

LYRICAL POEMS.

| | |
|---|-----|
| A Few Short Years from Now | 147 |
| Alain's Choice | 165 |
| Autumn Winds | 160 |
| Choice of Sweet Shy Clare | 176 |
| Clouds that Promise a Glorious Morrow | 158 |
| Come Tell me some Olden Story | 150 |
| Death of the Pauper Child | 184 |
| Earth's Moments of Gloom | 159 |
| Emigrant's Address to America | 135 |
| Far West Emigrant | 137 |
| Final Reckoning | 167 |
| Flowers and Stars | 162 |
| Harvests | 172 |
| Hon. James B. Clay | 152 |
| In Memory of the Late G. C. of Montreal | 169 |
| Maude—a Ballad of the Olden Times | 142 |
| Moonlight Reveries | 156 |
| Nature's Music | 141 |
| On Some Rose Leaves brought from the Vale of Cashmere | 170 |

REFLECTIVE AND ELEGIAC POEMS.

| | |
|---|------|
| Rejoicing after the Battle of Inkerman | 145 |
| Sea-Shore Musings | 181 |
| Sunset Thoughts of a Dying Child | 163 |
| To the Soldiers of Pius Ninth | 148 |
| Tribute to the Memory of the Rev. Sister the Nativity, Foundress of the Convent of Villa Maria | 179 |
| Welcome to the Month of Mary | 139. |
| When will it End | 154 |
| Whispers of Time | 183 |
| Worldly Death-Bed | 174 |

VERS DE SOCIETE.

| | |
|-----------------------|-----|
| After the Ball | 187 |
| Bride of a Year | 186 |
| Flirtation | 192 |