He became at length so uneasy that he determined to risk all consequences and try to gain admission. So one day he gave a somewhat timuk knock at the otor in response to which a coarse voice roared out, 'Who's there?' and at the same time a vicious looking woman opened the door and ordered the man of God away. 'Let him come in, and see who he is and what he wants,' growled out the same voice. The missionary walked in, and bowing politely to the rough looking man whom he had just heard speak, said: 'I have been visiting most of the houses in this neighborhood to read with and talk to the people about good things. I have passed your door as long as I feel I ought, for I wish to talk with you and your lodgers.'
