

foreign struggles, in the latter, will be read this moment with a peculiar interest on this side the Atlantic. The elaborate article on Vegetable Epidemics should be carefully studied by farmers and gardeners in particular. Blackwood for May, has as usual, several articles of great merit. Now is a convenient time to commence subscribing to these British periodicals, as new volumes commence this month. All four Reviews with Blackwood's monthly magazine can be had at the extraordinary low sum of $10 per annum; or each copy, for $3. They can be ordered of Bookellers, or from the American publishers, Edward Scott & Co., Walker Street, New York.
