Caps For Maids and Nurses

Plain Styles for Morning, Fancyer Styles for Afternoon—With the "Sister Dora" as a Prime Favorite

AUTUMN is settling down in earnest. It is the time when houses are being put in good order for the indoor season. If maids' caps are on your list of things required, then note the various styles and good values in the following list from the Maids' Cap Section of the Millinery Department.

The "Sister Dora," made with high turn-back band in front—in fine white lawn, with shirring string at back to let out gathers for washing, priced 25 cents.

"Sister Dora" caps with edges of lawn hemstitched, price 35 cents, and trimmed with tucks and embroidery, 50 cents.

The "Quaker" cap similar in style to the "Sister Dora," but made of dotted muslin with the "turn-back" of embroidery. In two qualities at 25 cents and 35 cents.

The "Empire Bow"—a smart little bow of hemstitched lawn with medallion set in either end—price 15 and 20 cents each.

The "Coronet" cap—made of ruffled embroidery in coronet shape and adjusted for easy laundering. Price, 35 cents.

The "Sybil" cap—consisting of two bands of insertion finished off at either end with rosettes and embroidered end. Price, 35 cents and 50 cents. —Second Floor, Centre.

The Overseas Depot

On the Second Floor, Albert Street, is established the Overseas Depot. Here you will see packages arranged by way of suggestion for gifts for soldiers. These parcels are made up from lists that have been found most popular with the soldiers, and attendants will be in charge to give information, offer suggestions, and to take charge of the wrapping, addressing, and shipping of parcels. —Second Floor, Albert St.

Miss MacMurchy's Special Reviews

Keep You in Immediate Touch With All That is New in Books—in Fiction, Poetry, Biography, etc.

THE LATEST WORK of well-known writers, any notable production by an unknown writer, any new collection or compilation that carries special interest—these will figure pre-eminently in the list of reviews by Miss Marjory MacMurchy, now posted in the Book Department. They will constitute the leading feature of this new service lately arranged for the benefit of patrons of the Department.

Here, for instance, is what Miss MacMurchy has to say about Sir Gilbert Parker's novel, just published, Mr. Bliss Carman's book of verse, and Mr. Thompson-Seton's latest animal stories:

"The World for Sale"—Sir Gilbert Parker.

This romantic story of the Canadian West was written by Sir Gilbert Parker before the War. Its characters include a strange mingling of races—Sydney, French-Canadian, Canadian, English, Georgian and negro. Fleda Druse, the roman girl, is a romantic type that finds a fit background in the Western p.p.s. Striking and quick action, the glamour of love and romance are good qualities in a very readable story. (Price $1.25.)

"April Airs"—Bliss Carman.

After the fine avian tradition of Canadian verse, Mr. Bliss Carman continues to write poems of Nature. He has lived in New England long enough to call this little volume "A Book of New England Lyrics," but he writes "A Remembrance."

"For spreading her old enchantment Of tender ineffable wonder, Summer is there in the Northland! How should I my heart not know!"

—Some of the loveliest songs he has written are in "April Airs." (Price, $1.00.)

"Wild Animal Ways"—Ernest Thompson-Seton.

"In Wild Animal Ways," the first story, "Coaly-Bay, the Outlaw Horse," is a good tale, and sets the reader free from his desk or her knitting. But Mr. Thompson-Seton has never written a better story of the wild than "Foam, or The Life and Adventure of a Razor-Backed Hog." It is a kee one back to the days when Mr. Thompson-Seton first began to write his wonderful stories. The story of Foam is a genuine Odyssey. It will arm a boy with the spirit of pluck, fidelity and hardihood, and will make us all think more, andy and reasonably of four-footed creatures. One of Mr. Thompson-Seton's earlier stories and one of his best, we can never forget the "Wild Animal Ways" is a fine book, splendid for boys and girls, and very good for the rest of the world. (Price, $1.25.)

Maids' Uniforms—Correct in Style, Excellent in Make

Pink and Blue Chambray and Percale Dresses for the Morning, Black Alpaca and Cotton Mohair for the Afternoon, and Gray Cotton Mohair and Mercerized Cotton for Nurses' Wear in General.

COOK, PARLOR-MAID, HOUSEMAID, NURSE—that each and all shall be neatly, smartly, and sensibly attired in the pursuit of their respective duties is the object of a special section of the Dress Department. Here are featured uniforms, well made in good, sturdy materials, every detail of their designing having been carefully considered with a view to convenience, comfort, and trim appearance.

The selection of styles includes dresses for morning and afternoon wearing. Thus:

Maid's dress in navy and white, or light blue, and white-striped percale, the plain bodice showing band collar of the percale with turn-over of white hemstitched lawn, the sleeve buttoned at the wrist, and the plain gored skirt boasting a patch pocket. In sizes 34 to 44. Price, $1.00.

Maid's dress in pink chambray, with flat turn-over collar, a sleeve with five buttons and buttonholes upward from the wrist, the pocket in this dress being on the bodice. Sizes 34 to 42. Price, $1.69.

Maid's dress in dull blue chambray, with flat, turn-over collar, sleeve buttoning at the wrist, and pocket on the bodice. Sizes 34 to 38. Price, $2.75.

Nursemaid's dress in gray cotton mohair, sometimes worn by housemaids for afternoons; the plain bodice, with Gibson pleat, showing band collar with turn-over and cuffs of white lawn. Sizes 34 to 42. Price, $2.50.

Nursemaid's or housemaid's dress in gray mercerized cotton, the bodice fastening at the side with smoked pearl buttons, and finished with a band collar with turn-over—cuffs to match—of white hemstitched lawn. Sizes 38 to 44. Price, $3.00.

Maid's afternoon dress in black cotton cashmere, with high neckband and cuffs and turn-over of white hemstitched lawn. Sizes 32 to 44. Price, $1.95.

Similar dress in black cotton mohair, with low turn-over collar and turn-back cuffs of white lawn. Sizes 34 to 42. Price, $2.75.

Maid's afternoon dress in black English alpaca, the waist showing small box pleats and convertible collar with over-collar of white organdy. This is procurable in sizes for smaller women, being featured in sizes 32 to 42. Price, $4.25.

—Third Floor, James St.

Scotch Fingering Yarn at $1.23 Per Pound

A Value Extraordinary in View of the Phenomenal Rise in Wool Prices—per Hank, 62 Cents; per Pound, $1.23; and per 6-pound Spindle, $7.38

HERE IS AN ITEM OF INTEREST for Red Cross workers and all those engaged in the knitting of soldiers' comforts, namely, this offer of 4-ply Scotch fingering yarn at $1.23 per pound.

Such a price was only made possible by the fact that the wool was purchased in enormous quantities before the great advance in the cost of yarn. It is medium grey in color, soft and firm in quality, and is offered at less than to-day's mill price.

In view of the scarcity of knitting yarn, and the immense demand for it, this particular supply is sure to be soon exhausted. Out-of-town customers who wish to procure any quantity are therefore urged to send in their order early. When ordering by mail, mark order 28-003. The price is 62 cents per hank; $1.23 per lb., and $7.38 per 6-lb. spindle.

T. EATON CO LIMITED

This is Interesting

MANY people who heard Professor Frank Alvah Parsons' recent lectures, and many who for some reason or other were not able to hear them, will be glad to know that this clever man's book on "Interior Decoration" is now available in the Book Department. After reading its interesting pages and studying its charming illustrations, one cannot fail to conclude that it more than justifies the little foreword on the title page. This declares it to be "A book of interior decoration that will be good for all time, because it is based not upon what is vogue at the moment, but what is right by the true principles of art and practice. From it the reader will learn not only what is good art in furnishing, but how to go about securing that result under any condition, whether it be for the home, public hall or hotel." The writer's treatment of historical period and characteristic styles in furniture and decoration is particularly entertaining to read and valuable to remember. The price of the book is $3.00.

Wear, doubtless, of waiting for skirts to grow long again trains have added to the new evening gowns, even though the same gowns still angle many lines above the instep in front. Young-looking, attenuated little trains they are consisting of a mere trailing strand of tulle or a limp, drooping pennant of velvet or brocade. Sometimes in fact they are so very meagre as to feel the necessity of repeating themselves of appearing in two, one on either side of the back. But, whatever their form, they are the finishing touch in many of the smartest dinner and dance frocks you see in New York. They will be forgotten, moreover, on certain of the French and American models in the little Grey and Rose rooms, in the Costume Department, here.

Another thing you notice down in Gotham is the real capriciousness of the new cape collars of moleskin, Hudson seal, ermine and other molash furs. Some of them reach to the very waist, where they are often bordered with rows of tails in true old-time fashion. On the young, slim figure they look delightfully quaint, and on the elderly woman they look charmingly picturesque. But she who is reluctantly turning the corner of middle age would be wise to choose one of the long, graceful stoles or jaunty little scarfs of black, taupe or cross fox. For capes verily have a tendency to make one look one's age.

The square-cut nail is a feature of some of the prettiest of the new blouses. It characterizes a delectable little model in flesh pink and Georgette crepe bound with satin of the same alluring tint, the price of which is $4.00.

A rug specialist gives these practical hints respecting the care of Oriental carpets:
Oriental rugs should not be beaten, as this is liable to break the warp. They should be kept lying flat on the floor and cleaned by a broom or vacuum machine. If they are soiled or stained the wisest plan is to have them washed by a reliable cleaner, a process which adds to the life and lustre of a good carpet. To change the position of a rug is also advisable, as it distributes the wear and thus makes for greater durability. The Rug Department on the Fourth Floor undertakes the washing of Oriental rugs as described.
