THOUSANDS WERE DROWNED.

Result of a Typhoon Off South Coast China.

Victoria, Nov. 30.—Advice were received from South China by the Athenian of the loss of thousands of lives as a result of the destruction of several hundred fishing junks in a typhoon off Swatow. The Hong Kong Government tender Stanley and several British torpedo and gun boats towed a number of the junks, which survived the typhoon, to places of safety.

CHAMPIONS OF GET.

Report of the United States Postal Scandals.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General J. L. Bristow, upon investigation into the postal frauds, was submitted to the Post Office Department. It will be submitted to Congress whenever it asks for documents. Mr. Bristow says part of the system of organized rackets that has been disclosed began in 1893 and continued until stopped by this investigation. The amount of money secured by the corrupt officials and their confederates is small compared to the total loss to the Government. To illustrate:

Barrett received $5,000 from the Arnold Company, yet that company defrauded the people out of over $3,000,000.

Machen probably did not receive more than $20,000 from the first letter. Yet the Government paid approximately $1,500,000 for it. The which represents a net loss to the department of $1,480,000. In terms of the contract for letter box, to pay for the original faster.

As a result of the investigation four officers and employees of the department have been removed. For four indictments have been found involving thirty-one persons, ten of whom have been connected with the postal service.

Barrett received $5,000 from the Arnold Company, yet that company defrauded the people out of over $3,000,000.

TO CURE BASHFULNESS.

London Ladies Have Found a Cure for Blushes.

New York, Nov. 29.—The Sun to-day has the following special from London:—Shyness is not generally regarded as a prominent characteristic of the modern woman, but the distressing malady is, apparent sufficiently prevalent for it to be seriously taken in hand at the Jopling Club, which at Earl's Court. There during the coming season, bashful women are invited to come and be cured by Miss Elsie Esterline. One meeting has already been held, and the rosette of blushes which suffused the cheeks of bashful blondes and brunettes rivalled nature's finest efforts in the shape of a tropical sunset. Never, it is said, has a murkier afternoon of London in the autumn been relieved by such a warm, glowing picture of color.

The lecturer at this meeting did not spare her quailing hearers as she told them that shyness was merely a form of conceit, the result of believing themselves greater than they really are. The cure is to be effected by means of a series of debates, in the course of which the disease will be considered in all its aspects. The shyest women will take the chair in turn. Papers will be read by the next in order of shyness. After a course of this treatment under Miss Esterline's unblinking guardianship it is confidently expected that a blush will never again be seen in a London drawing-room save on a masculine cheek.

A DOUBLE FATALITY.

Lorne McAllister's Death at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Nov. 28.—One day about four weeks ago Finlay McLeod and Lorne McAllister, two young residents of Sarawak, set out to hunt partridge about eight miles from Owen Sound. When passing under a log the gun in McAllister's hands was accidentally discharged, the shot lodging in McLeod's back near the base of the spine. After lingering for several days McLeod died. His companion was heart-broken, although the affair was clearly accidental. Hard luck has followed young McAllister ever since.

Last Saturday while working in a bush in Keppel he was struck by the limb of a falling tree, receiving serious injuries. He was brought to the General and Marine Hospital, where after suffering terribly he died this morning from rupture of the kidneys.

AMES & CO. SETTLE.

WILL PAY ATLAS LOAN CO. THE SUM OF $84,341.28.

This Will Do Away With Threatened Litigation—Mr. A. E. Wallace Will Withdraw From the Broking Firm.

Toronto, Nov. 30.—A satisfactory settlement has been reached in the matter of the liability of A. E. Ames & Company towards the Atlas Loan and has been ratified by the court. Under the agreement Ames & Company will pay the Atlas Loan $84,341.28 in all, in four equal payments, and litigation is thus obviated. The offer of settlement, which was put before the committee appointed by the creditors, and approved by them, was submitted to the Master in Ordinary and sanctioned by him, so that the difficulties between A. E. Ames & Company, Mr. Wallace and the Atlas Loan are now at an end. The liquidator has received the first payment on account of the settlement from Ames & Company, and Mr. Wallace has retired from the firm.

It was on October 12 last that Ames & Company made their offer to the National Trust Company, liquidators of the Atlas Loan, in the following terms: "Dear Sirs,—Referring to your request that we should make an offer to purchase from you the 1000 shares of the Metropolitan Bank stock now being carried for us by the Atlas Loan Company as against the debt balance of $100,000, according to our statement, and that such offer should cover a reasonable compromise of the points in dispute between us, we understand such disputes to relate to three points:—

(1) You contend that you are entitled on behalf of the Atlas Loan Company to repudiate its transactions through us, so far as same related to dealings in securities which the company, as you allege, had no legal right to deal in.

(2) You contend we are bound to indemnify Mr. Wallace in respect of the unpaid balance on shares of Atlas Loan Company standing in his name, or in respect of the same charges.

(3) You deny our right to charge against the account of the Atlas Loan Company the debt balance of $100,000 from the A. E. Wallace and A. E. Wallace No. 1 accounts.

As to the first point, we deny that there has been any loss on the company's unauthorized dealings (if any) through us, and we also deny that such loss, if it had occurred, could be cast on us.

As to the second point, we deny any liability whatever.

As to the third point, this, perhaps, is the most difficult of the three. We further understand that some question has been raised as to an alleged claim against the Metropolitan Bank in reference to preferential security or payment.

If, however, the above conditions are met, we are willing, for the sake of settling the matter, to take the Metropolitan Bank stock off your hands at 75, which would leave a balance to us of $24,341.28, and to add to this sum $90,000 as a settlement of all other differences between ourselves and Mr. Wallace, agreeing to indemnify Mr. Wallace therefrom; the above amounts, $84,341.28 in all, to be paid in five equal instalments, the first instalment to be paid on or before the 15th day of January, 1904, and the balance in three equal instalments, the last instalment to be paid on or before the 15th day of January, 1905, with interest from acceptance of the offer at 6 per cent. per annum, subject, of course, to proper formal releases, etc., being exchanged at the time of making the cash payment.

(Signed) A. E. Ames & Co."

A CHANCE FOR DREYFUS.

Judicial Examination of His Case Assured.

Paris, Nov. 30.—The efforts of Alfred Dreyfus, who was dismissed from the army and imprisoned on Devil's Island for alleged treachery and afterwards tried at Rennes, declared guilty and then pardoned, to secure a judicial examination of his case, has at last been crowned with success. After examining the dossier in the case submitted to him by General Andre, the Minister of War, Minister of Justice Justice has transmitted that document, together with the petition of M. Dreyfus for a revision of his sentence to M. Durand, the President of a commission of six members instituted by the Minister of Justice. This commission will pronounce upon the admissibility of a request for a revision of sentence. M. Dreyfus owes the favorable action taken to the careful consideration given the case by the Minister of War, General Andre, whose conclusions are regarded as in the highest degree favorable to Dreyfus since they determined the Minister of Justice to refer the question of a revision of his sentence to a commission of six members. It is said that M. Cribelin, formerly principal keeper of the records of the headquarters staff, has made important revelations.

MAY BE MURDER.

John Reddins Dies in Windsor From a Blow on the Head.

Windsor, Nov. 30.—John Reddins of Maidstone Cross died at Hotel Dieu here Saturday. An operation was performed and a clot of blood removed from the brain, but the patient's life could not be saved. The man accused of hitting Reddins is across the line, and the police department of this city refuse to divulge his name.

EMPIRE DEFENCE.

Premier Balfour Talks of a Common Scheme—Includes Colonies.

London, Nov. 30.—Premier Balfour at the United Club dinner Friday, said an empire defence scheme is not a problem of home defence, with which the navy could deal; it is a problem of foreign defence. He did not think the people would either shrink from sacrifices or be found unequal to the greatest strain which patriotism may be called upon to endure if only we can bring together the separate Governments of which the empire is composed and have some common scheme of defence, not dependent upon the War Office alone, but drawing its strength from all self-governing colonies. Referring to the subject of conscription Mr. Balfour declared against it. In case the vast resources of the great military powers were brought against this country we would have to depend, not upon the army, but upon the readiness of the population here and in the free colonies to join in opposing the aggressor.

LETTER BOX

A REAL ESTATE DEAL.

To The Planet: In your issue of Thursday last Smith & Smith, real estate agents of this city, complain that the press reports in the case of Parrott vs. Bedford held in the Division Court last week were not fair to them. The facts in this case are as follows: Oliver Bedford came to my office early last spring and asked me to sell his house and lot on Colborne street. He stated that Smith & Smith had had the place on sale for a long time but had brought him no buyers; that he had taken their sign down and wished me to handle the property. I listed and advertised the place for sale. A number of my buyers were taken through the house and over the property. Among others I interviewed Fred Bartlett. He stated he would like to buy the place if I would take as part payment a house and lot his mother owned in North Chatham. I advised him to sell his house and lot, or place it in my hands and I would sell it. This he declined to do. Later on he made me an offer of the place in North Chatham and nine hundred dollars in cash for the Bedford property providing I would get a loan for that amount. I went to North Chatham and secured an agreement from Mr. Paul to buy the Bartlett property on Head street. I had the Bedford place inspected and got a recommendation for a loan of nine hundred dollars. I also obtained from the Bedfords a written agreement to sell for thirteen hundred dollars, and one from Mrs. Bartlett to give her house and lot and nine hundred dollars for the Bedford property. When this was done I found out that Mr. Bartlett had died without a will, and it would be necessary for the heirs to sign off to their mother before the deal with Mr. Paul could be carried out. This was done after some delay and the Bartletts sold to Paul and got their money. They then declined to carry out their first agreement. Mrs. Bedford went for me and in order to avoid trouble authorized me to go to Mrs. Bartlett and offer the place for twelve hundred and fifty dollars, which I did. During the negotiations Mr. Fred Bartlett informed me he had not talked to Smith & Smith about the sale of the property. Mrs. Bartlett swore in Court that she had not spoken to the Smiths about buying the place since the Bedfords had owned it. I started the negotiations, I brought buyer and seller together, I arranged for the sale of the Bartlett property, I submitted the final offer that was accepted and carried out, yet the Court held that Smith & Smith should receive the commission on the sale. As to the judgment of the Court I have not one word to say, but I do think my friends Smith & Smith ought not to object to the newspapers giving a fair report of the trial.
