Patent Saver Hall Stove

The advantages gained over all other stores The advantages gained over all other shows are, it produces the greatest amount of heatfrom a given amount of fuel; this is accomplished by the flue pipe, which is bent down, around and underneath the base. Another object is to secure the greatest possible benefit of the fire which consists in placing around the body of the stown a series of internally projecting pockets overlapping the fire pot, and so formed that the air of the room is admitted into the lower end of the pockets, and after passing through them repockets, and after passing through them, re-enters the room, having become intensely heated through contact with the inner sides of the said pockets, which are immediately over the hottest part of the fire, thereby producing far greater results from a

The cover is a water tank, and becomes an effective evaporator, which produces a greater or less amount of vapor in proportion to the intensity of heat.

There is a double heater, by means of which heat can be conveyed to any apartment above, and supplied with sufficient vapor from the tank.

Also a combined hot air and steam bath is by produced if desired.

It is Simple and Easy to Control.

All hinged doors are abandoned, the mice light can be removed, cleaned, and replaced without
