of Northunderland:
Gentlement:

The Liberal-Conservative Convection of our County, held last month, nominated me as the Party's Candidate at the approaching election of a member of the House of Commons for this Constituency. I have accepted the nomination, and as such nominee solicit your support of the principles laid down at that convention and held by the Conservative Party in Canada.

I find it will be impossible for me to personally interview all the electors, as I would like to do, but hope to be able, with their corperation, to give them a chance of hearing my statement of the case at issue, at public meeting throughout the Country, and I carnestly appeal to you to give the great question your careful and loyal consideration and for the platform of the Liberal Conservative Party and mark your hallots for me, its Candidate, on the twenty-first of September.

That Convention spoke not only for the Conservative Party and mark your hallots for the large number of Liberals who have taken issue with their Leaders both on the vital question of the day and also not the mainer in which they have attempted to force this policy upon.

Canada's Call

(By Michael Whelan)

Who never to himself hath said: This is my own, my native land?"

"O 'tis our Country's Voice whose claims should meet

An echo in the soul's most deep retreat, Along the heart's responsive string should run, Nor let a tone there vibrate but the one."

Thou lovely Land that stratchest wide From sounding sea to sea,

The bounding ocean's bonnie bride,
Home of the broad and free;
Where mountains to per toward Heaven high,

Whose forests har the wild winds sight.

Beneath the nostlern Sara

Soo shall the manda of have gone forth

From Province and from State, You shall select your men of worth

Your laws to regulate, honest, hardy sons of toil Shall pause one word to say; "We are the sovereigns of the soil. This is Election Day.

"We want our people's rights conserved, · Oar statesmen to be just,

Our Frest Franchise well preserved, For "Hold Our Own" we must.

We want a statemanlike forecast, Prevention not a "cure:

The errors that have marked the past We will not now endure; We care not what the Party's name;

We want men who will work, Not for their pockets or for fame, Who will not duty shirk.

Our speech is pointed, pregifant plain, We mean just what we say,

We will not have our great Domain To grafters given away.

Then gird you firmly for the fray You trusted men and true,

We're looking for a better day And better deeds from you. The toiler on the leve! plain

Is looking up aloft,
If you betray his trust again
Your seat shall not be soft.

The man with ax and hoe and plow Is sternly watching out,

The sweat that streams from labor's brow

Do not forget nor flout. Remember all the wealth you waste Is gathered from the sod, See that our trust is not misplaced

Or dread the wrath of God.
