

Great Reduction in Books.

The Subscribers, in view of the present state of American exchange, have resolved on making a very large reduction from the prices of Books published in the United States.

They would take the opportunity of calling attention to the great variety and extent of their stock. It contains the Standard Works in miscellaneous literature, and all the School and College Text Books in use. The present is a good chance for selecting from a stock which they think is unequalled in Canada for variety and extent, which has been carefully imported with a view to retail sales, and which embraces all the latest issues of the American press.

They still continue to execute orders, and to receive all the new American Books; and during the present state of affairs they will sell such Books at the same large reduction as Books in stock.
