Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Medicines, sold alike for men and women, never contain what that is, the uterine and other female tonics. Such medicines may relieve for a little but that is all. They do not cure, because they do not reach the cause of nine-tenths of the ills of women.

Women need a remedy compounded for their special needs. Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are such a medicine. They are a special remedy compounded by a specialist for a special purpose. The specialist is Dr. Hugo, of Paris, who perhaps knows more about the needs of women to-day than any other living physician. Their special purpose is to cure the ills of women and them alone. They are not for men.

Are Just for Women.

Dragged to Death by Cow

Cuthbert Summers, residing near Lansdowne, was fatally injured while leading a cow. The rope became entangled about his feet. The cow ran away throwing the farmer and dragging him. He was pounded against a fence and pulled over a seeding machine. His abdomen was torn open, and he was otherwise mutilated.

Death of Ethel Slack

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Slack of Charleston
Died June 1, 1905, aged 15 months.

She is gone, dear babe, she is gone,
To the realms of glory on high,
To dwell with the angels of light—
But we'll meet in the sweet by-and-by.

She is gone!—then let us prepare
To meet with our loved one above,
Where the tears shall be wiped from all eyes
By the hand of the Father of Love.

A Moot Question

In its report of the Athens limo-throwing case, the Brockville Recorder says:—
"Athens station for some time past has, it is alleged, been a place for general rowdiness, principally on the part of school boys, and this the company intend to stop at once."

"General rowdiness" seems rather a hard term to apply to the merry jests and sports indulged in by the large number of young people who assemble at the station when the evening trains arrive. It might be better for the railway company, and just as well for the boys, if a veto were put on this daily visit to the station; but in the meantime the term "general rowdiness" should be held in abeyance. The proper treatment of one specific case of rowdiness would for a long time effectually cure any disposition to general turbulence.

Blooming in Brockville

Recorder: On May 15th last a young girl named Rose Matthews, 16 years of age, came here from Athens to take a position in the family of Mr. C. E. Woodcock, Park street north, as domestic. The next day the girl requested leave of absence, at the same time borrowing a jacket the property of Mrs. Woodcock. She never returned, neither did the coat, and later a pair of spectacles were also missed. A warrant was yesterday sworn out and during the day Chas. Burke and Sergt. Burns located the girl at a Delhi street residence following her usual occupation. She was locked up and at police court on Tuesday was committed for trial. She will appear before Judge McDonald on Saturday.

Cheese Brands Ordered

Owing to the energetic efforts of the branding committee of the Brockville Cheese Board 500 patent metal impress brands have been ordered from the manufacturers for use by the dairy men of Leeds and Grenville to guarantee the consumers of the cheese the genuineness of the cheese and to prevent possible substitution and fraud. This is a move in the right direction. There are already a number of the brands used regularly in this section.

It is to be hoped that the time will soon come when every cheese made in Brockville metal brand will be branded with this metal brand. When that condition exists the dairymen of Brockville section will be many thousand dollars in pocket.—Times

TENDERS ACCEPTED

The members of the public school board met on Monday evening to open and consider the tenders sent in for the construction of the new school building. Eight offers were received—two for the whole work and six for the separate trades—all from reliable men. After careful consideration the board decided to accept the tender of A. M. Eaton, Athens, for the brickwork, lathing and plastering, and the tender of C. J. Speagle of Westport for all the rest of the work.

The figures are such that, we are pleased to learn, the building can be completed, heated and equipped within the estimate made by the board. Mr. Speagle is to-day placing an order for wood-working material and Mr. Eaton is preparing to run off the mortar for the brick work. Building operations are to be rushed, but the date for completion has not been fixed.

A Regrettable Affair

On Friday last two men were engaged in unloading a car of lime at Athens station, and as the evening train from Brockville was pulling out one of men thoughtlessly tossed a couple of pieces of lime at the passing coaches. One piece struck the coach and the other broke a window and struck a lady passenger on the cheek, causing a slight abrasion of the skin. The matter was reported to the head office on Saturday, and Supt. Curle, accompanied by Constable Champagne, came here to investigate. At first both men denied knowledge of the act, but later the guilty party confessed and was taken to Brockville in the evening on a special train sent out for that purpose. On Monday morning, it being evident that there was no malice or intent to do serious injury, a settlement was effected on a basis of about $50.

The lesson was a costly one, and the people of Athens who have personal knowledge of the character and disposition of the offender are very generally of the opinion that he didn't require such expensive instruction; but at the same time it is recognized that the first duty of a railway superintendent is to protect the patrons of his line, and with such an important interest in his hands as the safety of passengers no lawlessness of any kind can be tolerated. In view of the heavy penalty prescribed by law for such an offence, a measure of leniency seems to have been incorporated in the settlement, but if the prosecution should see fit to exercise magnanimity to the extent of remitting a portion of the penalty imposed the act would be duly appreciated here.

THE LITTLE GIRL'S SASH

Writing of the dressing of little girls in the New Idea Woman's Magazine for July, Charlotte Millward intimates that the method of fastening sashes is now different to the simple old-fashioned bow. "The sashes seen this year," she says, "are not over-wide, but their ends are tied, looped up and twisted by deft fingers until the final result has the effect of a shower bouquet. Similar but smaller knots appear on the left shoulder and finish off the puffed sleeves prettily. Naturally these complicated arrangements cannot be undone each time the frock is taken off, so that the sash is no longer tied, but hooked at the back. Then the twists require very soft ribbon, such as Liberty, loutine or wash ribbon, and the eight inch width which passes around the waist has narrower widths in combination to insure the shower effect. Roman sashes, like those worn thirty years ago, are coming bad, and they are already being extensively seen, but the delicately flowered Dresden and L'epadour designs still hold their own."

Nervousness and Nerve

The more nervous a man is, the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't; for nerve is stamina. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.

If you get tired easily, mentally or physically, take Hood's—it will do you good.

One Ingredient of

Zutoo

Is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It won't hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless. If you know what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as

Soda.
