LABOR CANDIDATE IN LONDON; DECISION OF TRADES COUNCIL

Unionist Will Be Placed in the Field at the Approaching By-Election—Position of the Labor Men Toward Both Parties.

A labor candidate for the by-election in London, as announced in Monday's Advertiser, is an assured fact, the Trades and Labor Council at its meeting last night deciding to accede to the request of the Dominion Trades Congress, now sitting in Winnipeg, that a candidate be put in the field.

The labor men of this city have been discussing the matter for some time, but the telegram referred to in The Advertiser Monday hastened the present action.

No man has yet been selected, and no names were discussed by the council, so several prominent labor men stated to The Advertiser today.

On the table was the telegram from the Dominion Congress at Winnipeg saying that Mr. Verville, M. P. for one of the Montreal constituencies, and at present president of the Dominion Congress, Lawyer O'Donohue, of Montreal, the solicitor of the congress, and Allan Studholme, M. L. A. for Hamilton, would come to London at the earliest opportunity, and lay the matter before the labor men here.

The Convention.

The convention for the selection of a candidate will not be called for some time—probably not until the writ for the election is issued. Delegates from every trades council in affiliation with the Trades and Labor Council will be asked, and this convention will choose the candidate. This man's name will then be submitted to a mass meeting of the labor men of the city for their approval.

"I have not the faintest idea who the candidate will be," said a member of the council this morning. "No names have been mentioned so far, but in all probability many will come forward now that a labor candidate is a certainty. We will have a candidate all right, and he will be a good man. I think we can win, too. The labor party is united, and will work diligently for the election of the candidate. I do not know when the convention for choosing the candidate will be held. We will look the possible candidates over, and then decide. A convention can be called within 24 hours after the writ is issued. We have chosen the delegate plan, as a mass meeting would be too unwieldy."

Labor Men's Answer.

Purse of Gold for Capt. McCrimmon

After the completion of the business of the officers of the Seventh Regiment the other night Capt. McCrimmon, the hard-working and efficient adjutant of the regiment, was called forward, and was presented with a purse of gold by Lieut.-Col. Reid on behalf of the officers of the regiment.

Col. Reid referred to the long and splendid service rendered by Capt. McCrimmon, and his faithful efforts to improve the regiment. Not a little of the success achieved by the regiment was due to the untiring efforts put forth by Capt. McCrimmon. Other officers expressed themselves along the same lines.

Capt. McCrimmon made a brief speech, in which he thanked the officers for their kindness to him, and declared that he always had the good of the regiment at heart, and would do his best for it.

Bishop's Brother Typical Farmer A Peep at the Aylmer Granger

Marked Contrast in Appearance From the English Prelate—Seven Brothers in Family.

Aylmer, Sept. 18.—"Quite a contrast between me and the bishop," said Francis Herbert Wainwright Ingram, brother of the Right Rev. and Right Hon. Arthur F. Wainwright Ingram, D.D., Lord Bishop of London, to a reporter as he came out of one of his wheat fields in response to a message this morning.

There is a contrast between the Canadian farmer and the Lord Bishop of London. The farmer, fresh from his plow, was roughly dressed. Thick, strong boots, made to stand the strain of unequalled ground behind a plow or harrow, heavy worsted trousers, and a shirt of blue jean, constituted his attire.

A big straw hat, referred to by some as a cow breakfast, crowned a mass of dark brown hair. But underneath the broad rim, was a face reminiscent of the Lord Bishop of London's, a face marked by strong, earnest lines. The eyes are the same, an unwavering blue, and kind and smiling. Around them are a hundred tiny lines, the gift of hard work and Father Time.

Been 31 Years in Canada.

Farmer Ingram was born in Worcestershire, England, 53 years ago. He came to Canada when a boy of 22. He spent a year near London, Ont., on a farm, and then bought one for himself of 150 acres nine miles south of here. "And you know anything about farming?" asked the reporter.

"I was the greenest hand imaginable," was the laughing response. "I bungled with this farm, however, and Continued on Page Four.

A Great Scarcity of Male Students

The shortage of male teachers at the three Normal schools is repeated this year.

Last year 350 students attended the Normals. This term's entry list shows 445, only 25 of whom are men.

In Toronto 150 teachers-in-training started, five of whom were men. Last year the roll call numbered 150.

In Ottawa there are 115, as against 100 last year. There are six men in attendance.

The opening at London found 150 in attendance, an increase of 50 over last year's figures. There are twelve men at the London Normal.

Congratulations Showered on Seventh

Congratulations on the splendid showing of the Seventh Regiment in Buffalo continue to come from prominent citizens of the Bison City. Gen. Fox, commander of the 74th Regiment, wrote recently congratulating Col. Reid on the excellent conduct of the men.

"A great many of the citizens of this city," he writes, "have spoken to me of the excellent appearance and perfect conduct of the men under your command while in the city."

Mr. Harry A. Forman, secretary of the Old Home Week Committee, also wrote, and spoke of the delightful time he had while entertaining the 7th Regiment. The band, he declared, was the best band that came to Buffalo during Old Home Week, and was a decided credit to the city of London as well as to Canada.

Mr. G. W. Lemon, a prominent newspaper man of Buffalo, wrote a long letter in which the work of the week was reviewed. Two events stood out very prominently during the week in order of merit—the children's parade, the greatest thing ever seen in Buffalo, and the "Trooping of the Colors" by the Seventh Regiment. These two events made the Old Home Week very notable. He also congratulated the Seventh Regiment on their splendid marching, saying that it compared most favorably with any ever seen in that city.

Why Bishop Ingram Came to America

Toronto, Sept. 19.—The function which Bishop Ingram came to this continent to attend is one of the most important in the history of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, as the daughter of the Church of England in that country is called. The occasion is the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Episcopal Church in the United States, which went was contemporaneous with the founding of Jamestown. The work of the Church of England in foreign parts in those days was done under the direction of the Bishop of London, the Bishop of St. Alban's assisting, and in consequence the occupants of those two sees and the secretary of the ancient but vigorous Society for the Propagation of the Gospel have been invited by the officers of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church to come to America to take part in the exercises marking this anniversary. The dignitaries who will attend are thus Bishop Ingram, Bishop Jacobs, of St. Alban's, and Bishop Montgomery, secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, who last autumn visited Canada.

Almost Abandoned.

LIBERAL CLUB OPENING

Owing to the inability of the speakers wanted by the officers of the Young Liberal Club to attend the opening of Hyman Hall on Friday evening next, it has been necessary to postpone the opening until Friday, Sept. 27. At least two of the most prominent speakers in the Liberal party will be here, and in addition there will be a splendid programme of music. Let every Liberal note the change of time, and let him be on hand.

THE FIRST GREEK CHRISTENING HERE

An Impressive and Interesting Ceremony Performed for First Time in London.

The home of Mr. Panteis Karkompass, 469 Colborne street, was the scene of the first christening ceremony ever conducted in this city, according to customs of the Greek Christian Church, when the three-months-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Karkompass was baptized and christened. The ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. Mr. Pappas, a Greek priest from Buffalo, was an exceedingly interesting and impressive one.

Prominent Londoner Who Died Today. Some time with heart trouble, but his demise was, nevertheless, unexpected. He took a turn for the worst last evening and sank rapidly, expiring at 1 o'clock this morning. No arrangements have been made as yet for the funeral.

The late Mr. Greer was very prominent. (Continued on Page Eight.)

Adelaide Street Boy Swallowed Pin; Life Now Hangs in the Balance

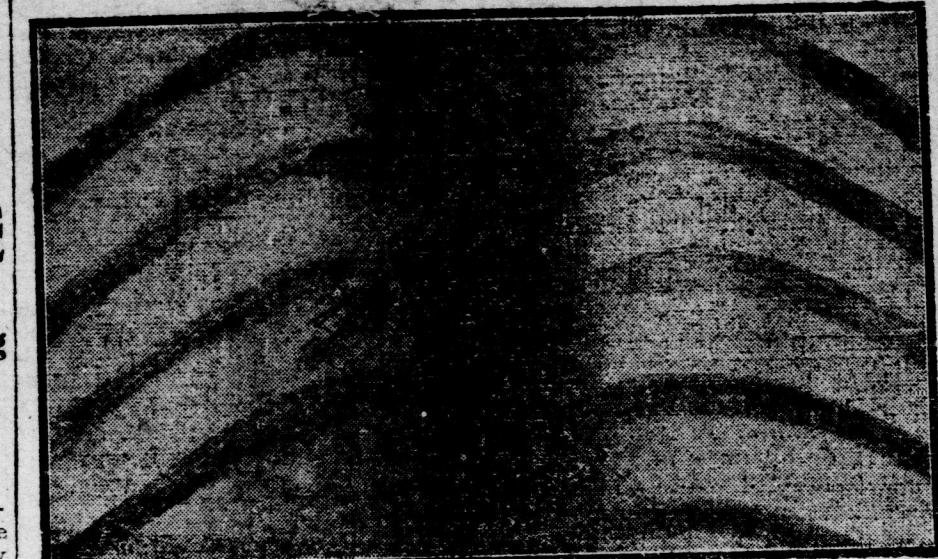

X-Ray Reveals the Location of the Pin—An Operation Necessary.

A case in which the life of a boy 44 in the balance, with a surgical operation as his only hope of recovery, is that of little Harold Christopher, son of

Mr. Charles Christopher, a C. P. R. A. Stevenson and Dr. F. C. Drake.

After every attempt to extract the pin had failed, the patient was taken to the offices of the Drs. Stevenson, where the X-ray was used. The result is shown in the cut above, which was made from the X-ray negative.

Tomorrow a last attempt will be made to take out the pin without resorting to an operation, but little hope engineer, residing at 540 Adelaide street, city.

The other night Harold was playing about the house with a pin in his mouth. Somebody said something which caused him to laugh, and he swallowed the pin. Ever since he has been in great agony, and three doctors have done all in their power to alleviate his sufferings.

The physicians are Drs. W. J. and H.

is held that this will be possible. If the pin is not out by two o'clock in the afternoon, the boy will be taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where an incision will be made, and the pin removed. It will be the first operation of its kind in London.

It is said that only one person has survived such an operation, and he is the young son of Philip Armour, the millionaire packer of Chicago.

ENGINEER SENTENCED TO 9 MONTHS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Sept. 19.—Mark B. Reid, who was the engineer on the special fruit train at the time of the fatal collision at Gourock, about a year ago, and who at the assizes here last night was found guilty by the jury on the second count of the indictment against him, that of breaking the rules of the railway, was sentenced this morning by Judge Anglin to nine months in jail here.

Saved $1,000 on Street Watering

No. 3 committee of the city council will have a nice surplus this year. Chairman Gillean and his committee have been very diligent and have watched the interests of the citizens with great care. Nearly $1,000 was saved in street watering, and two extra carts were put on. No difficulty has been experienced with contractors, and altogether the work has been very satisfactory. There have been few complaints about the work and it is done well.

"I don't think that I have had three complaints this year," said City Engineer Graydon this morning. "This system has been a great thing for me, and has made my work much easier. There will not be any difficulty such as there was last year. Next year I have a plan that will save the city a great deal more money. The street watering has been done well, and at a great saving of money. It should be done that way all the time. In spite of the great scarcity of water, the streets have suffered but little."

The committee has saved nearly $1,200 in the management of the fire department, where great care has been exercised to save the people's money.

RAN ON THE CURVE! AT TOO HIGH SPEED

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The railway commission inspector, Mr. McCall, has made a report upon the Caledon disaster on the C. P. R. He says that the accident was caused by the high rate of speed at which the train was running on a sharp curve. If this curve is not straightened out then the board will likely order a change in route.

HORSEMAN BRATTON DEAD.

East St. Louis, Sept. 19.—John S. Bratton, the horseman, died today. For the last few years Bratton was buying horses for the Vanderbilt and other big eastern stables.

Local frosts occurred during the night in Manitoba.

THROWS DOWN CHALLENGE TO CONSERVATIVE LEADER

Hon. Mr. Pugsley Invites Action in Courts Over Statements Re $500,000 Campaign Fund.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 18.—Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of public works, was today elected by acclamation as the St. John City and County representative in the House of Commons.

In a short speech the minister referred to criticisms in the press following his Fairville remarks regarding certain charges some of the leaders of the Conservative party made against the Government and its supporters, and criticised Mr. Borden and his speeches for dealing with petty questions and scandals. Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, was not taking the part of a man in his great position when he went about the country and charged the Government with all kinds of electoral frauds, and let gentlemen on the platform with him make charges more reckless than he himself made.

Conservative Campaign Fund.

In reference to his Fairville remarks about the 1904 Conservative election fund of half a million, Mr. Pugsley said if Mr. Borden had any hesitation in taking action against him as a public man because of his Fairville speech, let him pick out the Sun newspaper, if he liked, and act against it. He (Mr. Pugsley) would say that he had consulted with the editor of the Sun, and no plea of privilege would be put up by the paper. They would say the statements were libelous if not true, and opportunity could be taken to present the facts to the people of the country.

Nurse Volunteers to Care for Woman

The case of Mrs. Smith, the unfortunate woman who is dying from tuberculosis, as reported in yesterday's Advertiser, has awakened considerable interest about the city. The case was reported to Inspector McCallum, and an attempt will be made to force the husband, who has left her, to support her. The inspector laid the matter before Mayor Judd this morning, and whatever steps necessary will be taken in the matter.

Health Officer Hutchinson visited the woman this morning, and disaffected the house, and did other necessary things. He reports the case as very distressing.

"The woman may live two or three months," said Dr. John D. Wilson this morning to The Advertiser. "I called this morning, and there was nothing for her to eat. Arrangements were made for the day, but something should be done for the woman. Her husband is employed with a large firm in the city, and he should be compelled to contribute something for her keep." Miss Talbot, a graduate nurse, has volunteered to nurse the woman for two weeks for nothing, and this morning was on the case.

COAL PRICES REMAIN STATIONARY

Local householders need have no fear of a further increase in the price of coal this year, according to several of the leading dealers.

If an increase does come, however, it will be nothing less than fifty cents a ton. Local dealers say that they always stand the first losses of an increase at the mines, and then go up a half dollar when the second fall raises at the mines takes place.

There was an increase in prices at the mines in September, but another one is not looked for this year with the possible exception of pea coal, which London people are just beginning to use.

ALL COREA ABLAZE WITH REVOLT; KILL JAP SOLDIERS AND CIVILIANS

Tokio, Sept. 19.—The prospect of annexation by Japan seems again looming before the Korean people. Marquis Ito is quoted as saying that in view of the increasing gravity of the situation, it may be necessary to alter Japan's policy, that the present situation indicates that the entire people are unfriendly, and if they persist in that attitude it will be the last day for them.

Reports to the Tokio papers state the insurgents are gathering from all sections around the city of Seoul with a view of attacking the capital itself. The size of their force is unknown, but one body is reported as 800.

Roaming bands of Koreans, under the leadership of former soldiers, are operating in all sections of the country, killing the Japanese police, the Japanese railroad and telegraph operators and civilians, and all Koreans suspected of friendship for the Japanese. These bands scatter in the mountains upon the appearance of the Japanese troops, but usually not before sustaining heavy losses. Following the policy promulgated by General Hayagawa, many villages are being wiped out by the Japanese troops as a punishment for some of the inhabitants joining the insurgents. Both sides are charged with atrocities.

The expedition sent against the pirates at Noddo was completely annihilated, the bodies of the Japanese soldiers and their Korean guides comprising the expedition being found by a rescuing party horribly mutilated.

The first battalion of reinforcements from Japan arrived at Pusan yesterday, and others are en route. So far the losses of the Japanese troops are comparatively small. The Korean losses are unreported, but must run into thousands.

AYLMER MAKES MUCH OF BISHOP IN DETROIT SCHOOL

Met by Large Delegation and Escorted to Home of His Brother.

Aylmer, Sept. 18.—The Lord Bishop of London arrived here from St. Thomas at 3:40 p.m. today. Mr. F. H. Ingram, his brother, accompanied by his wife, left for St. Thomas on the noon train. They joined the bishop there, and returned with him. A little band of the town's notables were at the station to receive his lordship. David Marshall, M.P., rector's warden of Trinity Church, where the bishop will preach on Sunday, conveyed the party to the home of the bishop's brother, nine miles south of here, in his automobile. Mr. E. A. Miller, people's warden, of Trinity Church, greeted the bishop on behalf of the parish. E. R. Hill, manager of the Molsche Bank, Dr. John J. Kingston, A. E. Haines, H. Backus, Mayor Ernest E. C. Kilmer, Thos. Barnecott, and J. G. Heiter, representative citizens, were present to extend the town's greetings to the eminent churchman.

The arrival of the bishop afforded the town the opportunity of holding an informal reception at the station. The bishop will spend tomorrow enjoying a well-earned rest at his brother's beautiful home.

His first public appearance before he preaches on Sunday will be on the lawn of Mr. Ingram's home on Friday afternoon, when the bishop will give a half hour's address.

Miss Lillian Berry, Formerly of This City, Honored in Michigan.

The Informer, the organ of the colored people of Michigan, contains the following article in reference to Miss Lillian Berry, daughter of Mr. Wm. Berry, who formerly conducted a barber shop in the Market Lane here. Miss Berry is one of the very few colored teachers in the schools of the north. The Informer says:

"It is with unfeigned pleasure that the Informer announces the appointment of Miss Berry as a teacher in Detroit's public schools. Miss Berry is the fifth colored American to be appointed teachers in our public schools, and it speaks mountains for the spirit of fairness among some of Detroit's officials."

"Miss Berry received her certificate from Superintendent Martindale last week, was assigned to Clinton avenue school, and assumed her duties. Monday morning of this week. The Informer, on the part of Detroit's colored Americans, extends thanks to the school board for its fairness and broad-minded action in ignoring the much-touted color line in making this appointment."

"Miss Berry is a graduate of Fisk University, also of the State Normal at Ypsilanti, and we are proud of her. Inspector Treppa is said to have taken a special interest in Miss Berry's appointment."
