International Ball Games Presented by Rain.

The London Gun Club's Latest Shoot—Probable of a Fight Between Sullivan and McAllister.

LONDON IS LUCK.
Rain yesterday saved the Londoners another defeat from the Hamiltons. The game was called at the end of the third inning, the visitors having scored five runs on four hits, assisted by three errors and a passed ball in their first inning. The home team failed to score. Petty occupied the box for the Hams and Demaris for the Londoners.

WEDNESDAY'S CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

—A son of Mr. Thos. Pierce, Chatham, broke his arm while playing in the park on Tuesday.

—Mr. E. B. Harrison, for many years inspector of schools for East Kent, is seriously ill at his home in Howard.

—Rev. B. B. Keefer has been recommended to the Niagara Conference to be re-elected to the office of minister, and to be allowed to engage in evangelistic work.

—The Grand Trunk Railway inaugurated a free delivery of freight to and from their freight sheds at Windsor yesterday. The Windsor Truck Company have been appointed cartage agents.

—Mrs. John Wickle, resident near Roskott, Perth county, left her home four days ago, taking her young child with her. She has not been heard from since and her husband has no idea of her whereabouts. She left three other children behind.

—On Tuesday evening Mr. White, of Fingal, was splitting wood, his son came quietly up behind him, and the axe slipped from the father's hand and struck the child on the forehead, making a severe wound. It would be necessary to put in several stitches.

—Letters of administration have been applied for in the case of Thos. Holmes, who is stated to have left Brantford ten years ago last fall, starting out in the direction of Durford, but who has not been heard of since. Mrs. Austin is the applicant, and the amount involved totals $1,300.

—Eighty county temperance workers have organized with the following officers: President, J. A. Harvey, St. Thomas; vice-president, for the east, Rev. A. T. Sowerby; vice-president for the west, Mr. Conn. Thompson; secretary, Mr. John Farley, St. Thomas; treasurer, W. Currie, St. Thomas.

—Mr. Wm. Reid, of the North Gore of Chatham, near Wallaceburg, started the other day on a visit to his old home in the neighborhood of Kingston. He is accompanied by his wife and two children. The distance is over 400 miles, and he expects to be two weeks on the road.

—Mr. Duncan McFarley, farmer, Yarmouth, died Tuesday morning from the effects of a paralytic stroke, aged 84 years. He was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, and came to this country when eleven years old, settling in Yarmouth in 1850.

—For the past 62 years he had lived on the same farm in Southwold. He leaves eight sons and daughters.

—Eighty-two years ago to-day, or on the 21st day of May, 1818, Colonel Thomas Reid landed at Port Talbot and cut the first tree in Elgin. Throughout the greater part of his life he was a resident of this place, and was celebrated as an ardent and devoted sportsman.

—Colonel Reid was one of the first of the young men to settle in the town. For many years these halls were held in this town, and the Reid family were prominent in the community.

CHIMAY WARD.

Miss Ward's Wedding—The Ceremony—The Costumes—The Guests.

PARIS, May 22.—The marriage of Prince de Caraman Chimay, the eldest son of the Belgian family of that name, with Miss Clara Ward, daughter of Mrs. Cameron, of Toronto and Windsor, which was announced yesterday, was celebrated at high noon at the Nunciature, Rue de Valenciennes, Paris, by the Papal Nuncio, giving the nuptial benediction. The reception room was crowded with a brilliant assemblage of the branches of the families from all directions, numerous Americans and Canadians being present.

The ceremony was performed in the small chapel, while in the adjoining room the choir of the Madeleine rendered the Marche Religieuse from "Lohengrin," the Panus Angelicus, by Cesar Franck, and Gounod's Hymne a St. Cecile.

The bride wore a costume of white satin, covered with point lace, with a long veil of point lace, held by a coronet of orange blossoms. She also wore a magnificent pearl and diamond necklace, and a diamond crescent and earrings, gifts from the groom's and her mother's family. The bride is only 17 years old. She is tall and blonde, with dark eyes and brown, and she looked very handsome in her gorgeous bridal robes. She has a fortune of $2,000,000 in her own right, with more in prospect. Her marriage with Prince de Caraman Chimay is quite a romantic affair.

Two months ago she left school in London and went with her mother, Mrs. Alexander Cameron, of Toronto, to Nice. There they met for the first time her present husband, and a speedy betrothal was the result. The bridegroom, who is tall and dark, and 32 years of age, is the eldest son of Prince de Chimay, Lord Lytton and Mr. Whitelaw Reid were witnesses for the bride, and Baron Beyens, Belgian Minister, and Duc de Farnese for the groom.

The way to a two-horse wedding. Mrs. Cameron, the mother of the bride, wore a costume of moss green velvet, richly embroidered with colored garlands, in Louis XVI style, made in a long passage over a petticoat of the palest brocade, with embroidered waistcoat of white satin, and a jabot of lace about the throat. The bonnet was of gold lace and feathers.

Mrs. Elzer Ward, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a costume of rose-colored silk, high puffed sleeves, the front being a mass of fine embroidery in gold, silver and pearls. On her head was a tiny bonnet made of two bands of gold, with bunches of small pink feathers in front and back.

Mrs. George Torrance, of Toronto, step-sister to the bride, was attired in a long robe of apricot yellow brocade, with satin sleeves, embroidered in silver and crystal, a Medici collar, lined with white feathers, and a bonnet trimmed with butterflies and pansies.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid wore a costume of heliotrope silk, silver embroidered sleeves, and a bonnet of the same combination.

Mrs. Hector Fabre, wife of the Commissioner of the Dominion of Canada, was dressed in silver gray brocade, an embroidered front covered with spangles, a Medici collar of embroidered velvet, lined with white feathers, and high sleeves of brocade of spangled silver.

Among the wedding presents received from the members of the two families and their friends were a diamond necklace and earrings from Prince de Chimay, and another diamond necklace and magnificent coronet from the Duke of Farnese. The Comtesse Greffulhe gave a pearl necklace and a large diamond crescent. Mrs. Elzer Ward presented a brooch. Mrs. Elzer Ward, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a costume of rose-colored silk, high puffed sleeves, the front being a mass of fine embroidery in gold, silver and pearls. On her head was a tiny bonnet made of two bands of gold, with bunches of small pink feathers in front and back.

The newly-married pair, after congratulations in the reception-room at the Nunciature, left Paris by the 4 o'clock train for the chateau de Chimay, at Chimay, a town on the frontier of France and Germany, where they will remain for the present. Later on they will occupy a hotel in Paris, upon which they have not yet decided.

Mr. Alexander Cameron, step-father of the bride, will soon return to Toronto, while Mrs. Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Elzer Ward will remain for the present in Paris, where they have taken a hotel for the season.

CONSTANTINOPLE in the course of time has become a religious and ecclesiastical center of considerable importance for Christianity. Recently it has become the seat of a Roman Catholic archbishop. The other church dignitaries residing in the city are the patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church (Dionysius V.), the Armenian Orthodox patriarch and the Bulgarian exarch. The number of Christian churches in Constantinople is 145. Of these 25 are Roman Catholics, 3 Greek Catholic, 12 Armenian Catholic, 1 Bulgarian Catholic, 50 Greek Orthodox, 39 Armenian Orthodox, 14 Protestant.

The efficacy of hot water in shaving is more fully appreciated by the people of that remarkably advanced country, Japan, than in the younger civilizations of the West. Japanese barbers shave nearly all of the exposed surface of a man's head. They shave the ears, the neck and inside of the neck, the eyebrows, and a portion of the scalp. The victim sits on a very low stool, while the barber perches on a higher stool and takes his customer's head between his knees. Then he seizes a very small razor, dips it into hot water, and begins to work. It is no light performance to shave a Japanese gentleman. No lather is used, but a sponge is kept constantly on the razor by dipping it into hot water once or twice during the operation. Men who shave themselves will find that hot water will put a better edge on their razors than any strap ever invented.

POWELL, ALLEN & BRICKENDEN

During the "Great Slaughter Sale."

These goods are now shown by us in our west window. They should be seen. We guarantee every garment perfect, and we know them to be considered the best cut Waterproof Garments shown in Canada. If the ladies would only see these goods they would not buy the kind of waterproof circulars that are usually offered for sale, or pay a large price to get made to order a so-called waterproof garment that is no more waterproof than brown paper; the cloth is only made as an excuse to offer the trade something as a novelty. We cordially invite an inspection of our waterproof circulars. The cut and make are very special. So far as we know these makers are the only manufacturers in England or Scotland that give waterproof garments this special shape and cut.

distinguished guests. It is already an extremely valuable record, and at Gladstone's death it will probably be worth $1,000. A cylinder containing a few sentences by old Gen. Von Moltke, now 90 years of age, is occasionally set going. A less valuable, but not less curious, cylinder gives the choking sobs of a German infant whose walls were caught in Berlin last December. Funny stories of Eli Perkins, songs by well-known singers, short passages from the current plays, and like things are brought out now and then. These cylinders lose nothing in clearness and volume from the lapse of years, but, of course, may be worn out from use. Mr. Edison believes that a record taken to-day and carefully preserved can be reproduced 250 years hence.

DR. WILLIAM B. CLARKE, of Indianapolis, Ind., well known as an alienist and authority on all matters relative to insanity, recently prepared a paper which he entitled "A Study of Suicide." One paragraph in the article cannot fail to be of general interest. It is this: "I feel confident that a frequent cause of suicide has been generally, if not entirely, overlooked, and so am compelled to utter a word of warning regarding it. It is the unwholesome use of quinine, especially its use unauthorized by a physician. Any one who knows the pathogenic ability of quinine, or rather its ability to cause everyday amateur remedy. Everybody seems to take it, and for any and every ailment. It is reasonable easy of proof that many insanities, suicides and murders can be traced directly to the ill-advised and inordinate use of quinine."
