DIAPER-GRIFFIN. An interesting event took place at Courtland on Wednesday, at the residence of Mrs. Sarah E. Griffin when her youngest daughter, Eliza, was united in marriage to Mr. W. A. W. Diaper, sergt.-major of the Twenty-sixth Regiment. The marriage was performed by Rev. H. A. Hastings in the presence of 25 guests. Mrs. Hast-ings, of Courtland, played the wedding march, while the young couple took their place under a beautiful bell of evergreens and chrysanthemums, Miss Ada Griffin attended her sister and Mr. Thomas Landy, of Wolseley Barracks, was best man. The bride was attired in blue lady's cloth and carried white carnations. After the ceremony a dainty wedding luncheon was served and Mr. and Mrs. Diaper left to take up their residence at Toronto. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a handsome ring set with pearls, and to the groomsman a pearl stickpin.

A PIONEER OF NISSOURI. The following reference to the late Robert Garner, a Nissouri pioneer, is from the St. Marys Journal:

Mr. Robert Garner, who died at his home in Thorndale, in his 80th year. was previous to his death, the oldest living man born in the Township of Nissouri. He was a son of the late William Garner, and was born in the year 1823, at his father's home, lot 23, in the second concession, on the north branch of the River Thames. Mr. Garner was of a cheerful disposition, and well knew the trials and hardships of pioneer life in Nissouri, and in later years was fond of relating many inidents of bygone days. Most of his ife was spent on the farm. For a number of years he has lived retired at his comfortable residence in Thorndale. For many years he acted as a county constable and later was ap-pointed a justice of the peace, both of Phones 548 and 373. 182 King St. Spointed a justice of the peace, both of which positions he filled with credit. In politics he was a Liberal, in religion a Methodist. Some 55 years ago he married a Miss Hughes, of London Township, who survives him, with two sons and three daughters—Robert, at home; William, in Michigan: Mrs. Bussell, of London; Mrs. Edward Scatcherd, of Wyton; Mrs. G. S. Mc-Quinu, of Michigan. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Baker, in t'ae Methodist Church Thorndale. There was a very large gathering of friends and relatives present. A CONTRACT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF T

LANDS FOR THE VETERANS

Arrangements Made by the Toronto Veterans' Association.

William Gibson, the financial secretary of the '68 Veterans' Association of Toronfo, has sent a circular to Mr. George Taylor, president of the London District Veterans' Association. The circular states that the veterans of 1865, 1870 and the South African war, while not eligible for membership in the association, will be given the benefit of the arrangements made to locate the land grants. The association will act for them on the same terms as the members, and for that purpose they will be considered as associate members. Another circular has just been issued by the association to all veterans, informing them of the steps about to be taken. These provide for the employment of properly-qualified men to go into the districts of Temiskaming, Nipissing, Algoma, Rainy River and Thunder Bay, where the lands are situated, and select the best lands available. To enable this to be done, the association has fixed the subscription to the association for 1903 at $5, $2 of which should accompany applications from veterans rebe given the benefit of the arrangements tion for 1903 at $5, $2 of which should accompany applications from veterans receiving certificates and desiring to join the association. Applications are to be sent to William Gibson, 121 Baldwin street, Toronto, who will register the application. As the season is now so far advanced, it is not thought much can be done this fall beyond receiving and classifying applications, but everything will be in readiness for the explorers to go into the free grant territory in the spring.

Auditorium.

The Roney's Boys Concert Company of Chicago, the second number of the Auditorium concert course, proved to be one of the most entertaining attractions which has ever appeared at the Auditorium, and this is high praise, considering the many excellent offerings which the Y. M. C. A. entertainment committee have presented in the past. Roney's Boys are a quin' tette of clever lads who have trained to a high degree of proficiency in vocal and instrumental music by Mr. Henry B. Roney, who travels with them and takes part in the entertainment. The programme consists of vocal solos and concerted numbers, and skillfully rendered selections on a varied range of instruments. Every number is an artistic treat, and the large audience present waxed enthuslastic on every appearance of the boys. A novel feature is the costuming, which is in accord with the character of the selections being rendered, and in-cludes Highland, college, military, naval and other costumes. The company will give another concert tonight at the Auditorium, presenting a complete change of programme. The citizens of London should not miss this opportunity of seeing one of the most pleasing entertainments which has ever visited London. Carroll Company's Success.

The Carroll Comedy Company continues to please the patrons of the London Opera House with its offerings of popular plays at popular prices. Last night's bill was "Our Flats," a laughable comedy, which found favor with the audience. Tonight the stirring drama, "A Klondyke Claim," will be presented. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee will be given with a special attraction for children in the shape of a cash prize of $2 50 for the child making the most words out of the letters in the manager's name "Carroll," using two "r's" and two "l's." Tonight there will be presented for the first time in Canada the original version of "Tracy the Outlaw," a play which is meeting with such success in the United States that half a dozen companies are being organized to exploit it.

"SPAN OF LIFE" TONIGHT. Eight years of success in the principal theaters of the United States, supplemented by an equal amount of favor in Great Britain, Australia, Germany and France, is the record attained by "The Span of Life." Exciting climaxes, thrilling situations, fine stage settings and competent acting are the features that have made this play popular. It will be presented at the Grand tonight by a strong company and with an entirely new equipment of scenery and effects. A feature of the production will be the Denazettas, who form themselves into a bridge 30 feet above the stage, and allow three people to pass across their interlocked bodies.

"FAUST" FOR SATURDAY. Alan Tabor's "Faust" company, which is booked at the Grand for matinee and evening performances tomorrow, is headed by one of the most remarkable Mephistos of the times, Alan Tabor, and a Marguerite in the person of Helen Hawthorne, whose rendition of the character has established her as an actress of power and

BURIAL OF A MINISTER

Without Prayer, Preacher or Palibearers-Only Relatives Attended.

Buffalo, Nov. 14.—The remains of Rev. William C. A Frenchman's Social Error.

A Frenchman on his return to Paris after a week's stay with an English commercial friend in London, sat down to inscribe a letter to thank his host for his kind hospitality. Possessing but a scant knowledge of the English language, it entailed some effort on his part to frame a suitable letter. He managed, however, to convey what he wished to say with considerable satisfaction to himself. It only needed the usual finishing sentence, and the Frenchman was wont to wind up his social letters with the French phrase, "May the Lord preserve you and your family to all eternity."

Failing for the moment to recall the English definition of the French word meaning 'preserve' he sought the aid of a dictionary. He there discovered that the word meant "pickle," so with pride he concluded his missive with

"May the Lord pickle you and your family to all eternity."

The Original Foot Remedy. When "Foot Elm" was placed on the market some years ago, inquiry at the wholesale houses in Canada elicited the information that there was not at that time a preparation being sold for the feet. AN EASY WAY To Keep Well.

It is easy to keep well if we would only observe each day a few simple low in short order. rules of health. The all important thing is to keep the stomach right and to do this it is the time for the ceremony, as to do not necessary to diet or to follow a set rule or bill of fare. Such pampering simply makes a capricious appetite and a feeling that certain favorite articles of food must be avoided. Prof. Weichold gives pretty good advice on this subject; he says: "I am 68 years old and have never had a serious illness, and at the same time my life has been largely an indoor one, have a happy married life. but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep a healthy of gold, signifying endless devotion, I always eat what my appetite craves. but daily for the past eight years I have made it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal and I attribute my robust health for a man of my age to the regular daily use of Stuart's Tablets.

"My physician first advised me to use them because he said they were perfectly harmless and were not a secret medicine, but contained only the natural digestives, peptones and diastase, and after using them a few weeks I have never ceased to thank him for his advice.

"I honestly believe the habit of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals is the real health habit, because their use brings health to the sick and ailing and preserves health to the well and strong." Men and women past 50 years of age need a safe digestive after meals to insure a perfect digestion and to ward off disease, and the safest, best known and most widely used is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are found in every well regulated household from Maine to California and in Great Britain and Australia are rapidly pushing their way into popular favor.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia

Four Men Killed and Forty Others Injured.

Boiler in Steel Works Explodes-Nine

Lebanon, Pa., Nov. 13 .- The explosion of a large boiler in scrappuddle furnace No. 3, at the west works of the American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Company's plant late this afternoon caused the death of four workmen and about forty others were more or less seriously injured.

The calamity is the worst that ever occurred in Lebanon. The boiler exploded without warning and in an instant the entire place was black with death-dealing debris. The wreck and ruin of the nine immediate puddle furnaces was complete.

The offices of the works were at once converted into a hospital and nurses from the Good Samaritan Hospital were brought to the place. Into the temporary hospital the maimed and scalded workmen were carried and given attention. Some have their eyes burned out, others their hands blown off. Many of the injured it is believed cannot live through the night.
Women and childen thronged the entrance to the works crying and begging to be allowed inside. It is feared the list of the dead will be materially increased when the ruins of the nine wrecked puddle furnaces are explored. The exploded boiler was hurled high into the air and passed over the of-fices, burying itself in the south bank of Quittapahilla Creek, several hun-dred yards away. The plant has been closed and workmen are removing the

THE DEAD. The dead are: Jacob Bricker, aged

67 years, of Sunnyside, a laborer, leaves a wife and six children; Walter Turner, of this city, a puddler, leaves a wife and one child; Jas, Hissinger, of this city, a puddler, leaves a wife and four children; Wm. Oakes, 65, puddler, leaves widow.

Among those likely to die are the following: James Nine, puddler and helper, badly hurt internally and leg broken. Aaron Potteriger, puddler, serious internal injuries. Francis Murray, seriously burned about body; Francis Simon Pottiger, injured very severely The boiler, which was of 200 horse-power, broke squarely in half, one part sailing through the machinery and woodwork of the mill. The roof collapsed and the flames from the puddle furnace under the wreck-ed boiler set fire to the debris. The fire force of the company, however, extinguished the flames in a few

THE LUCKY BRIDE.

At a recent wedding the bride wore a pair of blue silk stockings which were loaned to her by Mrs. Charles Freeman, better known as Miss Wilkins, thus complying with the condi-tions of the old superstition compelling a bride, if she wished for luck to

These particular stockings possessed a history dealing entirely with the old adage, to which brides invariably give heed, notwithstanding the severity of their frowns at childish superstitions upon other and less momentous occasions. Those hose were originally pre-sented by Miss Abby Turner to Miss Mary E Wales, with the understanding that she should wear them when married. But as the wedding of Miss Wilkins, who is a friend of Miss Wales, occurred before the owner of the stockings had a chance to wear them herself she turned them over to the bride to use upon the happy occasion. Then Miss Wilkins passed them on to this bride, who will in course of time present them to some other bride, doubly

"Something old" is frequently the wedding veil itself, which, if of good lace, to handed down as an heirloom to be worn by all the brides of a family. 'Something new" is hard to get away from, as the garments of a bride are usually of self-evident freshness. "Something borrowed" is easily complied with-a pin, ring, or hairpin answering every purpose. "Something blue is often a pair of silk garters, or Gillette and His Hen. Marshall P. Wilder was discussing summer outings late last spring with William Gillette, the actor-dramatist, who has a vein of unique satire nearly equal to that of his old friend Mark Twain. Wilder inquired where Gillette intended to spend the summer.

"At the Thousand Islands," replied the actor. "I shall seek out the smallest island of them all, and live there during the summer with no other companion than a good, industrious hen. Have you ever considered, Marshall," he went on, "unmindful of Wilder's astonishment, "what a faithful, industrious and cheerful friend is a hen? How it goes about its daily work, asking no assistance, improving each shining hour in a manner to make the busy bee hang its head for shame? Ah, yes: I shall be supremely happy on that lonely island with no other living thing near me than my good old

Wilder drew a long breath, and then asked, with much solicitude: that's all right from your standpoint, William, but what does the hen think

FACTS FOR

The great moral that can be pointed to the advertiser is that of keeping at it. The tortoise and hare story is applicable under many circumstances, but especially to the man who advertises. Keep the thing going. Even if it is impossible to do big things keep the little ones to the foreground and see that the little efforts count for as much as possible. There are many points which need careful revisioneven small points-but it is worth the attention of the man to make them as strong as they can be made and to push them as hard as they may be pushed. To persist in an unwise policy is foolish, but to be active in pushing in the right direction shows the best of business judgment.
