usually be successfully treated at home by an internal mcZicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could starcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength) about 90 cents worth. Take this home and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the Inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly ai-wavs quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial—Addyt.

SPEAKS TO CATHOLIC CLUB

Opening Session Marked by Addresses of Bishop and Returned Chaplain.

An attendence which filled St. Peter's Parish Hall to the doors last night marked the opening of the 1917holic Club. The program was an ellent one, and was pleasingly excellent one, and was pleasingly varied. Addresses were given by Bishop M. F. Fallon and Rev. (Major) O'Gorman. Later in the evening refreshments were served, and the floor was given over to dancing.

Bishop Fallon's address was a short one. He urged those present to support Washington, Oct. 20.—Six million Mexican silver pesos have been bought by the United States treasury department at 88% cents each, for minting into half dollars, dimes and quarters. The treasury acted when faced with the necessity of buying silver for coinage at steadily increasing prices, which at their height brought the value of the metal dangerously close to the minted value.

metal dangerously close to the minted value.

Now the price of silver in this country has dropped precipitately. The swift collapse, from $1.16 to Soc per ounce, a decline of 31 cents within three weeks, has resulted in an investigation to determine whether the market had been manipulated. The high prices recently prevailing are regarded as wholly unwarranted by officials here.

Grand Trunk Men Help In Food Production Campaign

Twenty-one thousand cabbares have been grown this year by the men of the Grand Trunk Railway shops at Battle Creek, Mich. The employees of the railway throughout Canada and the United States are giving their active support to the important national campaigns for increasing the supply of foodstuffs, and garden plots have sprung up on vacant land owned by the Company at scores of points on the line. The men are in many instances working on a co-operative basis, large tracts of land being cultivated during the noon hour. The men at Battle Creek, in addition to the great amount of other produce, have twenty-six acres planted with potatoes.

AMANITA HAS PRETTY NAME AND FORM WESTERN ONTARIO BUT "SHE" IS AMONG MOST DEADLY OF HER SPECIES KNOWN LOCALLY

ness informed The Advertiser, "and while it is never plentiful anywhere, one will come across them occasionally here. It is something like the common variety, being a white plant, but it has a volva or cup at the base of the stem, and in this way it can be distinguished from the edible varieties. Sometimes when it is pulled up the cup remains in the ground, and it is not noticed by the person picking the mushrooms. A careless person would mistake it for the edible variety, but a careful person would not."

person picking the mushrooms. A careless person would mistake it for the edible variety, but a careful person would not."

Absence of Cup Safety Sign.

The gills on the under side of the cup of the amanita are white, and do not become brown, as they do in the other varieties. In the edible kind the gills are creamy white, growing brownish in the older specimens, or pink, growing black as the plant gets older. The ordinary type which may be safely eaten has no cup beneath. The common with the deadly amanita a collar or veil around the stem below the cup. The buttons, or mushrooms in the younger stages, have in both the edible and nonedible variety, a veil extending from the stem to the edge of the cup, covering the gills. Buttons should be left alone by the amateur.

There are two or three other members of the amanita family that are also poisonous, according to Professor Dearness, but they are not so much like the common variety is the orange-yellow stump mushroom which is often confused with the edible variety, the honey-colored mushroom. The latter differs in shape and is light yellow in shade, while the poisonous orange-yellow variety is much heavier and dasker.

According to mycologists there is no antidote for mushroom poisoning but to avoid eating the wrong kind of plants. Mortality is stated to be 30 per cent. in cases of mushroom poisoning, a higher rate than prevails from poisoning by pny other vegetable. A strong man can sometimes survive eating varieties which would kill women and children. The fifth day is usually the critical one, and if a patient survives it, he will probably recover although the effects may last years.

Silver Test Useless.

The method of putting a plece of silver in the pot to test the mushrooms for poison is useless, it is stated, because any stale vegetable thus tested, will discolor silver.

It is interesting to note in these days of the high cost of eating that mushrooms have been called vegetable meats, but although they contain nearly as much altrogen as meat, according to having said to have eaten about to varieties.

Although there has been a good crop of mushrooms this year, Professor Dearness has not heard of any cases of poisoning here as yet. In previous years a number of cases have been reported in Toronto and in the United States cities.

BACK TO THE FARM [Written for The Advertiser by London's Patrolman Poet.]

This year the farmer's slogan was

"Come, boys, and give a hand, The crops so bounteously bestowed Must not be left to stand;

Your King and country needs men, but The Allies call to you

To back them up with nature's store, That they may pull right through." I'd traveled through the country far,

I'd seen the crops, so great, The oats, the wheat, the barley, corn,

In nature's perfect state;
*Must it for want of help, so scarce,
Be left to stand and rot?

She took me out to see the cows, Fresh from the pastures green; Said I, "They are a lovely lot, In fact, the best I've seen."

Just then my eyes lit on a pail.

Without the slightest fear.

I milked about a couple quarts

I took my annual holidays, Back to the farm I sped,
And to the farmer's buxom wife,

No. no, a thousand times, NO, NO, We'll garner in the lot.

"I've come to help," I said. She looked me up and down, then smiled, Said to her daughter, Kitty,

A one-legged stool was near— I grabbed them both, sat down and milked

As fast as any farmer;
"You're not a 'greenhorn,' sir," said she.
Said I, "You are a charmer."

Just then the cow began to move,
She flapped me with her tall,
And not contented doing this,

Washed both feet in the pail.

We then went round to see the pigs;

We then went back into the house;

We then went back into the Pouse;
The mother said, "Well, Litty,
Be he the 'greenhorn' as I said
Had just come from the city?"
The girl replied, "Well, mother, dear,
He milks well like a farmer.
But if he feeds our old sow hay,
He's surely going to harm her."

I spent two weeks upon the farm,
I worked just like a nigger,
And stooking up the wheat and oats
Filled me with vim and vigor.
The change was like a holiday,
It kept me trim and fit.
To garner in the Allies' crop,
I know Two done my bit

I know I've done my bit.

London, Ont., Oct. 4, 1917.

We then went round to see the pigs;
She said, "Sir, we have thirty,
The dearest, sweetest, fattest things,
But my, they're awful dirty."
"They're looking fine, the best I've seen
For many and many a day."
Said I, "To keep them in that shape
You must have fed them, eh." (Hay).

"Just show this 'greenhorn' round the barn, He be come from the city."

Friday's Examination of 112 Men Shows 71 Fit For Front Line.

Only seven men have reported under the military service act at the Armor-ies here. Five of these sent their re-ports for service through the local post-office, one through the postoffice at Kirkton and one through Stratford. All were Class A 2, six of them being as-signed to the 1st Depot Battalion. Western Ontario Regiment, at Queen's Park, and one to the Army Service Corps.

Western Ontario Regiment, at Queen's Park, and one to the Army Service Corps.

Examination of men under the act was still at its height on Friday in spite of the fact that new boards have been authorized in other parts of the board to relieve the work devolving on boards already by operation. The line-up of men waiting examination is a daily sight at the Armories now, and every morning nearly a score of motor cars are parked before the building while their owners are undergoing examination. The benches in the balcony of the building are filled throughout the day with men waiting their turn.

On Friday 112 men were examined under the act, and three with a view to enlistment. The three recruits were L. C. Dougherty, Cheyenne, Wyoming, a Class C man, who was assigned to the Special Service Company; R. G Wilson, Class B, assigned to the Veterinary Corps, and T. H. Ewans, a Class C man, assigned to the Military Police Force.

The men examined under the act were categorized as follows:
Class A, combatant service overseas 71 Class B, non-combatant service overseas.

18 Class C. service in Canada

$100 in Christmas Prizes WHAT PRESENTS ARE IN THE CARS

So that we may become acquaint-ed with more young people this Christmas, we are giving you this train loaded down with Christmas presents. Each car contains one kind of present and the name is on each car but the man who painted the name got the letters all jumbled. Worse still, the man who coupled the cars got them in the wrong order. Now, can you straighten things out and re-arrange the letters in the names of the presents in each car and put the cars in their sight each car and put the cars in their right order behind the locomotive?

Car No. 6, DOES ILL, contains "Dollies." other cars may contain gloves, candy, baseballs, animals, bicycles, building blocks, skipping ropes, nine pins, engines, skates, Noah's Ark, perfume, lanterns, tools, footballs, games, or something else. It is for you to find out.

Should you get the cars behind the locomotive in their right order, you will find that the first letter of the correct name of each Christmas present in each car when these first letters are all put together will spell out the name of a great Nation in Europe, one of-the Allies—a Nation whose Navy controls the Oceans.

the Occans.

On Christmas Day, Uncle Peter, who edits the Bunny Page in EVERYWOMAN'S WORLD, will judge the answers and award the following big cash prizes to young people under seventeen years of age complying with the conditions of the contest, whose answers are all correct or nearest correct, neatest and best written. So get busy and send in an answer to-day, and this Christmas Season may be the happiest you have ever had.

The Big Cash Prizes

$25.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl who sends us the best reply. $15.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl sending the second best reply. $10.00 Cash to the Boy or Girl sending the third best reply. DOLLAR BILLS. Fifty bright, new, crisp $1.00 bills to the fifty next Boys and Girls with the 50 next best replies. If you are bright and quick you will also have the opportunity of winning a Shetland Pony and Cart of Bicycle and many other fine prizes in a pleasant contest even more interesting that this one.

Send Your Answer This Very Evening!

BURGOMASTER ADOLPH MAX of Brussels, is seriously ill in a German prison at Cello, Prussia. All attempts for one of the fine prizes will be required to perform a small service for Everywoman's World for which additional Reward or Cash Payment will be given. Wouldn't you like a Shetland Pony and Cart or Bicycle? These fine prizes will go to our young frends and we would like you for the defaunt attitude Max has always shown to his country's ravagers.
