The Commercial Baseball League.

At the meeting of the Commercial league of Toronto on Friday evening, Feb. 26, when the wholesale drygoods, wholesale grocers, insurance, ratiway clerks and civil service were represented, the following officers were elected: President, Hugh Blain; vice-president, P. J. Slatter; secretary, J. Keely; treasurer, R. B. Rice; executive committee, Messra, H. Jackson, W. McPherson and J. Glanville. The new league starts out with a large and substantial membership and thoroughly representative officers. It seems, therefore, safe to prophesy a successful future for it. It is understood that the six clubs will play two games with each other during the season, making thirty games to be played by the league altogether. A strict amateur definition has been adopted to govern the membership.
