WEST YORK CONS. HELD GREAT RALLY IN WESTON

Saturday's Meeting Best in Years —North York Liberals Held Executive Meeting.

WESTON, Feb. 13.—(Special).—The annual meeting of the West York Liberal-Conservative Association, held in Eagle's Hall on Saturday, was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in this historic old riding.

From first to last the big gathering simply overflowed with enthusiasm and heartiness, and all the speakers, and there was a big crowd of them, were received with a heartiness which left nothing to be desired. It was a great gathering and Capt. Tom Wallace (who had come up from Ottawa for the occasion) and Dr. Godfrey, the provincial member, were cheered to the echo. Capt. Wallace made an excellent address, and later took the train for Ottawa.

The public speaking was preceded by the annual election of officers, these gentlemen being elected:

President, A. W. A. Baird; vice-president, Dr. Emmerson Bull; secretary, Fred Rowntree; and treasurer, Thos. Griffith. Vice-presidents for districts: Robert Williams, Jos. R. Bull, T. H. Thompson, W. A. McMaster and Sam Ryding.

Chairmen of Districts.

These chairmen were chosen for the several districts—Amos Maynard, Woodbridge—No. 1, Mr. Crook; No. 2, Mr. Savage; No. 3, George Bagger; No. 4, Jas. McNeil; No. 5, F. Brownlee; No. 6, Mr. Ham; No. 7, Sam McClure; No. 8, Henry Ellis.

Etobicoke—No. 1, Mr. Lockwood; No. 2, Mr. Warner; No. 3, Mr. Wheeler; No. 4, Mr. Harris; No. 5, Mr. Thompson; No. 6, Mr. Ode; No. 7, Mr. Baird; No. 8, Mr. Mackay.

West York—No. 1, Mr. Beggie; No. 2, Mr. Burns; No. 3, Mr. Carter; No. 4, Mr. Conitt; No. 5, Mr. Carter; No. 6, Mr. McFarlane; No. 7, Mr. Ashman; No. 8, Mr. Yeatman; No. 9, Mr. Smith; No. 10, Mr. Buchanan; No. 11, W. A. Carson.

Weston—John Humphrey.

The elections over, President-elect Baird took the chair and short addresses were given by Dr. Godfrey, Dr. Bull, Reeve, Bull of Weston, Ex-President Edwards, Dr. Kaiser of Ottawa, and Capt. Wallace, M.P.

"I want to deny most emphatically the statement that there is any dissension of moment in the Conservative ranks at Ottawa," said Capt. Wallace, and the lusty lunged conservedly present made the rafter's wall ring with applause.

"Some few members from Quebec may not see eye to eye with our leader, but the great Conservative party stands solidly behind the policy of money or breadstuffs for Great Britain," where there was thunderous applause.

"The day is coming, and that speedily, when Quebec will not dominate the situation," said the member for Centre York. "A Canadian navy in the opinion of Capt. Wallace will give chance for growth and development in the north and west, and wrong doing." He further said that the policy of Quebec was to hand down the Union Jack. The member for Centre York spoke vigorously and effectively.

Dr. Kaiser paid a graceful tribute to the memory of the late Hon. N. Oakes, and urged a large representation from West York in the Conservative Convention in June.

Banquet the Best Ever.

Following the afternoon speaking, the annual banquet was held in the Eagle House, but so many were unable to get there that scores were unable to get anywhere near the banquet hall, and in the afternoon orations in the public hall, the evening dinner was a worse affair than the Robert Shillington, M.L.A., A. A. Greig, M.L.A., W. H. Hearst, M.L.A., and Dr. B. Godfrey, M.L.A., spoke, the latter former in the business of the Lake Superior Steel Corporation was increased from $6,000,000 last year," said Mr. Hearst, noting the progress in the election resulting in his return at Sault Ste.

"Good," Says the Connoisseur

Some men have so long smoked inferior cigarettes that they're lost the power to discriminate.

But, just as one's taste may be thus dulled, so the taste of unworthy brands, so unfortunately—can it be educated back again to the good kind.

TUCKETT'S CIGARETTES

Start smoking these cigarettes right now—the kind the connoisseur calls "good."

There's a fifty years' reputation back of the name "Tuckett," to justify the faith all discriminating smokers have in Tuckett goods.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MEET AND MAKE IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS.

NORTH TORONTO, Feb. 13.—The finance committee met in the town hall Saturday night, Councillor Lawrence in the chair.

A communication was received from The Mogarh Railway Co. asking the town council to pass a resolution in support of their application for a charter in the town boundaries, the committee recommended that no action be taken until the solicitor has reported on the matter.

A communication was received from Dr. Hodgetts re the further spread of rabies in Ontario, and the prevention of infection to humans.

The water, fire and light committee reported that the contractor who is sinking test wells at the waterworks, had reached the depth of 100 feet, and it was decided to continue boring until Tuesday evening, provided that he does not strike water or shale before that time.

Town Clerk Douglas asked permission to install a loose leaf system, and the committee recommended that in the meantime he procure a loose leaf ledger for water takers' accounts and an ordinary bound ledger for general accounts.

Tenders were received for $5000 of 4 1/2 per cent debentures. Messrs. Wood, Grundy & Co. were the successful tenderers at $490.

Applications for the position of assistant town clerk were considered and the committee recommended J. M. Ainslie be appointed at a salary of $450 per annum.

The committee also recommended that council make a grant of $100 to the town band.

H. B. Gordon, of Messrs. Gordon & Helliwell, architects, Toronto, will address the young people of Zion Baptist Church to-morrow night on his experiences while travelling in Manchuria, Japan and Corea.

A mothers' meeting in connection with Eglington Methodist Church is to be held at the residence of Mrs. W. A. Ellis, Bedford Park, next Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

HIGH AND PROVINCIAL CONSTABLES.

Editor World: Keen disappointment has taken the place of hope, as far as high constables are concerned, and provincial constables, who do not happen to live on the frontiers or in the Cobalt district.

Provincial constables are, as a rule, high constables of counties, and vice versa. Some of them receive small salaries, ranging from $100 per annum, and fees, to $500 without fees. The provincial appointment in most cases is to a great extent honorary.

At one time a good deal was heard about the reorganization of the county constabulary, and it was hoped and even suggested that the obsolete and everything within reach would be abolished and competent men paid a fair remuneration for their services.

It does not appear fair that one part of the provincial police (i.e., the newly appointed provincial police) should be paid by salary and the remainder, some of whom have held the commissions for years, by a system of nearly 50 years ago. One body is allowed salary and expenses; the other is expected to detect and punish criminals at its own expense, and wait three months for its salary. The expenses, even then, are seldom fully paid. The prisoner is allowed his bed and breakfast, but the man in charge of him has to pay the bill out of his own pocket. This may be a good deal depends upon the constable's judgment as to what the tariff really is. In some instances, others disallow terms and blame the government auditors.

Crown Attorney Washington of Wentworth County recently asked the county council of Wentworth County to appoint a salaried high constable, "who would be available to go to any part of the country where his services are required to see the amount of his salary with a good deal of interest."

County councils that will not vote a thousand dollars in aid of a hospital will be likely to vote an adequate salary to a high constable in whose work they take little or no interest.

As regards the hospital matter, reference is not particularly made to Wentworth County, but county councils as a rule do not treat seriously the prevention and detection of crime. It is important and less expensive and better for all concerned than detection. It requires watchfulness, means to carry out the work, and a healthy and continuously by men of education and intelligence.

The writer received the other day a letter from a man who is constable. Its first paragraph ran thus: "Dear Sir:—There is a case of purged them self upon these oaths."

"And as it is a crown case would like if you would take hold of it."

As a constable this man is above the average, and is it not time, sir, that the whole and not a part of the so-called Ontario constabulary was put upon an up-to-date footing? Criminal justice and procedure outside of the larger centres is a farce, and ignorance and contempt above brings about contempt.

"Blind pig" hunting in the Cobalt district appears to be the main result of the new order of things. This part of the new organization are closely held, and no advertising done, it escaped early publicity. The gold bearing rock extends from south of Larder, north to Munro, and west to Percupine, and probably much farther. Over 20 years ago Sir Wm. Dawson, in his "Geological Formation of Canada," wrote: "Eventually great riches in gold and silver must be found in the Mackenzie River, in Northern Ontario, and Central Labrador, on account of their geological formation." North Ontario has the right formation. It is only a question of finding the deposits. I will send you rock showing what Munro contains 60 ft down.

In forty-three churches in East York yesterday, leading speakers in close touch with the work of the Dominion Temperance Alliance were dealing with the drink traffic. Weather conditions were especially favorable for the bringing out of large congregations and resulting from a number of the villages ports from a number of the villages indicate great interest and fine crowds.

MUNRO NOT IN SAMPLE STAGE.

Editor World: I was surprised to read in "The World," usually so well informed on Ontario mines, that Munro was yet in the "sample stage." Munro is a 60-foot shaft (60 feet 4 inches) north of Larder, possibly north of Cobalt. The richest samples of free gold on the 60 ft level. Only one piece showing free gold was assayed. It ran over $7000 per ton. We could easily have had assays much higher. At 60 ft level we have drifts running over 50 ft. We have the most comfortable mining camp north of Larder, seven houses, our own assay outfit and office, and a well timbered shaft. As Munro property is closely held, and no advertising done, it escaped early publicity. The gold bearing rock extends from south of Larder, north to Munro, and west to Percupine, and probably much farther. Over 20 years ago Sir Wm. Dawson, in his "Geological Formation of Canada," wrote: "Eventually great riches in gold and silver must be found in the Mackenzie River, in Northern Ontario, and Central Labrador, on account of their geological formation." Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause to One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

English medical observer claims that for one death from starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats, one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Some of the effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 3000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome. It is the least of its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every drug-carrying store has them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion, send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 124 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEW MARKET.

Minister of Justice Visits the Town, But Finds Sty of the Canal.

NEW MARKET, Feb. 13.—(Special).—Even the presence of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, and Hon. A. G. MacKay, at the annual meeting of the North York Liberal Association here Saturday failed to arouse any enthusiasm. The attendance was not large nor yet representative.

W. C. Widdfield presided, and these officers were elected: Hon. president, H. W. Fleury; president, W. C. Widdfield; vice-president, Fred. Underhill; secretary, J. M. Walton; treasurer, Eugene Rowen; finance committee, Messrs. Walton, Underhill, Aubrey Davis, J. F. Cane and Eugene Rowen.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth occupied a good portion of his address, a lengthy one, in explaining his only periodical appearance in North York, and charged that his duties at Ottawa were too onerous to permit of more frequent visits.

He delved deeply into the matter of the fishery dispute between Canada and the United States, going as far and back in ancient history as 1818, to prove his contention. The minister of justice eschewed wholly matters local, and said never a word about the Newmarket canal.

Hon. A. G. MacKay attacked the Whitney government for what he called their "centralization of power," which, he claimed, was dangerous and inimical to the best interests of the country. He attacked their policy with respect to hydro-electric matters and charged that in 15 or 18 municipalities,

TO WALK IN THE COUNTRY, WHERE I COME FROM.

I don't know, about the Hishu's, but in Ayr—oh it's a beautiful country. There's such fine trees there, blueberries, raspberries and partridges, and trout jumping under the bridges—only you don't touch any of them. Ah, yes, I used to weave 18 power looms in one factory now. And the old hand weaver looks at you with an undying wonder in his eyes—that such transformation could be possible in the time of one man's life.

"Ah, yes, Ayrshire is a grand country, and a grand climate—(with a wistful smile), a man's home must be where he can sell his wares. Still, when I think of it, I would like to be back in Ayr. There's a small of salt there, and the seaweed is a pleasant thing to remember. There's no snow here in Ayr—if it falls it's gone overnight. There's not much sickness there—no influenza I never saw—and people get so old they go bent almost double on their sticks. It's the salt air from the harbor. I think it must be that. It's grand anywhere but under the Old Flag. You see I used to suffer."

The old weaver from Ayr will tell you how he enlisted at 17, how he told a "lie" about his age to the sergeant, putting on an extra six months that his appearance befitting to join his regiment, the 68th of the Line, at the time of the American Civil War, and how the 4th were held in Montreal in case the Federal troops should cross into Canada. Then he will explain that he went back to Woolwich, where he worked in the Arsenal for 20 years before returning to his native Ayrshire, and his old trade of weaving woolen yarn into cloth. And after that again, comes the factory system, and his migration to Canada for good, 27 years ago. He and his old hand loom are the American Civil War, and his migration to Canada for good, 27 years ago. He and his old hand loom are the American Civil War, and his migration to Canada for good, 27 years ago.

TO WALK IN THE COUNTRY, WHERE I COME FROM.

Standing beside the old loom one realizes, too, the truth of Jamieson belongs to that day, and to just such a village.

"The factories come in," says he, "and the hand loom had to go. Why, they have as many as 300 power looms in one factory now. And the old hand weaver looks at you with an undying wonder in his eyes—that such transformation could be possible in the time of one man's life."

A Little Bit of "Thrums" Has Been Brought to Simpson's

YOU all will mind "A Window in Thrums," the book that Mr. James M. Barrie made out about the hand-loom weaver bodies of the Lowlands and the women folk and the ministers, and the little bare white house and poor Jess at her window overlooking the brae, for twenty years an invalid.

Simple, happy, poor, God-fearing folk, these people of Thrums, who wove the tweeds and plaid shawls which made Scotch weaving famous long, long before the advent of the power loom. It seems a far way back to those days—time has raced ahead so fast in the last fifty years. Hand-loom shawls, hand-loom curtains, hand-loom carpets, hand-loom clothing, cloths do not belong to the generation which knows of rows and tiers of machines driven by electric motors and engines forced by steam.

And yet one lifetime spans the transition from the primitive to the modern, from the cottage weaver and his hand loom to the great factory with its hundreds of looms and its organized array of employes. This week we have an Ayrshire man and his old hand loom at work in our Carpet Department close beside a power loom from one of the largest of our Canadian factories. One is impressed as by an object lesson with the great historical fact of our own times—the modern Renaissance, the wonderful re-birth of invention, which of a sudden moved the world from stage coaches into railway trains, from sailing ships into iron-clad, steam-driven palaces, from primitive water wheels to turbines and dynamos, from clogs, in short, to wings.

TWO WINDSOR POLICEMEN ATTACKED BY PRISONER

Young German, Somewhat Crazed, Goes for the Officers With an Iron Bar.

WINDSOR, Feb. 13.—(Special).—For the second time in six months, Windsor police station was the scene of a prisoner trying to escape. Officer William Lister, who was shot by young Richard Kraft last fall, received a bad scalp wound from an iron bedpost wielded by F. J. Stroyens, a young German. Patrolman George Livingstone was wounded on the arm by the same weapon before the prisoner was subdued.

Stroyens, who gave his address as 91 State-street, Detroit, was stopped by the American immigration officials as he was about to board a ferry boat for Windsor, and was sent to the police station to await investigation. He cannot speak English. He apparently is terrified at the sight of steel bars, and
