Price-Recessions!

When stocks are low, like now, wise investors buy them, and when they recover in price and others rush to buy them, they sell to take profits and this causes a reaction in price. Then when the same stocks get low enough, the wise investors buy again and repeat the same game over and over, making profits every time.
MORAL:—Buy when others rush to sell, and you can then sell when the others want to buy.
