rare bird. It is said to live mainly on carrion, but it is not averse to "creating" carrion by knocking an unwary animal or bird over a precipice with a heavy wing. It is said to be a very fierce bird, and is not to be approached without a gun.
