WALDRON WELL DEVELOPED GUN MATTERS OF FACT

Correspondence Printed That Weekly Sun Man Declined to Let His Readers See.

Editor World: In fairness to myself and to my fellow citizens who have shown their confidence in me by twice electing me to represent them in the Ontario Legislature, I desire the favor of placing before your readers my side of the controversy with Mr. Gordon Waldron.

Waldron was not a candidate and up to that time had taken no public part in this election. Mr. Waldron saw fit to publish what I considered to be a very unfair and misleading article in his paper, The Farmers' Sun, regarding myself and the business with which I am connected. To this article I replied in the following letter:

Editor Farmers' Sun: I do not usually reply to personal attacks, but my attention has just been called to an editorial in your issue of the 2nd of August under the caption of "The American Trust in Canada," which is so absolutely unfair and misleading that I must ask you to give this letter the same publicity as the original charges.

Your first statement is that I am opposed to the British preference. This is absolutely untrue. On the contrary, I have been in favor of a British preference for more than a quarter of a century. This can be readily verified by my publications and speeches, and it is largely because I am an upholder of the British preference that I am opposed to the proposed reciprocity treaty with the United States, because I believe with President Taft and James J. Hill that such a treaty will effectually prevent any further extension of our inter-imperial trade.

You further state that the American Watch Case Company is the only concern making watch cases in Canada. This is entirely incorrect. There have been seven watch case factories established in Canada. Of these, the P. W. Ellis Co., and ourselves are the only ones still engaged in the business, all of the others having failed to make their factories pay.

You also state that I sold out to an American trust and am now simply the nominal head of this business. It is true that I was fortunate enough to interest some of my personal friends in the United States in this business and that some of them are largely interested in one of the watch case companies and two of the watch movement companies in that country.

In my ignorance, perhaps, I had imagined that I was doing good service in the United States by getting American capitalists to invest over half a million of dollars in manufacturing watch cases in Canada, thus giving employment to a large force of skilled Canadian artisans and helping to make a home market for our Canadian farmers.

If I am wrong in this, I would be glad to be corrected. You also insinuate, although you do not openly make the charge, that the American Watch Case Company has taken advantage of the tariff to exact a liberal share of the protective duty levied upon imported watch cases. In regard to this I can assure that we have no watch cases of our own manufacture which you will be glad to know that this is not the case—on the contrary, the company has for many years sold their product at prices quite as low as the factories of the United States were selling their in the United States.

In conclusion, permit me to say that even were your statements true, I do not think that personal vilification such as you have indulged in regarding Mr. W. K. Morriscy and myself, is fair or honest argument in the discussion of such a great national issue as the present undoubtedly is.

Reciprocity with the United States is something about which Canadians can and do honestly differ and it is both unfair and unwise to impute malicious motives to those who differ in opinion, or to probably just as honest and sincere in their convictions as you are yourself.

The issue is now before the people, the last and final court of appeal, and I, for one, am content to abide by their decision. W. K. McNaught.

As Mr. Waldron apparently did not have the instinct of British fair play sufficiently developed in him to publish this reply in his paper, I took occasion to refer to the matter on the platform one evening, which action seems to have "induced" Mr. Waldron to publish the above article in your issue of the 2nd of August. He devoted the greater part of one of his meetings to another most unfair and untruthful attack upon me, to which I ask space in your paper to reply.

In this last tirade he started out by stating that I had attacked him on the platform "wantonly and without provocation." In view of the foregoing this would seem rather wide of the mark.

He accused me also of "attacking the good faith and the character of the leaders of the Liberal party." This charge is absolutely untrue. I have it from being true, that, on the contrary, I have gone out of my way to express my belief in the honesty and good faith of many of them, naming specifically Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Hon. Mr. Paterson, Hon. Mr. Fisher and the Hon. Mr. Aylesworth. I have, however, attacked policy, especially this reciprocity measure, as every Canadian citizen has a right to do.

Mr. Waldron further charges "that no man in Canada has been so assiduous as W. K. McNaught in his assaults upon the parliament of Canada for favors in the way of tariff laws to benefit his business and that his attendance at Ottawa has been a steady obsession."

This charge is also absolutely unfair and misleading. The following will show. When I organized the American Watch Case Company in 1885, the duty on watch cases was 30 per cent ad valorem. In 1897 this duty was lowered to 20 per cent ad valorem, at which rate it has remained ever since, and I have never made any attempt to have it raised. Regarding the "Gold and Silver Stamping Act," which I am accused of introducing in parliament in 1906, I may say that this act was originated in Montreal. It came before the Manufacturing Jewelers of Canada and was endorsed by them and subsequently by both the wholesale and retail jewelers of Canada. The act was introduced in parliament by Hon. R. W. Scott; the then secretary of state, and was carried through both houses as a government measure. This act was so highly thought of by the government that the governor-general, in his speech upon the prorogation of parliament that session, alluded to it as a measure highly in the public interest. It is quite evident from what

OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I had been doctoring for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor all to no avail. When a young girl I sprained my ankle three different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago a small spot showed upon my left ankle. It was washed and set for a doctor. He said it was eczema. He drew a small bubble from the ankle about the size of a match and about as high. The doctor said the sole grew to about the size of an apple, and the eczema spread to the rest of the foot. The doctor never could heal the hole in the ankle. The whole foot ran and itched and burned. My husband and my sons were up night and day wheeling me from one room to another in the hope of giving me some relief. I would sit for hours at a time in front of the fireplace hoping for daybreak. The pain was so intense I was almost crazy. In fact, I would have been for hours at a time. One day a friend of mine dropped in to see me. No more had she glanced at my foot as she sat down as a diver doing for eight long hours. I awoke in the morning with but very little pain. In fact, I thought I was in heaven. After using the Cuticura Remedies for three months I was perfectly restored to health, thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I will be sixty-four years of age my next birthday. I am as hearty as present." (Signed) Mrs. Julia Phinney, 222 St. Louis, La., U.S.A.

County Fathers Can Kill Hospital Site. Despite Warning, City Council Ordered Purchase of Site—Call For Subway Tenders.

Before the city council ratified the decision to build a new isolation hospital on Bathurst-st., north of St. Paul-avenue, at the special meeting yesterday afternoon at the City Council, Mr. Chisholm, spokesman for over 300 residents of York Township, in the vicinity of the hospital site, addressed the council and said that any finding of the city council might make it quite futile, as the location of the hospital there depended on the action of the County Council, and that the residents of the district were against the project, and the county council seemed inclined to their views.

Therefore, he said, he would like to know whether or not the city will be able to put the hospital on the chosen site until the York Township Council meets and makes a decision. Mr. Chisholm asked that council give more time for the discussion of the question before passing it.

The council passed the recommendation of the board of control to purchase the southwest corner of Renouveau and Wright-avenues for a fire-station site, at $7,475. The fire station will protect the High Park district when finished.
