Rural Telephones.

In a recent number of "Everybody's Magazine" a suggestive paragraph occurs, which is worth considering, when we are comparing Russia with our own country. It forms part of a conversation between Ernest Poole, special commissioner to investigate the Russian peasant riots, and the Chancellor of Kursk, Russia. "Unfortunately the Chancellor caught my meaning. "If you try to see the peasants by yourselves," he said. "you will not only be watched by the police, but some at least of the peasants to whom you talk will be our spies. We have telephones to every village, and in two hours at latest we shall know not only whom you have seen, but also what you your selves have said.
