SCHOOL CHILDREN DECLARE A STRIKE.

Told to Transfer to Another Building in Brooklyn, They Defy Principal Issuing Order.

(N. Y. Herald.)

More than one hundred of the pupils of school No. 136, Fourth avenue and Forty-first street, South Brooklyn, have rebelled against their transfer to school No. 82, Fourth avenue and Thirty-sixth street, and have declared they will not make the change. They have appealed to the political leaders of the sections, and will use every influence to prevent the order from going into effect.

When Edward Dewey, the principal, made the order on Friday the pupils refused to go to the new school and remained away for the rest of the day. They have seen Harry Banbury, the republican leader of the district, and Deputy Fire Commissioner William A. Doyle, the democratic leader, and asked them to use their influence to have the order rescinded.

Mr. Dewey declared yesterday that the order would stand, and that if the pupils were not at school on Monday their parents would be summoned to court for an explanation. School No. 136 is overcrowded. Trouble is looked for tomorrow.

NEWSPAPER MAN MARRIED.

H. V. McKinnon, of the Sun, Wedded in Charlottetown Today.

The marriage took place at half-past seven o'clock this morning, in the First Methodist church, Charlottetown, P. E. I., of Miss Edith Louise Dutcher, youngest daughter of the late Rev. C. W. Dutcher, formerly of the Methodist church, Carleton, to Hedley V. McKinnon, city editor of the Daily Sun, St. John. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Dobson, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a green tailor made costume trimmed with cream broadcloth, with hat to match. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon left for a two weeks' trip to Buffalo, Niagara and other American cities. They pass through St. John this evening. On their return they will reside at 279 Charlotte street, St. John.

A SMART OLD LADY.

Mrs. Christie and Miss Christie, who have been spending the summer at Mascarene, Charlotte Co., have returned home. During the summer Mrs. Christie celebrated her 89th birthday, and in spite of her advanced years is smarter than many of half her age. On her way home she thought nothing of walking from the ferry floats to her residence on Pitt street.

ERIN STREET DUMP IS O. K.

Board of Health Say There's Nothing the Matter With the Smell There Now.

The dump in the rear of the Aberdeen school, Erin street, is evidently not yet a disposed of matter. The common council yesterday received a communication from the board of school trustees, urging action in the direction of suppressing the dump, which was described as a menace to the health of something like 350 children. The common council decided to ask the Board of Health to give the dump immediate attention.

The board of health people say they are a little surprised at the revival of this matter, to which they gave considerable attention some time ago, and which they thought had been disposed of to the satisfaction of all concerned. Inspector Howard, who visited the dump a number of times, said this morning while the attention of the health authorities was brought to the dump considerable vegetable refuse had been dumped there, but that since a notice forbidding dumping of refuse had been posted up in the vicinity none had taken place. The land upon which the dump is situated is owned by Messrs. Peters, who were notified not to allow the dumping of vegetable refuse there.

While there is no specified place for the disposal of refuse matter, the dumping of it in different places about the city, the board of health people say, will be hardly avoidable. A public incinerator is badly needed and if it were once established citizens would willingly take their refuse matter to it. The establishment of an incinerator is a matter for the common council.

PRECAUTIONS AT THE BRIDGE.

It's Not Safe to Run the Heavy C. P. R. Engines Over the Cantilever.

The Boston express was nearly an hour late in arriving here this morning. The delay was mainly caused by the necessity of changing engines at Fairville. It is not considered safe to bring the heavy C. P. R. express engines over the Cantilever Bridge, under which the men are still at work, and a light I. C. R. shunter takes charge of the cars at Fairville and brings them to the depot.

The Montreal express was also delayed about an hour.

DEAF AND DUMB SCHOOL EXEMPTED FROM TAXES

Automobile Speed Bill Not Yet Completed—Important Meeting of Municipal Council.

At the regular meeting of the municipal council this afternoon the special committee consisting of the councillors of Lancaster, to whom was referred the petition of J. Harvey Brown on behalf of the Deaf and Dumb School, praying that the property of the institution be exempt from taxation, reported that they had decided to recommend that the buildings and lands in the immediate use of the school be exempt as prayed for during the time the property is used for such purpose, but that the property on the northerly or lower side of the highway road to the River St. John be assessed at a valuation of one thousand five hundred dollars.

The committee on bills for the legislature and by-laws recommended the acceptance of a draft of a bill submitted to amend chapter 170 of the consolidated statutes, 1903, respecting rates and taxes in the several parishes in the city and county of St. John.

They reported that they had under consideration the matter of obtaining legislation regulating the speed of automobiles in this county, but had not fully completed their work. They asked further time to submit their report.

The committee on finance and accounts recommended the payment of the following amounts

SELLING LIQUOR AFTER HOURS

That Charge and One of Selling to a Minor Made Against R. W. Carson.

Robert W. Carson, who runs a saloon and poolroom on Main street, was in the police court this morning to answer the charge of selling liquor to a minor and of keeping open after hours.

On last Saturday afternoon a young man named Isaac James Logan, only twenty years of age, entered the Carson saloon between three and four o'clock and remained there, according to his sworn testimony, till after seven in the evening. Questioned by Police Clerk Henderson and Magistrate Ritchie, Logan said that he whiled the time away in drinking liquor and playing pool. The proprietor of the place, he said, enquired of him his age before selling any liquor to him and he gave his age as twenty-one. During the afternoon he spent about fifty cents in liquors, all of an intoxicating nature, alternately treating and being treated. When he left the saloon, sometime after seven o'clock, he was considerably under the weather and was arrested somewhat later.

The testimony of the young man was not quite explicit as to whether or not he received liquor after seven o'clock. It seems, however, that it was not denied that he was in the saloon after seven o'clock.

Inspector Jones prosecuted, while A. W. Macrae represented Carson.

The magistrate took occasion to criticize the running of barrooms and poolrooms in conjunction. Such an arrangement, he said, was only a snare for young men. To reach the poolroom the bar had to be passed through. There was room here, he thought, for the law to work a much needed reform.

At the requestofMr. Macrae the case was adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

A GOOD BARGAIN.

Crafty City Rulers Got More for Their Money at Mispec Than Public Suspected.

The city's title to possession of the St. John Sulphite Company's property at Mispec awaits only the formal ratification of the law. Mayor White was informed yesterday through Mr. Coster, solicitor for J. A. Likely and E. B. Ketchum, liquidators, that the city's tender of $115,000, as the Star stated yesterday, was accepted, and now only an order from Chief Justice Tuck, in whose court the sale of the property takes place, is needed to give the city legal possession. This will arrive shortly.

Meantime the mayor and aldermen are congratulating themselves on this stroke of business, whereby they have warded off the possibility of a suit for damages approximating a quarter of a million in connection with their extension of the water system to Loch Lomond; and they have also secured a valuable property at one third its original cost.

And now comes to light a new feature of the purchase, which the crafty city fathers claim they knew all the time and only kept dark, for business reasons. It seems that the records show the company to have acquired possession of half the water rights for two miles from the mouth of the river. These rights are transferred to the city along with the property and prospective damage suits are still further diminished.
