

Funeral Obituaries of Sir John Harvey.—Owing to the delays in the arrival of the mails, we are only now in possession of Halifax, N. S., news to the 30th ult. On Saturday, the 27th, the funeral obsequies of the late Lieutenant Governor, Sir John Harvey, were observed, with imposing civil and military honours. The shipping in the harbour exhibited the symbol of mourning, places of business were closed, minute guns were fired from the glacis of the citadel, the church bells were tolled, and there was a vast and solemn civil and military procession, which accompanied the remains of the deceased from the Government House to St. Paul's Church, and thence after the funeral services, which were performed by the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, assisted by nine Chaplains, to their place of final repose. The military escort consisted of a corps of Royal Artillery, with four pieces of cannon, a corps of the Royal Sappers and Miners, and the 42nd Regiment. After the services at the place of interment, a salute of 15 guns was fired by the Royal Artillery. Sir John Harvey died, as was announced here at the time by telegraph, on the 22nd ult. On his decease, Colonel John Bazalgette, Deputy Quarter-Master General, the second officer in command in the Province, was summoned to the Council Chamber, and, in presence of the two branches of the Legislature, took the oath of office as Administrator of the Government and Commander in Chief.

To those who Write for the Press.

It would be a great favor to editors and printers, should those who write for the press observe the following rules. They are reasonable, and our correspondents will regard them.

1. Write with black ink, on white paper, wide ruled.
2. Make the pages small, one-fourth that of a foolscap sheet.
3. Leave the second page of each leaf blank.
4. Give to the written page an ample margin, all round.
5. Number the pages in the order of their appearance.
6. Write in a plain, bold hand, with less respect to beauty than plainness.
7. Use no abbreviations which are not to appear in print.
8. Punctuate the manuscript as it should be printed.
9. For italics underline one line; for small capitals, two; for capitals, three.
10. Never interline without the care to show its place.
11. Take special pains with every letter in proper names.
12. Review every word, to be sure that none is illegible.
13. Put directions to the printer, at the head of the first page.
14. Never write a private letter to the editor on the printer's copy.

Cheating the Printer.—There is a class of dealers, who, we verily believe, would make use of the backs of their neighbors, on which to write, in flaming chalk, at once their own meanness and the attractions of their wares, were such a plan likely to save them the trifling charge of judicious advertising: of this class are those who are in the habit of defacing, with lamp-black and turpentine, the circulating medium of the country; such persons seem afraid lest, by advertising in a respectable paper, their trade, by association, might become respectable also. We would have noticed, before this, the shabby practice of daubing the backs of bank notes, with an apology for an advertisement, but had hoped the good example of "these who thrive" would have taught individuals, "ambitious for a sign-board," better manners; or, that they might have found out that they render themselves liable to prosecution, while cheating the printer. —Hamilton Spectator.

A Wonderful Clock.—A Clock on the Cathedral at New Orleans is pronounced to be a mechanical wonder. It is an eight-day clock, and has three dials—one of six feet diameter in front of the edifice over a hundred feet from the ground; another of the same size on the rear; and a third of small size in the interior—all moved by the same machinery. The large dials are of transparent glass, the figures and the hands being painted white; and at the back of the glass is a cloth of black velvet, making the surface of the dials to appear black. These dials are lighted at night by gas burners, which, by an ingenious arrangement of the clockwork itself, are extinguished daily at a change of time conforming to the length of the night. This clock occupies but a small space; strikes the hours on a de-toned bell; and the quarters of an hour on two smaller bells; and is furnished with a regular compensation pendulum, and, besides its regular weight, a small weight acting solely on the escapement, which together render it an almost infallible time-piece.

An agent of some English capitalists arrived by the Canada, prepared to bid for the contracts for the entire line of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Henry Gibson, one of the Revolutionary soldiers who fought under Gen. Washington, died at his residence, in Orange County, N. Y., on Monday morning, aged 101 years, and 29 days.

Father Mathew and his Secretary.—Among the passengers by the Washington, is Mr. O'Meara, the Secretary of Rev. Theobald Mathew, whom he left with his relatives at Cork, the veteran friar having at length retired from his labors, like a noble old hunter past service. How different from the fanatics who, by their intemperate zeal, are now destroying much of the good which he achieved whilst he was here! He was for moral suasion—they are for physical force. Mr. O'Meara, having for many years essentially aided the "Apostle of Temperance" in his benevolent mission, both in Europe and America, has now come out with the intention of permanently settling in this country, having seen enough of it in his previous sojourn to induce him to return. —Weekly Herald.

Several physicians have endorsed the efficacy of the application of fat bacon to those attacked with scarlet fever. Dr. Lindsay, of Washington, says:—My plan has been to have the whole body rubbed with the inside rind of fat uncooked bacon, during the whole course of the disease, and to depend upon the tincture of iodine, applied freely, once, twice, or three times in the course of twenty-four hours, to arrest the anginous affection. But one case (and that had left the city convalescent) terminated fatally, besides another one which I saw in consultation, in which this treatment was applied. If there is virtue in this simple remedy, it cannot be too generally known. It has this recommendation: it can do no harm.

Sowing Seed.—Farmers, as well as other people, like to make good bargains, and we like to have them, especially when they buy a year's paper of us and pay for it in advance. But that is not the bargain we are going to write about. It is the sowing of grain seed. If you would make a good bargain with mother earth, give her plenty of seed. If you scrimp here, you cheat yourself and cheat your earth, and are guilty of double dishonesty. If you undertake to save five dollars in seed, you will lose twenty dollars in hay and pasture. Be wise, then, and sow bountifully, and you shall gather bountifully, and make a good bargain. —Vt. Watchman.

The Quebec correspondent of the Pilot states that the Ministry have determined to submit a measure to Parliament for rendering the Legislative Council elective. We learn from the same correspondent, that after visiting his family at Brockville, Mr. Richards "will proceed to Toronto, to conduct the Crown business of next month's Court; Mr. Vansittart being, among others, doomed to the benefit of his calm, keen, skill." We are also informed, by the same authority, that "a building lying in the range of the other public offices has been leased for the Bureau of Agriculture." It is stated that Mr. Cameron's staff will be made up of Clerks who can be spared from some of the older departments. —Daily Colonist.

The following is a classification of the social condition of the people of France, taken from the last number of the Westminster Review:—

Millionaires	50,000
Rich Men	200,000
In easy circumstances	5,500,000
In moderate circumstances	4,200,000
Gaining a decent but uncertain living	600,000
Gaining scanty and uncertain living	16,000,000
Living in extreme indigence	5,000,000
Paupers, thieves and prostitutes	4,000,000

Advices from California say that the Chinese are pouring into that State by hundreds. In an economical point of view, no profit can be expected from them. They are diligent in acquiring money, but they keep it. A few rats and a little rice suffice for their support, and every dollar is hoarded to be carried to China.

The last Search for Sir John Franklin.—The expedition now in preparation by the English Government for the search after Sir John Franklin, is to consist of four vessels, two ships and two screw steamers. The captains have already begun to enter their men at Portsmouth. All hands receive double pay from the time they leave the Thames till they enter it on their return.

A frightful massacre upon two English ships, the Victory, of London, and the Herald, of Leith, has taken place in the Chinese seas. The Victory sailed with Coolies from some Chinese ports to Calcutta. They rose on the way, killed the master, mate and cook, and then compelled one of the mates to steer the ship. They escaped and Mr. Fogg, the mate brought the vessel to Singapore. The Herald was homeward bound from Shanghai, with a crew of Manilamen, who became angry with the captain for putting them on the customary allowance, and murdered and the rest of the officers. They then deserted the ship, after scuttling her and locking the captain's wife into the cabin, who was thus lost with the sinking vessel. The murderers have been happily arrested, and sent to Batavia to undergo the operation of the law.

The Amazon Fund in England now amounts to above £11,000. It will be kept open for about another month, and it is most probable that it will ultimately reach £12,000. The final disposal of it will be made on 10th instant, by the united committees of Southampton and London. About 150 persons have to be assisted or supported by it; among them are 70 children and about 40 Widows. About 30 of them children will be placed in the orphan asylum. Mrs. Symons, the widow of the commander of the Amazon, has declined assistance from the fund.

The man named Castaneda, who captured Lopez, has returned to Cuba from Spain, laden with honors. The Queen gave him $6,000 and made him a captain in the rural militia, with a salary of $110 a month; 10 negroes and a track of land have been given to him. The order of Isabel decorates his person; his children are to be educated at the expense of the Government; and while in Spain he was permitted the favor of kissing the hands of the Queen and the little Princess. He can neither read nor write, and is a perfect specimen of a vulgar, rough, uneducated quack, or country pumpkin.

A certain noted physician was lately complaining that he had three fine daughters, to whom he would give ten thousand pounds each, and yet that he could find nobody to marry them. "With your leave, doctor," said an Irishman who was present, stepping up and making a very respectful bow, "I'll take two of them!"

Louis Napoleon getting into Disrepute with the Catholics.—The Catholic Herald, published at Philadelphia, one of the ablest and decorous Catholic journals published in this country, has come out with a scathing editorial on the Prince President of France, he denounces him as a usurper and a heartless tyrant. The Catholics of France and America are beginning to discover that Louis Napoleon thinks as little of trampling on the laws of the church, when they interfere with his political aspirations, as did the captor of Pope Pius VII, his uncle.
