Now Tied For Lead.

As a result of their 10 to 9 win over St. Peter's last evening on the Queen's diamond, the St. George's team is tied for first place with St. Peter's. The game was highly contested throughout and attracted a crowd of more than 1,000. St. George's was a home team and what should have been a home run, but was called out, and was called out. Conlon and E. Campbell suggested a triple and C. Merryweather, Conlon, McKinnon and Murphy were base hits. E. O'Toole, McKinnon and Campbell each pilfered two.

Groh Signs.

Cincinnati, June 2.—Henry K. Groh, club captain and third baseman of the Cincinnati Nationals, signed his contract with the club's terms yesterday. He accepted the salary of $10,000, but his pay will not start until he is contacted by Judge Landis, so August Herman, president of the club said. President Herman also said that Groh would probably be traded to the club that makes the best offer. Groh held out obstinately for $12,000 salary and it is believed that he signed with the understanding that he be traded. He has avowed that he would never again play in a Red uniform.

MILLIONS WASTED BY FOREST FIRES

(Clyde Leavitt in Conservation.)

With the opening of another fire season, the question of forest fire losses becomes of direct personal interest to every Canadian. Forest protective organizations, dominion, provincial, and private, are increasing in strength and efficiency, and make his interest felt in the matters of improved administration, and protection of our forests. Governments and legislative bodies are, for the most part, alive to the situation, but they are keenly susceptible to enlightened public opinion, and, in fact, require its support when measures are under consideration involving large expenditures or material changes in policy.

Expenditures on forest protection must be regarded as an investment not only for the future but for the present as well. If existing merchantable timber is to be kept from destruction, for immediate use, and if the vast areas of young forest growth are to be preserved, to comprise the forests of the future, very substantial expenditures must be incurred for this purpose and to be secured for them that non-scrupulous lands will be kept in a perpetually productive condition.

The forest is a crop which may be perpetuated by wise use, but which will inevitably be destroyed by unwise use. Irrefutable evidence of this may be seen over thousands of square miles in both Canada and the United States. In all of our forest provinces, other than the prairie provinces, adequate protection will involve the expenditure of only a reasonable fraction of the crown timber revenue. There has in the past been too strong a tendency to divert an unduly large proportion of the forest revenue to purposes of general governmental administration, leaving the forest to be regarded as a mine to be exploited, rather than as a crop to be reproduced.

Educational propaganda for greater care by the general public in preventing and extinguishing forest fires is of incalculable value, and can scarcely be overdone.

It is of the greatest importance to Canada to perpetuate the source of the raw material upon which are dependent the great timber industries of the dominion. These industries provide employment for some 80,000 men and an avenue for the investment of probably more than $400,000,000 of capital. Forest products comprise one of the largest items in our export trade and are a vital factor in the exchange situation.

With adequate protection, and scientific yet practical administration, these great industries may be still further developed and maintained for all time to come. Without them, they must inevitably diminish, as are already the great timber industries of the eastern and southern states, for lack of these vital elements.

Really adequate protection from destruction by fire is the keystone of the forest arch.
