BAD WEATHER SPOILS MARKET

LOCAL MARKET.

Monday, Dec. 30. The weather spoiled the market today. There was no hay, oats or 41s 3d. straw offered, and therefore there should be an excellent demand in these lines at tomorrow's market.

The dealers expect to see quite large supply of poultry at temorrow's market, and look for a brisk trade in this line.

A carload of live hogs was purchased by D. McIntyre at $5 50 per cwt. for selects.

The English markets are weaker, and the local buyers expect that lower prices will prevall.
