ALBANY'S OLD HOME WEEK

Large Numbers Present at Pleasant and Inspiring Exercises Presentation to Miss Rachel Saunders Oldest Native

Celebrations in connection with "Old Home Week" commenced at Albany on Saturday afternoon and were well attended by all the residents of the place, whose numbers were added to by visitors from surrounding districts and by former Albany residents now living in the States. A number of the latter were present from California, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and other States of the Union. The exercises were all of a pleasing and inspiring character and the only shadow of gloom to mar the occasion was caused by the death of Mr. Elvin Oakes who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks. Many messages of sympathy were received including a number from Melvern Square, where he taught last year.

On Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. M. W. Brown, D. D. of Port George, delivered a stirring address and the pastor, Rev. A. H. Whitman, gave a most interesting address on "The Hymns of the Church." Appreciated readings were given by Mrs. A. H. Whitman and by Miss Stella Whitman.

At ten a. m. on Sunday there was a special Sunday School Service under direction of Mr. F. T. Whitman, Superintendent and Mr. Frank S. Whitman, of Bridgeport, Conn., formerly of Albany gave an address on Young Peoples Work. A paper was read by Deacon Phineas Whitman, one of the oldest living residents of Albany and now in his 88th year. This covered "The Religious History of Albany" and was of great interest particularly to the older residents.

The pastor preached at the morning service. At his service a presentation was made by friends of a handsome bouquet of asters to Mrs. Rachel Saunders, the oldest living native of Albany, who on that day celebrated her 99th birthday. A suitable address accompanied the presentation also a poem composed by Miss Ardis Whitman, of Margareville.

A duet "Twilight Hours" was finely rendered by Miss Stella Whitman and Mrs. A. H. Whitman. Miss Frances Whitman accompanied on the violin.

A unique feature was an Old Folks choir. The old people to the number of about twenty sang old selected favorite hymns.

Rev. Dr. Brown was the special speaker. He took his subject from the story of Christ and the Woman of Samaria. He divided his address into the following heads:

- Need of a Vision of Christ: Vision of Oneself; Vision of Others.

In the evening there was a unique and lively song service followed by a masterly missionary address by Dr. W. R. Morse, formerly of Lawrenceton, but now a medical missionary in China. He spoke of the needs of the medical college at Chen-fu, which is under the auspices of the American Baptist Board and gave many interesting sidelights on Chinese Philanthropy.

Rev. M. W. Brown and Rev. L. F. Wallace assisted at the service. Mrs. L. F. Wallace sang feelingly "Hold Thou My Hand."

The soul is dyed by its thoughts.—Sir John Lubbock.

SCHOOL OPENS TUES. SEPT. 2nd

A meeting of the School Board was held on Monday afternoon and a number of bills O. K'd were passed including:

- D. W. England and John Carter for oil$12.00
- James Toad cleaning school room40.00
- George Dukeshire repairs to plaster2.00

Commissioners H. B. Hicks and C. B. Longmire were appointed a committee to see that the matter of janitors work is carried out in the best possible manner by 'accumbent. It was decided to call for tenders for supplies of fuel for the schools. The Board also decided to take the usual extension and schools will open on Tuesday Sept. 2nd.

LOCAL TENNIS PLAYERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN HALIFAX

Bridgetown Tennis players who took part in the Provincial Tennis Tournament at Halifax made on the whole an excellent showing.
