Careless Citizens Among City Fathers

Costs $2,800 a Year to Pick up Waste Paper Thrown in Streets—Big Increases in Price of Coal—Will Pave Lansdowne Ave.

At the council meeting yesterday the city fathers deplored the cost of picking up waste paper from the streets; also the waste of hay in the city stables.

Commissioner Frink moved that Macadam paving and sidewalks be laid on Lansdowne avenue under the Local Improvement Act, one half of abutters having agreed to pay their share. It looks, he said, as if there would be considerable building enterprise on this street. The owners wanted good streets. A paving of water bound Macadam with asphalt gutters would cost about $10,000.

Commissioner Bullock—This move shows the property owners have enterprise. It is very different from the spirit we have been contending with for the last few years. Motion carried.

Commissioner Frink said applications to erect electric signs had to go through a complicated process. He proposed to move that the commissioners have power to deal with such applications right away.

Commissioner Thornton—I don't agree. These signs are put up and not kept lighted. The police can report them, but there is no penalty.

Commissioner Frink was glad attention was called to violation of the by-law. At present he had two men employed picking up paper in the streets, another taking it away and a third burning it. Cost, about $16. The city had a by-law against throwing paper on the street, but it was not enforced by the police or courts. This violation of the waste paper by-law cost the city $2,800 a year.

A motion to amend the Exhibition by-law was introduced, providing that the license for travelling circuses and menageries be raised from $300 to $400.

Commissioner Bullock—Everything else has gone up 100 per cent. $400 would be little enough for such a show, though, perhaps, the money would come out of the public.

Commissioner Bullock moved that the license for travelling circuses be $400.

Mayor—These shows get into Toronto for $300.

Commissioner Thornton said Halifax provides these citizens with excellent grounds. He thought $300 was sufficient, as these companies had difficulty getting into St. John. If the city put on a big license the citizens had to pay anyway.

Commissioner Frink—These shows attract crowds from the country, and help trade.

The amendment was lost, and the motion to make the fee $200 carried.

Commissioner Thornton presented a bill for hay from a dealer in Sussex. He thought the fire department warranted in paying $32 for this hay, as it was of very good quality. Ordered paid.

Commissioner Frink said there was a waste of hay in his department which he intended to check. He estimated the loss at $1,200 a year.

The tender of the Colwell Fuel Company to supply nut coal for the water and sewerage department at $17 a ton was accepted; also Geo. Dick's tender to supply soft coal for the same department at $5.50.

The Colwell Fuel Co. will deliver soft coal for the West Side sheds at $9.10, and 3,000 tons to the ferry at $10.10; also hard coal at $17 for the harbor and ferry department.

The matter of buying hard coal for City Hall, the fire and police stations was left to Commissioner Thornton.

Council sanctioned the request of the New Brunswick Power Company for permission to lay an underground lateral from the end of their underground conduit at Jeffrey's Corner street across the square to a terminal pole; also to lay an underground lateral on Waterloo street from Cliff street to terminal.

Commissioner Frink was authorized to negotiate for the purchase of land necessary to straighten the Millidgeville road between Jeffrey's Corner and Major Green's property. He is to report back.

West Rifle Range.

The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, The department of Militia and Defense of Canada did acquire an area of land in Lansdowne and Stanley wards, city of Saint John, for the purpose of establishing a Rifle Range for the training of members of the militia force; and

"Whereas, Such area is in the centre of properties suitable for the purpose of providing sites for tenements and for the establishing of industries, and is no longer a suitable or safe place for a rifle range;

"Therefore Resolved, That as it is the policy of the City of Saint John to provide sites for the building of houses and industrial centres and the area above described being suitable for such purposes that negotiations be entered into between the City and the Department of Militia and Defense with a view to acquiring this property on its own account by purchase or otherwise."

The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, Miss Caroline T. Tucker, in the year 1915, did grant and convey to the City of Saint John a certain tract of land situate on Sandy Point Road, Stanley ward, City of Saint John, and did also convey to the said Corporation municipal debentures, the principal sum of which amounts to $10,000 with interest thereon for the purpose of developing the said property for a public park, or such other municipal purpose as might be desired in connection with said development; and

"Whereas, Such land and estate and the money derivable from the debentures to be expended have been placed in the hands of a board of trustees consisting of L. R. Ross, Esq., Hon. J. H. Armstrong and His Worship the Mayor of St. John.

"Resolved, That the trustees above named be requested to prepare a report of their stewardship from the time of the establishment of the trust to date."

Police Court Cases Yesterday

Large Gathering of Prisoners Faced the Magistrate—Eight Drunks in the Party—Other Cases Dealt With.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the police court was an unusually active one. As there had been no morning session the weekend and holiday arrests were brought up and charged, immediately after the magistrate took his seat on the bench. Eight drunks pleaded guilty to the charge, and after paying their fines, or instalments thereon, were allowed to depart on condition that they secure the balance and bring it to the clerk during the afternoon.

Clifford May pleaded guilty to refusing to move on when ordered to do so by the police, and not guilty to the charge of interfering with the police. Detective Saunders gave evidence. He was fined $80 which he paid, and was allowed to go with a warning.

Louis Jones, colored, pleaded not guilty to obstructing the sidewalk. J. King Hansen appeared for the accused. Policeman Thomas gave evidence.

The offence was alleged to have occurred at the mouth of Union Alley. The magistrate said that he had noticed a number of white men allowed to infringe on the law at that particular spot and he therefore would allow the fine to stand.

William J. Walton pleaded guilty to being drunk and not guilty to using abusive language and impeding pedestrians. Fined $8 for being drunk, $8 for the abusive language, and $100 for impeding the sidewalk.

The magistrate announced that he was going to do his bit for "Clean-Up Day" and ordered all the remnants to be brought in, twenty-three booze fighters were accordingly argued before him and paid fines ranging from $8 to $208. Those unable to pay the whole amount but able to obtain it from friends or employers were granted an opportunity to leave the court room to obtain the required amounts. And they kept filing in during the afternoon and settling up at the bar. The rates were somewhat more expensive than in the days of the open bar, however.

Two of the men announced their intention of departing by the shore line for St. Stephen. The judge asked why St. Stephen. He passed the holiday there, but could not account for the wonderful attraction it possessed for the prisoners.

Patrick Mallaly charged with a serious offence was remanded. The case of Mrs. Matilda Whitenett versus the King was then taken up.

G. Earl Logan for the prosecution during the afternoon and settling up at the bar. The rates were somewhat more expensive than in the days of the open bar, however.
