Judge Lynch

The pastime indulged in by the Citizens of the United States, particularly of the South, of lynching anyone against whom there is any charge of crime, is still carried on.

California has escaped for several years these exhibitions of mob violence, and her people had come to the conclusion that the reign of Judge Lynch has ceased within her borders, but the recent lynching of five men, and that for petty theft, will cause the blush of shame to mantle the cheek of California's proud citizens, and convince them that mob violence is not confined entirely to the South.

The Story of a Faithful Faith in Her Master

BY HAYS

Beyond the negro blackened timbers heap of bricks that where the big house had stood before the infernal explosion.

Had the mob seized and fogged them, given them some mild form of summary treatment the public might not have objected to any great extent, but even that would have been wrong.

Miss Flossie Bond who was on the sick list for the past two weeks is slowly recovering.

Mr. C. J. Wolfe is busy erecting a new barn on his farm.

Miss Jessie Bowles spent Sunday with Miss Lida and Lena Woodroff.

Miss Sutherland of Mount Denson has been spending a few weeks in the vicinity.

Mr. Geo. Cummings, Barrie, Ont., one of the best known engineers on the G. T. R., writes:—For years I suffered from kidney disease brought on by railroad life.

WATERVILLE

June 17th—Quite a little excitement was caused round town last Friday while the elements were in a state of electric fire.

THEY TWO

They were left alone in the dear old home When the house was full of frolic and fun

Of childish laughter and tears. They are left alone these two—once more

Beginning life over again, Just as they did in the days of yore, Before they were nine and ten.

And the table is set for two these days The children went one by one Away from home on their separate ways

When the childhood days were done How healthily hungry they used to be!

What romping they used to do! And mother—for weeping—can hardly see

To set the table for two. They used to gather around the fire While some one would read aloud, But whether at study or work or play 'Twas a loving merry crowd.

And now they are two that gather there

At evening to read or sew. And it seems always too much to hear When they think of the long ago.

Ah, well—ah well, 'tis the way of the world!

Children stay but a little while And then into other scenes are whirled

When other homes beguile; But it matters not how far they roam Their hearts are fond and true, And there's never a home like the dear old home,

Where the table is set for two. —Mrs. Frank A. Brock, in Youth's Companion.

ST. JOHN LETTER

Three slight fires occurred in the city last Thursday.

Robert Nixon of this city by endeavoring to induce a young woman to go to Boston, there to lead a life of infamy, has gained an eminence almost equal to that of Marshall, Rourke, Manson and McCann. He is in jail and the doors at Dorchester are open for him.

It is strange that the Evangelical alliance that is battling with Sunday soda water has nothing to say of the characters of this sort that infest the city.

S. S. Mattawan sailed from this port on Tuesday for South Africa with a cargo of hay.

Nearly ten tons of salmon were shipped from here to Boston by str. last Wednesday. Shad and salmon fishing in the harbor has been very poor this spring.

So far this spring business about the wharves has been very active and collections have been good. Prices of staple groceries just now are subject to few fluctuations.

Cured Her Cross.

A genealogist received a letter from a wealthy woman the other day, saying that she was anxious to know something of her descendants and she would like to have him call upon her with reference to looking them up.

The man went to work, and being a conscientious laborer, he worked along regulation lines and did not get down to Will the Conqueror or even Roger Williams. What he did come to was an interesting ancestor who would have been just the man by whom the woman could have joined one of the Revolutionary societies that was a Colonial Dame. But there was one trouble with this ancestor. He was imbued too strongly with the independent feelings of the early days, but his independence was not properly directed.

Principles Versus Cooks. A volume might be written on the malign influence exerted on femininity's principles by the loss of a cook.

For a week after her maid had gone she stood by her original tenets and struggled with the drafts of the range and the intricacies of cookery until she was too tired for words.

He—What would you say, Miss Ethel, if I should tell you that I had called this evening to place a solitary upon one of those dainty fingers of yours?

Mr. Dukane—What makes Mr. Northside so proud? Mr. Gaswell—Oh, he's one of the few people who don't claim to have made a barrel of money by the recent rise in stocks.
