

RETROSPECTION AND ANTICIPATION.

CHAPTER VI.

ISAIAH was once permitted to have a little glimpse of the glories of heaven and in his graphic description of the ministering spirits about the Throne, said : " Each one had six wings, with twain he covered his face, with twain he covered his feet and with twain he did fly."

In looking back over these seven years of service for the Master with its failures and discouragements, its lost opportunities, its disappointments one feels like hiding the face like the seraphim from the praise and congratulations of man and veiling the feet of all past services with the wings of higher aspiration and flying away to "regions beyond" to higher and harder things for God.

"They turned not as they went ; they went every one straight forward."

"Forward." Shall it be so?

This is a matter that each individual reader has a share in deciding. There are fields white to the harvest yet unoccupied for want of men and means. There are lost ones waiting and longing for deliverance from the power of sin. What has been accomplished is as nothing
