

ONLY TED.

Ted Russell was undeniably homely. His hair was red, his face was covered with great brown freckles, his eyes were a faded blue, his feet and hands were always white in the way, and his figure was decidedly ungainly.

places Daisy in the arms of a neighbor and springs back into the house to meet his father who has lost his way in the blinding smoke. Ted half dreads his father and his heavy burden to the outer door and across the threshold.

THIS AND THAT.

Aptor.—When I am acting I forget everything about me; I see nothing but my role; the public disappears entirely. Friend—I don't wonder at that.—Friendless Blatter.
