SIR CHARLES' GREAT SPEECH AT STRATHROY

I am," replied the man with the gun "Well, if I am uglier than you, short, for I do not care to live," said the first. So Sir Richard Hyde could have said when he saw The Globe's picture of him; Sir Richard Hyde could have said when he saw The Globe's picture of him; "Shoot; I don't want to live if that is a proper picture of me," [Laughter.4] As to Sir Richard's statement that Sir Charles was in his speeches showing himself to be merely a political charlatan and romancer, Sir Charles said the testimony coming from such an arrant dreamer as Sir Richard was entirely worthless, [Laughter.] I will prove you can't believe a word he 'says, He is evidently unconscious of right and wrong, and morality can't tell white from black. This formed Sir Charles' preface to the returation of Sir Richard's charges, Sir Richard had charged that Sir Charles believed he alone was the power that sent the Canadian contingents to Seuth Africa, and said Sir Charles had nothing to do with the Government's action. Sir Charles denied the charge, but in order to show the true state of the facts in the sending of the first contingent, went over the whole ground as it is now set out in history. It was not hard for Sir Charles to prove tifut he had committed the Conservative party to the sending of the contingent several days before Oct. 3, 1899, when Sir Wilfrid gave his famous interview, declaring that he could do nothing because of the law and the constitution.

Incidentally he spoke of the insurance.

Incidentally he spoke of the insurance to the amount of $1,000,000 that had been placed on the lives of the members of the first contingent; no less than $40,000 is now being paid out to the relatives of those who fell in that first contingent. [Cheers,] He had no difficulty in proving that he initiated the movement that led to the pressure of public opinion forcing the hands of $1\text{First Wilfrid and his Government, $3\text{Sir Charles emphatically denied that he was endeavoring to incite a race war in Canada. The man that did such a thing was the enemy of Ganada. [Applause, I He referred briefly to Mr. Tarte, because it was a very sour Tarte, disagreeable to both Liberals and Conservatives in Canada. Turte's Talk in France.
What had Tarts done? The sending of contingents from the colonies to South Africa strengthened the arm of Britain, and prevented the intervention of European powers in favor of the Boers. This was done when Europe looked jealously on Britain. But this good impression was tainted by the speeches of Tarte in France, in which he declared that 99 out of every 100 of the 2,000,000 of French-Canadians were opposed to Canada giving ald to Great Britain.

KAY'S--- "Canada's Greatest Carpet and Curtain House." --- KAY'S

WHY THIS STORE FOR Carpets, Gurtains

and Furniture?

There are reasons why shoppers come to this store in preference to elsewhere when anything in Carpets, Curtains, Drapery Goods or High-Grade Furniture is wanted. That is an aggressive statement, we know, but this is an aggressive store. There is no other store where so wide range of these particular goods can be found. No store where such immense space is given up to the one business. No store where prices are so decidedly in favor of the shopper, whether the purchase is for a few yards of a low-priced Carpet or an order to furnish one's house throughout.

The occasion of this store's opening in Carpets, Curtains and Housefurnishings is always watched and waited for by thousands of housekeepers. We made a sensation last spring with our great exhibit of these goods. We far outdo the record this Fall.
