and family have given a scholarship at Upper Canada College in memory of the late gallant Major Gordon Southam, fine golfer and allround athlete. Their example will undoubtedly be followed by other prominent golfing families throughout the Dominion, who will keep in fragrant memory brave sons who fell fighting in France and Flanders, by perpetuating their deeds in colleges and school endowments. Gil Anderson, an Eastern professional and golf writer, is about right when he says: "The players of 45 years and over form the greater part of the devotees, and are the financial support of every golf club in this coun-Golf courses generally may be laid out for the edification and education of the long swatting thirty-year-olders and under, but the Senior is called upon to "lay out" the "long green." That's the part of the game in which he is expected to particularly shine. And he usually does.

Directors of the Western Golf Association recently at their meeting in Chicago decided to hold the regular golf championship tournaments next season. Tournaments were suspended last summer by the western association, while United States Golf Association has not held national meets for two years on account of the war. The places for holding the amateur open and junior meets will be decided at the annual meeting of the association in Chicago on January 18. It is generally expected that the United States Golf Association will also decide to resume the national amateur and open championships at their annual meeting next

Particulars come by the last British mail of an interesting overseas military match between Canadian and Australian teams at farfamed Sunningdale, the "Canucks" vanquishing the "Antipodeans" nine points on the day's play. the morning, playing eight a side in singles, counting 1 point for a win in the match and a 1-4 for the bye, the Canadians won by 5 points to 4, and in the afternoon in four-ball foursomes they overwhelmed the golfers from Kangaroo-land by 8 1-2 points to 1-2 point (counting 2 points for the match and 1-2 for the bye). The following were the scores of this particularly interesting match:

Singles-Lt. Macan (Canada), up. 1, Lt. Felstead (Australia), 0; Gray (Canada), 0, Lt. Fawcett (Australia). (2 and 1), 1; Capt. Sheriff Gordon (Canada), (2 up), 1, Lt. Higham (Australia), 0; Mr. Donaldson (Canada), 1-4, Lt.

1911, 1912, and 1913. It is certainly a very great tri bute to the prowess of the Canadian wielders of wood and iron that they scored so notable a win over such representative team from the Antipodes. It would rather go to show that Canadians generally, have a better brand of golf in their bag than Australians.

One of the first things should be brought about now that peace promises to hold sway throughout the world is the standardization of golf rules. A case in point Mr. Walter A. Travis, exchampion of the United States and Great Britain, has been profession-alized by the United States Golf Association because he once in a while lays out a golf course. In Canada, where the Royal and Ancient rules obtain, he is still an amateur. But, as Mr. Travis points out in a letter to me if he should enter for an amateur championship here he would be disqualified be-cause he uses a Schenectady putter. These and many other anomalies of a vexatious character might well be straightened out by the powers that

The Western Golf Association with headquarters in Chicago, a year or so ago decided to abolish. tion with headquarters in Chicago, a year or so ago decided to abolish it, but the United States Golf Association, the real governing body of golf over there, in a very sportsmanlike and gentlemanly manner, decided to forego any action in regard to its abolishment until after the war, and until the Royal and Ancient Committee in Great Britain could be properly approached and sector:

Playing at Ranelagh, he had eight balls in his bag and he drove every one of them into the water at the Lake Hole, in a long series of efforts to carry that obstacle. There was nothing more to be done—at least, there was just one thing. Seizing his quiverful of clubs, he took them dramatically to the water's edge, and with the tremulbe properly approached and

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. However in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these diffi-culties are overcome. They are ab-solutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cleanliness. A large case is sold by druggists at 75c. Or, if preferable they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four a week without fear of bad after ef-
