Aeroplane Incidents on the Earth

A medical officer, who saw one of our aeroplanes shot down behind our lines, ran to render assistance; the German artillery was firing heavily in order to destroy the machine, and a splinter wounded this officer in the head; nevertheless he got to the wounded airman, dressed his wounds and got him back safely to the dressing station.

About the nastiest thing to tackle single-handed would seem to be a machine gun spitting death at the rate of several hundred shots a minute. This evidently did not deter a young lieutenant of a Canadian battalion, who, personally, bombed a machine-gun crew, captured the gun and seventeen unwounded prisoners. Another officer, on the same day, tackled a machine gun, and although shot through the throat, he pressed on and himself killed some of the crew, and the gun was captured.

Another man, who was scouting in advance of some newly captured positions, came upon one of our aeroplanes which had been brought down, in which two flying men were alive, though badly shaken. Just then a party of ten of the enemy came up to capture the airman and these he successfully drove back with the Lewis gun he took out of the wrecked machine.

Save the Rags

A serious shortage in wool exists. Almost all countries engaged in the war have taken over the wool supply to provide for soldiers' equipment, while the United States Council of National Defense recently took up with the clothing manufacturers the matter of the saving of cloth by eliminating from the 1918 styles patch pockets, flaring cuffs, cuffs on coats and trousers, etc., and all unnecessary pleats and frills. The council is also advocating the more general mixing of cotton with wool and the more extended use of shoddy.

For this reason the old fashioned rag-bag should come into fashion. The day when rags were not of sufficient value to warrant much attention being paid to them is past. Today there is a heavy demand for woollen rags. Scarcity of new wool has created an increased market for shoddy materials, of which woollen rags are the basis, and increased prices are being paid for this hitherto neglected material. Save the rags.

The New Automobile

(From "The Open Door.")

They had just bought it, and it was a fine one. Before it was purchased it was agreed that it should be a "Christian" car. That means that it was NOT to be running on Sundays during the hour for church service. During such hours it was to be standing still near the church, while the family worshipped God. The owner said that his car would never be guilty of undermining Christian influences. Public worship must not be neglected on the Lord's Day. And this Christian ideal was never forgotten, and so there was a truly Christian car.

What sort of a car is yours, a Christian car or a heathen car? You claim to be a Christian, and if your automobile is not dedicated, as the above car was, then you are guilty of the sin of desecrating the Lord's Day.

Lived on Milk

The guests at the boarding table were discussing diets.
 "I lived on eggs and milk for two months," remarked one lady, "and I actually gained 10 pounds."
 "And I," said a gentleman, "lived for more than a year on nothing but milk, and gained in weight every day."
 "Mercy!" came the chorus. "How did you manage to do it?"
 The gentleman smiled. "I cannot say that I remember," he replied, "but I presume my method was similar to that of other babies."

Guns that are automatically loaded with acetylene gas and discharged have been invented in Scotland for fog signals, wireless waves from central stations starting their mechanism.

Proper Methods of Buttermaking

Few people trouble themselves about the reason that creamery butter is to be preferred to dairy butter, but by way of introduction to Bulletin No. 53 of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch, Ottawa, Dairy Commissioner Ruddick furnishes an explanation. Incidentally he also points out that a good deal of damage is done to the trade by inferior dairy butter. The bulletin, for which Mr. George H. Barr, Chief of the Dairy Division, is responsible, in concise terms describes the whole process of buttermaking, tells the utensils that should be used and how they should be used, gives the results of experiments with the separator as regards temperature and variations in speed, deals with the care of cream in cooling and preparing for churning and in pasteurizing gives expert counsel as to salting and working and points to the advisability of attractive packing in parchment paper. He also points out the requirements of the law in branding or marking and supplies practical hints on care of the utensils. Finally, he tells in terse terms how to get the best results in farm dairy work. Both the bulletin and a blue print of the plan for a dairy that is given can be had free by application to the Dairy Commissioner or to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Use of Finger Nails

They Would Have Disappeared by Now if Not Needed.

Finger-nails and toe-nails are only another phase of the development of man from the animal that originally walked on four feet. Animals that walk on all fours use the finger and toe coverings which in man is the nail, to scratch in the ground, to attack enemies, and to climb with, and our nails of the present day are what the development of man into a civilized being has changed them to. At that, there are still uses for finger-nails and toe-nails, or man in his changing to a higher plane would have found a way to develop away from these, says the Book of Wonders. They are useful today in making our fingers and toes firm at the end, and enable us to pick up things more easily. The time may come when men will have neither finger-nails nor toe-nails.

Household Hints

Children should not have fried foods. Delicious cookies can be made with peanut butter.
 There is a good gelatine that is flavored with rhubarb.
 Cream of corn soup can be made from the leftover corn.
 In combing hair, always begin at the end and work backward.
 An egg added to the rhubarb pie will make it more delicious.
 A feverish patient enjoys fruit juices mixed with cold water.
 The moment a milk bottle is emptied fill it with cold water.
 Trimmings that are left after frenching chops can be used in casserole with vegetables.
 A paste of minced raisins and figs with a dash of lemon juice makes a good sandwich filling.
 Any leftover meat can be ground fine, mixed with boiled rice, seasoned and fried as meat cakes.
 With baked beans one should eat a green vegetable or simple salad, and some brown bread.
 A baby's nerves are always soothed by an hour or two, properly protected, in the open air.
 Turn the garden hose on garden shrubs once a week in summer and insects will not get a good start.
 Salt added to mustard prevents its drying up.
 New tiling for walls and ceilings has grooved edges that fit together and is attached by metal fasteners that enter the back of each tile, saving the use of cement.
 The influence of music on animals was once tested by a violinist in a menagerie, who found that effect was greatest on a puma, which became much excited when quick time was played, but was calmed by slower measures. Wolves were said to have shown an appreciative interest, lions and hyenas were terrified, leopards were unconcerned, and monkeys stared in wonder at the performer.
 Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms are literally ground up and pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the sufferer. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation so that besides being an effective vermifuge, that are tonic and health-giving in their effects.
