During the past two weeks the matter has been frequently mentioned by men on various boards. These men while not wanting to be directors themselves have mentioned many others, all experts in different lines, and men whose experience and ability would be invaluable in the building up of a great fair.

First-Class Men.

"There are a dozen first-class men cently, "who should be on the Western Fair board. These men are leaders in stock raising, poultry raising, farming and other lines. They are progressive and their presence on the board of the Western would be of the greatest value. These men are certainly loyal enough to this part of the province to do their share in building up a big fair and the whole district would benefit."
