

1823. 11th Month.

NOVEMBER,

Begins on Friday.

That soft Fatonial gales, with gentle breath,
 And genial suns the fading scene may cheer,
 Arrest awhile the chilling shafts of death,
 And sigh a requiem o'er the closing year!
 Oh! there's desolation wild and bleak,
 In winter's dread approach: our bosoms feel
 A paralyzing chill, we cannot speak,
 Cling round the heart—o'er all its pulses steal.
